MANY GOING TO BIG CIRCUS

Will Be Well Represented at Exhibition in Portland.

The people of this vicinity will have but one opportunity of seeing Ringling Brothers World's Greatest Shows this year, the exhibition at Portland, August 26 and 27, being the only one to be presented near here. It is an opportunity that all lovers of good amusement should avail themselves of, as the Ringling Brothers have organized a circus so excellent, so large and so full of novelty that it is above comparison with any other show.

Foreign agents stationed in Europe and Asia were instructed last winter to engage every act of prominence regardless of cost, and the result is a performance absolutely monopolizing all the world's best talent. What these agents left for other shows to engage was not considered good enough for the Ringling Brothers to bother with. There are over 300 performers with the circus and 100 big acts, not one of which any other show could afford to pay for. The Riccobono horses which wear trousers, coats and boots, and stand and walk on their hind feet all the time they are in the ring, are the greatest trained animal acts the world has ever seen.

Other attractions are Alexander Patty, the only man on earth who can walk on his head as others walk on their feet; De Kock's wonderful dog that walks around the ring on its hind feet, balancing a man on its head; the wonderful five Bedinis, from Italy, who jump simultaneously to the back of a single horse; the great Kaufmans, who ride unicycles on a high wire with the handle bars removed; the Holloways of London; the Marnello-Marnites, acrobatic bell ringers; Daisy Hodgini, the celebrated Italian rider and only woman who can turn a somersault while on horseback, and the Mirze Golem troupe, loaned to the Ringling Brothers by the Shah of Persia.

If the space were to spare 100 more acts, better than ever before seen in this country, could be mentioned. Suffice it to say that Ringling Brothers have an organization so wonderful as to stand on a plane by itself high above any other kind of amusement. And there will be but one opportunity for the people of this vicinity to see it.

PUSH OREGON TO THE FRONT

AN EASY WAY TO ADVERTISE THE STATE

And Tell Our Eastern Friends All About the Superior Opportunities We Possess.

On April 29th last the Oregonian published a special industrial edition devoted exclusively to the exploitation of Oregon. It probably contained more special and miscellaneous information about Oregon than any one publication that has ever been issued. It is peculiarly valuable to the home-seeker, because it gives the latest and most reliable information about so many different subjects that the home-seeker is naturally interested in. Almost every department of industry is specialized, and both descriptive and statistical information of a highly valuable character is given exclusively and in entertaining form.

Residents of Oregon who know its advantages as compared with the congested and depleted East, and who still have friends back there whom they would like to see here enjoying the good things of this favored state, can aid in a splendid work now without cost and very little effort. If you think your friend would be interested in knowing more about Oregon and might eventually become a valuable citizen, send his name and address to the general passenger agent of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company or the Southern Pacific at Portland, and a copy of this special edition, with a complete summary of the several subjects treated, carefully indexed, will be mailed to him promptly. In this manner you may do the means of not only doing your friend a good turn, but of helping to stimulate the growth and prosperity of Oregon.

Don't forget that commencing September 1st and continuing daily for two months, tickets will be on sale at almost every railroad station in the East to all points in Oregon and the Northwest at what has come to be popularly known as "colonist rates." These rates are the cheapest general long distance rates ever established, and enable one to reach Oregon from any part of the United States at but a trifle more than one cent a mile. They are the greatest incentive to colonization and progressive home building of any known agency, and if the restless, dissatisfied resident of the East is made to know beforehand the advantages he can enjoy here, the problem is solved, and the star of empire will continue to move steadily westward.

Now is the time to spread the gospel of Oregon, so that it may be heard and heeded by the time the rates go into effect. Send one name or two, or a dozen, and you will be exerting a worthy influence toward the upbuilding of our state. Send them to your nearest Southern Pacific agent or to Wm. McMurray, General Passenger Agent, Portland, Oregon.

Dairymen's Corner

Under this heading we invite correspondence from the dairymen, many of whom have bright ideas and good suggestions that would be helpful to others if they knew them. Confine your correspondence strictly to dairying, telling of your herd, your stables, feed, or whatever subject you choose. Letters for this column should be in hand Monday morning early to insure publication that week.

The dairy was an indispensable adjunct to the Manor house of the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries, and was under the management of a deya or dairy woman. The farm accounts of those days show that the cheese and butter, though an important source of income, was the cheapest part of agricultural produce, as measured by modern experience. The furniture of the dairy was then composed of milk pan, pail, churn, cheese press, cheese shape, butter mold and straining cloth. Rennet was sometimes purchased, though generally produced on the farm. Cheeses in those days seem to have been small, the largest not weighing more than from six to eight pounds. Butter, besides being pressed into jars and tubs, was made into pats. There was then no cream separator or other of the modern appliances that have revolutionized this department of the farm.

Effect of Milking Machines.

So far as I know the milking machine has no injurious effect upon the udder of the cow. Our milking machine has been in use practically a year and there have been no injured udders as a result, says Colon C. Lillie, assistant dairy commissioner of Michigan in Michigan Farmer. I have talked with a number of people who have used the milking machine for a longer period than this and I find the same to be true in every instance. The pulsators on the milking machine which break up the continuous suction from the partial vacuum, produce just about the same effect upon the udder, in fact, the same sensation that a calf would in sucking, and this has no injurious effect upon the udder. Some cows do exceedingly well upon the milking machine, while others do not. It is, however, only a small proportion of cows that do not take kindly to the milking machine. This small per cent will not give down their milk readily and one is compelled to milk them by hand. They seem to be notional about this. They make no resistance. They do not seem in any way to be injured by it. They stand perfectly still and chew their cud and are perfectly contented, but they refuse to give down their milk. One of our cows, one of the best ones, would give just about half of her mess with the milking machine. If you attempt to strip her at once you could get no milk at all, but in ten or fifteen minutes you could get as much milk as she gave. The results of this would be, of course, to soon dry off the cow and we had to stop milking her with the machine and milk her by hand. The great majority of cows, however, are not affected in this way.

You Can't Afford to Miss It.

Nobody who can possibly arrange to go can afford to miss the coming National Irrigation celebration in Sacramento, beginning September 2nd. It will be the grandest occasion of the kind that has ever taken place in this country. A splendid program of public and private entertainments for visitors has been completed. This includes many novel features. Some of them are unique and can be enjoyed nowhere but in California. Among these is a series of delightful harvest excursions to the great vineyards and orchards of the Golden State. The vast agricultural industries of the great valley of the State, within which Sacramento is situated, will be seen at their best; the mining camps in the mountains, the big tree forests and the finest scenery in the world, among the high Sierras, will be visited. Never again, perhaps, can strangers from a distance see so much of California with such advantages of cheap railway fares and under conditions so attractive.
