Official Paper of City of Forest Grove

N. E. NOURSE, MANAGER
F. WOODS, EDITOR

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1907

Notice.

Beginning October 1, 1907, the subscription price of The Washington County News will be $1.50 per year. This rise is due to the fact that the cost of everything that goes into the making and publishing of a newspaper has so far advanced that the rise is absolutely necessary. Print paper has advanced to a point from time to time until now it is 10 cents per pound whereas it used to be purchased for 2 cents. This means other rises cannot be met without materially lowering the standard of The News which we regard as one of the best country papers published in this state goes without saying and we feel confident that our patrons will gladly abide by the increase in price which is imperative. From now until the above date The News can be had at $1 per year and we trust that all will take advantage of the hour and secure it another year at the old price.

If publishing all the news all the time while the Times trails in yellow journalism, then the News is yellow, and keeps getting yellower every week.

Pacific University will open next Wednesday with the largest enrollment in the history of the institution. It opens also with the best faculty in its history.

Secretary Taft made a grand speech in the Armory at Portland Friday evening and many of the vast audience predict that he will be our next president. We wonder if he will.

Senator Dewey says that Secretary Taft is in the race too early. The senator must remember that it takes a long time to go around the world and that he expects to win in the home stretch.

Labor is as scarce here as the proverbial hen's teeth. Numerous jobs of carpenter work are competing the convenience of work. This same condition is apparent all over the state and in most all other vocations. If you have a friend or relative in Texas for best, write him about it; in William aim to come here and low was royal. We need him.

The side street reprint, the Times, which advertises that our citizens lack public spiritedness and that the merchants don't know how to write a "decent ad." is now trying to hoodwink the public on the difference between legal advertising and regular advertising. Its comparison of the street ordinance and an ad. for a piano house is laughable in the extreme. The Times knows the difference but it don't want the public to know. Had The News printed the ordinance, which seems yet to be sour on the Times' stomach, in the same size type it would have cost the city two thirds more than it did. There is surely something serious the matter with the Times' editor, and if something is not done soon, well—! For a remedy let us turn to page 2 of the Times. Here is an ad. for the "best liniment on earth." That will do for one spot, and it's for sale at Hines' Drug Store. In the next column there is a cough remedy. That will help some for it might aid him to "cough up" an idea for the merchants who "don't know how to advertise." In the next item there appears "Pinesalve Carbolyzed, which acts like a poultice." That will help a little more for it might draw more "strangers" here whom we might induce to "invest." The next ad. will do a little towards edification, for it's an ad. for the Thrice-a-Week World. Turning to page 3 of that paper we find a remedy for "weak kidneys" but we guess he's all right there. The next ad. we find is for "Winter Cough," that won't do for it isn't winter yet. Hines sells that too. "Push Oregon to the Front." That's good but it don't go far enough. The next item "comes put up in collapsible tubes with a nozzle." That's the thing and will probably reach the spot for it is "easy to apply to the soreness and inflammation." Miller, he sells that. Next we have "Diarrhea Cured by One Dose." But we don't believe one dose will do. Next we have "kidney diseases" sold by Miller. "30 days' treatment, $1.00. Your money refunded if not satisfied." That's fair. "Soothes itching skin" is the next item. That can be applied to the editorial chair, where he sits while The News gets all the choice items, which makes him sore in other parts of his anatomy. On page 6 we find a remedy for "Lame Back" which can be used to good advantage. Next is "Dyspepsia Tablets." They ought to help eliminate the sour stomach. Next we find

"Gen. Robt. E. Lee," who used "Ballard's Snow Liniment." We can't use that for Lee is dead. The next item won't do either, for it's for "Mothers with Croupy children." "Had Tetter for Thirty Years." That's a long time, and we don't believe we can help him. "Case of lazy liver." That can be applied with possibly good results. "Trial bottles free." "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," but he wouldn't take that in any event. These and other patent medicine ads. dominate the worthy sheet across the way and its worthy editor ought to find a "cure" for his pessimism among the lot, for the publication of which he receives the muncificent sum of from 2 to 4 cents per inch. Consistency, thou art a jewel, sure enough!

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The greatness of Cortleyeu is a hard question to discuss, because it really doesn't exist.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Mr. Bonaparte refers to himself as the very unworthy head of the department of justice. Others have spoken of him in a similar strain.—Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

If Bill Quantrell is really alive on Vancouver island he must be somewhat inconvenienced by the fact that his shin bones and a lock of his hair are in the Kansas State Historical museum.—Chicago News

Now that Hon. Jeffries Davis is lambasting the trusts on the Chautauqua circuit, the senate begins to know what is coming to it by and by.—Atlanta Journal.

Senator Bounce of Idaho, is trying to force President Roosevelt to accept a third term. Some few people have an idea that the next term doesn't belong to Bounce.—Baltimore Sun.

Rockefeller's apologists do him no good by printing the list of his gifts to churches and charities. The bigger the sum the sharper the query: "Where did he get it?"—Philadelphia North American.

For a man who pleaded defective eyesight to get out of the navy, Captain Hobson manages to see more troubles ahead than the average statesman who can read the fine print without glasses.—Washington Post.

The weather is so hot at Muskogee that popcorn is popping on the ear. The Phoenix challenges all who doubt the story to view a sample of this phenomena at the Phoenix office.—Kansas City Journal.

The boom for Harmon as democratic candidate for the presidency is probably simply because the name sounds more like harmony than any other thing that has been discovered. Of course there's no harm in that.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

HOWE'S OBSERVATIONS.

After a man marries, he makes the startling discovery that his wife also "loves" a cat.

The longer we live, the more we admire agreeable people, and the less we think of a grouch.

"Don't go to any trouble," people say, when they accept an invitation to dine; but they expect you to.

When a man climbs into a barber's chair, and looks at himself in the glass, he thinks he's pretty sweet.

The first year a boy is away from home he never fails to speak, in his letters, of the evenings he has spent in his room studying.

Every town woman thinks with scorn that if she were a farmer's wife, she would like to see the man who could make her do the milking.

Nothing makes a man quite so mad as to be put to sleep in a bed that has to have a lot of fancy coverings removed before it is ready to sleep in.

It is about as hard for a widow to reconcile No. 1's kin to her second marriage as it is for a widower to convince his children they need a new mother.

If the average man has any knowledge of statistics, it is more likely to concern the percentage of the baseball league than the total acreage of winter wheat.

Harvesting is properly regarded as hard work, but every old man will tell you it is child's play compared with when he was young and the reaping was done with "cradles."

A New York department store is going to handle real estate. The next move of this commercial enterprise will probably be to establish a cemetery in the bargain basement.
