As the Christmas time approaches the merchant naturally looks for a big trade, and he is also looking for a medium through which to get that trade. The News has to offer, as is well known, the best medium in this section. It is read by the largest number of people and it is read because its columns teem with all the news all the time. The News stands ready to prove these assertions; its subscription books are open for inspection to anyone seeking advertising in its columns, and we respectfully invite any merchant to satisfy himself of these facts. We are willing to make affidavit, show our postoffice weights or have you count the papers. We believe everyone has the right to know what he buys. We've got the circulation, that's why we are willing.

The failure of the Title Guarantee & Trust Company of Portland, last week, should be a lesson to the man of small deposits. By this exposure it shows what his money has been used for and how trustworthy this wildcat concern really was. The country is prosperous and this company was taking advantage of the depositors and using their money with which to make themselves rich. The only redeeming feature left, is the assistance offered the depositors by W. M. Ladd, whom until a few months ago was a director of the concern.

The ordinance covering the replacing of plank walks as they rot away, with cement, in the business section is a good one, but by the time the entire block on Main street is completed—judging from what already has been done—the curbing will have about the alignment of a Kentucky rail fence.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

King Edward has been passing much of his time at Balmoral playing croquet. There is the strenuous life for you.—Chicago News.

It is reported that 20,000 pounds of punes have been ordered for victualing the Pacific fleet. That ought to make the men feel like fighting.—Washington Post.

In the humble opinion of Raisuli, who is just getting $150,000 for Caid, MacLean, whom he recently bagged, bear hunting in Louisiana is child's play.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Do these people who are attacking Senator Hopkins for being friendly to Reed Smoot forget that he has a letter from President Roosevelt approving his course?—Century Magazine.

A fire barrier is being built around the Wall street district in New York. This, however, will not prevent people from burning their just the same as ever.—Philadelphia North American. Calling it the world's baseball championship seems somewhat gratuitous, seeing that no other part of the world has the slightest disposition to contest it.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

It is hoped that the divorce suit against Senator Platt will not divert his mind from his official duties, or the Senate may do something the express companies do not like.—Philadelphia Ledger.

It may be true that Senator Tillman is a poet, as a writer alleges, but his pitchfork speeches in the senate and his nigger-killing harangues on the lecture platform don't sound like poetry.—Kansas City Journal.

It is too bad that Major General Shafter was not spared to take part in the present cross-country military jaunts for officers who usually do their riding practice in a rocking chair or a hammock.—New York Tribune.

It is now said that President Roosevelt is going to make all the fat admirals climb up a mast to prove their efficiency in seamanship. This ought to bring a big revenue to the government at 25 cents a ticket.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES.

RITA MACRUM, Editor. NELLIE JOHNSON, Asst. Editor.
Mrs. Luce visited the Fourth and Fifth grades Monday.

Marinda Van Doren from Mrs. Luce's room, has been absent on account of sickness.

Mr. Walker gave an interesting talk on China to the pupils of the upper grades last Friday.

Vivian Norton, who has been absent from school on account of a broken arm is back again.

The new pupils who have entered school are: Roy Devlin, Tenth grade; Pearl Ingles, Eighth grade; Elma Watkins, Sixth grade; Ruby Ingles, Fifth grade; Willie Ingles, Fourth grade.

Mr. La Ford, the instructor of manual training at the Mt. Tabor school and the Portland East Side school, will organize classes in our school next Saturday. For the present it is not possible to secure an instructor during the school days of the week. The program will be as follows: Nine to ten of the High School boys; ten to eleven Eighth grade boys; eleven to twelve, one division of Seventh grade; one to two, division of Sixth and Seventh; two to three, a second division of the Sixth and Seventh.

In a physiology test given in the Sixth grade last week, one of the questions was—describe the eye? The answer was: The eye is round; on the outside is a coat called sclerotic that is white; the next coat is black; it is called choroid. The next, the inside coat, is called the retina. The inside of the eye is filled with a fluid called vitreous humor. There is a little passage into the eye where the optic nerve is near the front of the eye is the lens; it is in layers like an onion. There is a little thing near the front filled with a fluid called aqueous humor. Near the lens are the ciliary muscles. In front of the lens is the pupil and iris. The iris is the color of the eye. The pupil is the black we see out of. The kind of a crystal over the eye is called the cornea.

Card of Thanks.

To all the friends whose sympathy and services were so kindly tendered us during the illness and death of our friend, George W. Reed, we desire to extend our sincere thanks.

