BANKS

Preaching in Banks every two weeks, E. F. Willis made his weekly trip to Portland.

Mr. Douche has been on the sick list for several weeks.

Mrs. M. Turner has been quite sick but is able to be out again.

J. F. Carstens is on the sick list and is being treated by doctors in Portland.

Dr. W. M. Burger has been in Portland the past week purchasing a stock of holiday goods.

Sorry to say that Mr. Hollenbeck, who moved near Vancouver Washington, is very low.

Ole Hopkins has remodeled the old school house which he and family will occupy this winter.

Earl Wilson and Clell Carstens can be seen every Sunday morning in hunting suit making their regular trip for ducks.

Mrs. Willis and daughter Ruth visited with friends in Hillsboro the past week and report having had a delightful time.

We understand that Ralph Kinton is building a boat for the purpose of hunting ducks. We wish him success in his new enterprise.

Miss Elpha Schulmerich has been quite sick for some time, but is improving under the skillful and attentive care of Dr. W. M. Burger.

J. C. Schulmerich is erecting a water tower on his premises which will supply water for his house and farm. We are glad to see these improvements go on as the place builds up.

The new school house was dedicated last Monday. Rev. Creasy opened the program with a short prayer and made a very beneficial talk. R. M. Banks, E. F. Willis and W. S. Inkley, were called upon for remarks and responded with short speeches for the good of the school. Prof. Ladd, the principal of the school, made a very interesting speech, which was thoroughly appreciated by all present. The school children came in for their part of the programme with songs which is always enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis returned after several weeks absence, having spent their honeymoon on their homestead in Grand Ronde. All the good people of Banks and surrounding country turned out with the regulation charivari outfit. Mr. and Mrs. Davis were looking forward to it and enjoyed it even more than the merry makers. The bride and groom treated the crowd bountifully to refreshments and all had a good time. Some thought that one evening of jollification was not enough so decided to turn out the following night but after several attempts to bring them forth found the house of the bride and groom vacated. Nevertheless the music by the Banks band was enjoyed by the community just the same.

J. C. Schulmerich is erecting a water tower and will use a gasoline engine instead of wind mill.

Myron McGregor, the former Creameryman was out on a short visit with his friends in Banks.

The people of Banks have suspended heavy eating pending the approach of the Thanksgiving turkey.

Misses Anna and Katie Borrus have returned from Portland where they have been visiting relatives.

John Carstens has stored his large hop crop in his hop house awaiting the raise of the financial blockade.

No cessation of business in Banks—checks, clearing house certificates, hogs, veal, butter, eggs, hides or cash all goes.

Mr. Turner reports no sign of money stringency in his business. The only trouble is in keeping the goods to supply the demand.

The Banks band has instituted a series of serenades under the auspices of the "Newly Wedded Club" that is very interesting to the inhabitants and no doubt improving to themselves.

Dr. Killingsworth and Ralph Kinton launched their fishing yacht today. Its a craft of their own construction to be used on the waters of Killins lake. The launching took place with suitable ceremonies and the breaking of a bottle of soda water to the name of "Clipper."
