BUXTON

The Grangers held an all day meeting Saturday.

Lewis Carstens and wife have moved to Greenville.

Jack Killin and Elmer Lyda were in town Saturday.

Frank Bellinger took a trip to Portland this week.

Lulu Mills made a flying trip to Hillsboro Monday.

Born—to the wife of Ike Bledsoe, Sunday, Oct. 20, a girl.

Abby Wilkes of Portland, was a Buxton visitor Saturday.

Wm. Tolke went to Portland with a load of farm produce last week.

Mrs. Geo. Laemmerman went down on the train to Centerville Thursday.

Services were held in the Catholic church Sunday. A lecture was given in the afternoon.

The Donald Lumber Co. has been repairing the road between the mill and Crawford's siding. A bridge has been raised eight feet.

The telephone service is much improved since a central has been put in at Buxton. Misses May and Grace Peterson are acting as "hello" girls.

Herman Tolke, son of Wm. Tolke, fell and broke his arm at school Thursday. He was taken immediately to Banks by Chaney Benefiel to have Dr. Burger set it.

Mina Tolke, Christian Tolke, Mary Fisher and Anson Stowell were awarded $1.00 each as prizes given by the Grange in the Flower and Vegetable contest.

GALES CREEK

Mrs. Joe Lilly is still quite sick. Fred Lilly was on Gales Creek a couple of days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Olson are the proud possessors of another son.

Jas. Loving and Henry Shorb are painting Mat Hines' house this week.

H. G. Parsons brought a load of fresh salmon from Tillamook last week.

Stella Smith, whose mother, Mrs. Chas. Adkins, resides at this place, is going to school in Forest Grove.

The prune growers have been busy during the last week, hauling their prunes to market. Some have received 5 1/2 cents per pound.

H. W. Sparks will give a charcoal sketch recital at Gales City, Saturday, Oct. 26, at 8 p. m. Over Sargeant's store. See bills there.

The Chapmans were visiting with Mr. Pierces family Sunday and on returning home took with them their last load of goods from their place on the hill.

D. S. Pierce had what might have been a serious accident last week. While coming down the mountain road from his place to Gales Creek with 1 1/2 cords of wood on his wagon the brake gave way. He managed to head the horses toward the bank just as he was thrown from the wagon. No serious damage was done.

Last week while J. J. Adkins was sowing grain, he unhooked his horses and left them standing. His little two year old son took the lines and started the team. In the child's effort to stop them he held onto the lines and was drawn partly across the field. The horses continued to run until they got tangled up with a stump which stopped them.

WATT DISTRICT.

R. Holscher made a flying trip to Portland one day last week.

Hod Parsons of Gales Creek, was through here selling fresh salmon Saturday.

Mrs. R. M. Bisbee accompanied her sister and nephew to their home in Portland Sunday.

Mrs. J. D. Hibbs and daughter, Mamie, were visiting relatives in Forest Grove Tuesday.

Mr. E. J. Ward has a fine field of pumpkins which are not very safe because of the nearness of Halloween.

Word has reached here that Miss Amy Thomas and Will Wahl formerly of Gaston were married in Idaho a short time ago.

Mrs. Johannah Henry left Monday for an extended visit in Minnesota. She was accompanied by her son Edward as far as Portland.

The farm of Mrs. N. J. Walker, of Forest Grove is without a tenant, but it will not remain vacant long as there is a demand for such property.

Arrangements have been made for a change of management to take place in the Gaston hotel the first of November. The place which has been conducted by Mrs. M. E. Ralston, will be taken charge of by Mr. Gray, recently of Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Charles Noble, the lad that made such a big strike at Goldfield last year, arrived here last week from the mines of Nevada for a visit with his father, Mark Noble. He will probably stay all winter in this city and Portland. He says that things are a little quiet in Goldfield now owing to the conditions in New York but they will soon assume brisk proportions again. Wood sells for from $30 to $40 a cord and coal for $25 a ton. Board ranges all the way from $30 to $75 per month. Goldfield is a town of about 20,000.

The Oregon State Dairy Association will hold its annual session in Portland Thursday and Friday, December 12 and 13, instead of the 19 and 20. This change assures some of the ablest speakers in the United States.

—J. P. Vanderzanden, the City Restaurant man. 13-4.

THOMAS & HOGE
Real Estate,
Phone 294, Forest Grove, Oregon

Last week Harve Baldwin scooted around the town to beat the band in his auto, Grant Hughes having put into the proper kind of condition after Harve had had it all summer. But the new chauffeur got altogether too zealous as to the speed and spirted around a corner with a high gear with the result of stripping the sprocket. Jimmy Stevens was laid up with the lumbago part of last week.

Bedford Laughlin, our mayor and by the way an official of much weight got a letter the other day that contained a check for quite a sum of money in it. The mayor says that he does not like to write letters very well but he does love to receive them—especially when there is a money slip attached. The sensation must be pleasant.

$4,275,135 is the amount the fruit growers of Oregon will receive for their crop for the present year, as estimated by Hon. W. K. Newell, president of the state board of horticulture. In making his estimate Mr. Newell does not deal with fancy prices, nor does he include the fruit that will be consumed on the farm.