MR AND MRS. GEO. BRIGGS.

While driving a cow and leading a horse across a bridge near his place in Yamhill county, J. R. Ballard, formerly of this place, suffered a broken leg and barely escaped with his life. The two animals were going along very amicably when all of a sudden something entered the head of the cow and she whirled around with a lunge. As she whirled the horse whirled too, slipped and fell. And as the horse fell to the bridge he struck Mr. Ballard's left leg breaking one of the bones above the ankle. The horse in his desperate attempt to get on his feet swung off of the bridge upon the ground fifteen feet below and was instantly killed. There was no railing to the bridge and the horse all but knocked Mr. Ballard off which would have meant death to him. Mr. Ballard walked home on his broken leg and while still pretty sore was getting along nicely when seen by Joe Lenneville who visited him Sunday.

Mrs. Jean Morris Ellis is certainly living up to the splendid press reports she has received over the country, for her lectures and work on phrenology and psychology. On the first night, Tuesday, despite the show in town which had advertised several days previous, the Christian Church was filled, and her auditors pronounce her an expert in her line, and a very pleasing speaker. Last night she had a still larger house. She speaks again Friday and Saturday evenings. Psychology and phrenology is something that the people are interested in and they are anxious to hear her lectures. She is at the Laughlin where she can be seen by those wishing information in her line.

Prizes for Best Essays.
The Oregon Society of the Sons of the American Revolution offers prizes to the pupils of the public schools of the State of Oregon, for essays on subjects connected with our War for Independence.

Prizes of $20 $15 and $5 will be awarded for the first, second, third and fourth best essays written on any of the following subjects: "Washington the Great Leader," "The flag of the United States," "The Boston Tea Party," "The Treason of Benedict Arnold."

The essays are limited to three thousand words each, must be written in the student's own handwriting on one side only of the paper, and accompanied by a certificate of the writer's teacher, stating that the writer is a pupil in a designated class and that the teacher believes the essay to be the pupil's own unaided work. The essays must be signed by the writer, giving also his or her postoffice address. They should be forwarded to R. I. Eckerson, Chairman of Committee, Room 5 Washington Building, Portland, Oregon, and should reach their destination not later than March 31, 1908.

In awarding these prizes the committee will be governed by considerations of: Originality, Accuracy of Statement, Manner of Treatment, Orthography, Syntax and Punctuation. These prizes are offered to encourage love of our country and the study of its history.

Any additional information which may be desired will be cheerfully furnished on application to the Chairman of the Committee.

The question for you to answer
Can a Man or Woman Carry Their Own Life Insurance?

In reality there are only two parties who can carry any risk. First is the Life Insurance Co., Fraternal Association or Club. Second, the family, or those dependent on them for support and protection. Let the carry yours.

Why? First, because it is Life Insurance at actual cost. Second, because it is on safe and sound business principles. The Mutual Protection Club does not offer you something for nothing but it does offer you protection for the least possible cost consistent with safety.

You Pay for Just What You Get And Get Just What You Pay For

Men or women who think they are carrying their own Life Insurance, positively are not. They compel their family or loved ones, to carry it.

WHO IS CARRYING YOURS?

Again let the Mutual Protection Club carry it, as it will pay your beneficiary promptly the sum of money agreed upon in your contract with it.

Ask to have plan explained direct.

George W. Reed, an Oregon pioneer of 1853 and Rogue River Valley Indian war veteran, died at the home of George Briggs of Dilley, last Wednesday and was buried in the Forest View cemetery Friday. He was 73 years of age and was born in Tennessee where he lived until moving to Oregon. He settled at Dilley and resided there permanently until enlistment in the Indian war. For the past five years he had lived with Geo. Briggs.

In her celebrated lecture on
MATRIMONY

As it is and as it should be. No sensational, but practical common sense.

Mrs. Ellis will explain how to tell the signs of love in the head and face, how to tell a flirt, a jealous minded or a real loving, motherly person; will explain courtships wrong and right, and how to manage your mother-in-law. Couples paired on the stage at close of lecture—match-making scientific, amusing, but not binding.

Admission 25 Cents.

Phrenological Examinations given daily in her parlors at the Laughlin Hotel, from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Don't miss this chance to have your character read by a truly competent phrenologist. Saturday night Mrs. Ellis will lecture on the Training of Children, and the Signs of Character in the Face and Handshake.
