The evangelical tent meeting still continues, with good attendance.

The Sunday evening union service will be held in the Christian church.

John Beal, who is with the Henderson baler which is doing work in the North Plains reports that the crops in that section of the county are excellent. The wheat and oat crops, which in other parts are not so heavy as in previous years, is just as heavy as usual in the North Plains and will go 40 bushels to the acre. The potatoes and corn are also fine and large crops are expected.

W. H. Stratton has one of the finest orchards in the county and has shipped out over $3000 worth of cherries from the county this year. He is a strong advocate of a local cannery for the shipping loss, freight rates and the loss by perishable fruits, consumes half of the profit. Mr. Stratton ships apples besides cherries and all kinds of fruits and has the Col. Haynes place leased for five years. He says that where he got three hundred boxes last year off his orchard he will only get fifty this year.

Old grandpa, George Graham, celebrated his ninety-fourth birthday last Thursday. He is hale and hearty yet and his only drawback is his eyes which went back on him last Spring. Up to that time he read the daily papers and was always posted on national affairs. He has always taken an interest in the city and has lived here for the past fifteen years. Before coming here he lived on his claim in the mountains south of Cornelius. He was born in the state of New Jersey and spent some time in New York as a cabinet maker. He is bright and able to carry on a good conversation and no doubt has a lease on life for many years to come.

Mrs. M. Bisbee and Mrs. Florence Ranes spent last Tuesday with their friend, Mrs. Wheeler of Forest Grove who expects to leave for California, soon.

Mr. Williams left Saturday for Hingham, Wash., to spend a week with his younger son, who is employed as an engineer in an electric light plant at that place.

Mrs. Allan Rice and Mrs. Ruel Bisbee, who have been quite sick, are improving at the present writing. Allan Dilley is not improving as well as thought for since his accident.

Not many of the friends of Uncle Donald McKenzie of Cornelius would take him to be over sixty years of age at the most to see him hop, step and the jump around and dance the Highland fling. Yet he is a score and six years more than that and a few days over for only last Thursday he celebrated his eighty-sixth birthday. He lived, wood for several hours just for the sake of amusement on that day and says that he can put up a cord of oak wood any day in the week. Uncle is Scotch and proud of it. He was born in the province of Quebec and the neighbors did not know whether he was big enough to save or not for he was only a little package of human flesh weighing a pound and a half. But one of the good men of the neighborhood suggested that it would be a good idea to save him and that he would always act independent of others. Always Uncle says he was born with a valise over his face. He has lived in several states and says that Iowa is his choice of the whole lot. But the blustery weather and cyclones of that state are too much for him. "Corps is it, king," says the old man with a young look "and I love to raise it." He claims himself thrice blest as he has been wedded that many times. McKenzie is planning on going to the Alberta country next Spring. He has a farm up there and intends to buy couple of oxen and go to breaking up the ground.

It was announced in The News last week that Prof. Chapman would only be at the college three days out of the week but he has since notified us that he will be here every day but one during the school week, and will therefore teach four out of the five days.

Rollo Peterson and Frank Fletcher will start for Newport next Monday.
