The chair then called upon members of the audience for talks which were given in a strain of deep enthusiasm. Col. Haynes, who is always ready and willing, spoke for a concentration of efforts as the only way to make the board a success. A. G. Hoffman called attention to the fact that it is essential to thoroughly advertise our community and that it should be done. Rev. Gould made a good talk along the lines of advertising and said that although he was not exactly a Forest Groveite he would "risk $2.00 on the proposition," the annual dues of the board.

H. H. Stuart, superintendent of the Pacific Coast Condenser, made a good talk in support of all that had been said and more especially of the good roads question.

Austin Buxton, Master of the State Grange, gave an interesting talk on the general needs of the community and gave his hearty cooperation in the work that the board was to do.

One of the features of the evening was the presence of the College band, which is made up of ten of the young students of Pacific University, who gave abundance of music throughout the evening. At the close of the evening the audience gave it a unanimous rising vote in appreciation of their efforts in making the meeting a grand success.

The members of the board of directors had prepared what was shown on the program as "Cheese and Crackers." However, this proved to be an elegant lunch of sandwiches, coffee, doughnuts, pickles, cheese and crackers and olives. The usual formality of serving was dispensed with and the entire lunch was spread upon tables and carried into the lodge room when the audience, in the language of Sanchez Pansy, was invited to "lay to and fill up." Everybody did as requested until not a morsel was left, which ended one of the most successful "Cheese and Cracker" banquets ever held in this city.
