—Don't you think a nice Wool Blanket would feel good these cool nights? Bailey's.

Hon. B. F. Purdy of Gaston was transacting business in this city the fore part of the week.

—Cotton Blankets 10-4, 11-4, 12-4, prices 85c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00, at Bailey's.

Mont Stewart, a former resident of this city but now of Monmouth, was visiting here last week.

A new gas lighting plant has been installed in the new Paterson building for the use of its patrons.

Owing to the poison oak on his hands Loren Watkins has had to give up his work in the barber shop temporarily.

Archie Bryant and L. L. Hollinger have strung a sign across Main street, emblematic of their respective businesses.

Frank Watrous returned the first of the week from the Sound country where he did a big business with his post cards.

Mrs. D. D. Martin returned Tuesday from Seattle, where she had been visiting her daughter Mrs. Cole, for the past nine weeks.

Web Hughes conducted a very successful sale for John Miller, on the old Stott place, Tuesday. Both seller and buyers were satisfied.

Thomas Adams, formerly of the firm of Woods & Adams of this city but now president of a Vancouver bank, was in the Grove last week.

Robert Hartrampf of Hillsboro, has purchased a lot on Main street in that city, and will soon begin the erection of a 50x100 feed store building.

Mr. and Mrs. Krieger and Herschel came in from the logging camp on Pumpkin Ridge Saturday evening and Mrs. K. remained at home but the others went back.

Miss Rhoda and Lizzie Myers of Portland, who have just returned from a year's visit at Butte Montana, spent a few days with their sister Mrs. Frank Johnson last week.

F. Wesley Orr will give "If I were King" at the Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Friday evening. His rendition of this drama last year at Pacific was brilliant.

John Beal, who moved here this Fall from Cornelius, was presented with as fine a box of apples as Roosevelt might want, the first of the week by his brother of Gales Spur.

Rollie Watson, the former editor of the Tillamook Herald but now in the real estate business in the "cheese-making" city was in the Grove last week rounding up some land buyers.

Hillsboro will send quite a delegation to the horse show in Portland Friday and Saturday. Bert Tongue will enter a couple of horses. Steeds will be entered from all over the whole Coast.

The headquarters of the Pacific Metal Worker, whose manager is Harry F. Davis, has been transferred from Portland to San Francisco. Frank Peters will be the northwest representative.

Judge D. J. Haynes, Patriotic Instructor for the Department of Oregon Grand Army of the Republic, will deliver a lecture to the Public school children at Vert's Hall on Saturday November 16, '07. The closing address will be made by Rev. H. P. Blake of the M. E. church at Woodstock. t 2

The local editor is in receipt of a letter from Lair Gregory from San Francisco. He has offers from different dailies in the Earthquake city, but will look over the situation before making a choice.

Harry Clinton Sawyer, who is quite well known here having visited at the Darling home a few years ago, was one of the many attractions at Pantage's theatre in Portland last week as an impersonator and singer.

Miss Pennfield has on display some fine prints from great artists among which are: Fuch's Madona, Haul's Madona, Raphael's Sistine, Magnussen's Moonlight on the Pacific and Dicksee's Nearing Home.

Cleo Milne, who now lives with his parents in Portland, has been made freight baggage man for the O. R. & N. and his run will be between Portland and Huntington. The position carries with it a good salary.

The Ladies' Working Society of the Methodist Church, spent a delightful afternoon Wednesday, in the country with Mrs. Little. After the business of the day was over a bountiful and delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

R. V. Hoyt, the new furniture man, is busy this week unpacking his stock of furniture. He has ordered a large stock and when everything is in readiness he will be able to show you an up to date line. Notice his ad in this issue of The News.

Rev. Arthur J. Folsom, the Congregational Superintendent of Home Missions for Oregon, will speak in the Congregational church next Sunday morning. In the evening there will be a lecture on "John Wesley and the Lessons of His Life."

Our Dr. C. L. Large not only has the distinction of having his name in the mouths of all up-to-date and anti-almanac theatrical joke artists, but he is unique in holding a piece of property 25x100 that is sandwiched in by the golf-links of Cambridge near Portland. The club owns property all around "Doc's" lot, but they will have to act just right with Charles L. financially speaking, if they get the lot.

The dance at Verts Hall Halloween evening was one big success from beginning to end. There were about thirty five couples present all of whom report a very enjoyable time. The decorations were entirely in keeping with the occasion. Chinese and jack-o-lanterns were suspended from the ceiling and ferns festooned diagonally across the hall. Jack-o-lanterns along the stage peeped through clusters of ferns and the patrons of all saints day hopped till a late hour.

Myron Beard, the notorious wife beater that began his career in this county, is now in jail in Portland as the result of giving his wife an unmerciful flogging. Judge Cameron lives in the same neighborhood as Beard and he was notified that Beard was killing his wife. Cameron hurried to the spot and Beard was sent to jail. Beard had beaten his wife up so badly that she is not able to appear in court and the case has been postponed till Nov. 15. He should be given the same treatment that he has been giving his wife and Judge Cameron will most likely give it to him.

Fred Everson who formerly attended college here, but is now practicing law in Portland, seems to have the extraordinary gift of winning romantic faces—for his friends. When he was coming up on the boat from Stanford University he met a young fellow that had been attending Berkeley and was enroute to Portland. After arriving at the Rose City they became room mates and Fred took his chum over across the beautiful Willamette to see some girl friends of his. One of the maidens and Everson's friend seemed to have a special affinity for one another and it was not long before Cupid assisted in the case, and the day was won. Again the ex-student of Pacific University showed himself a good friend of Cupid Rose, the licentiate man of Portland, when he ferried an alumnus of Pacific, a graduate of Harvard, and a lawyer of Portland across the Willamette. The graduate of Harvard, like the Roman of old, came, saw and conquered. And now there is but one girl left in the family and if the little story should end as they generally do in story books, who will be the one to win her?

The Title Guarantee and Trust Company's Bank of Portland went to the wall yesterday and was placed in the hands of receiver, George H. Hill, vice president of the bank. Heavy investments on which officials could not realize quickly, and steady drain on deposits were the cause of suspension. Several people of this city are small depositors in the defunct bank having saved money by small dribbles in the "toy" banks that were distributed by the money institution's agents here last summer and then turned their savings into the Portland bank.

T. H. Littlehales has opened up a real estate office in the new Forest Grove National Bank building.

may have some effect upon the banks, but when you put your money into real estate in Washington County you are sure to get value received for your investment, and big interest besides. The Oregon Land Company has a few good bargains that will pay big dividends. Edward Seymour, Manager, Forest Grove, Oregon.

Notice.

During the winter months, we shall close our store at 6 o'clock; when we close at 6:30 it makes it late, both for us and our clerks to get home to supper and trust the public will appreciate this fact. Yours truly, Goff Bros. 1812

It Wasn't Funny.
