H. G. KING.

Tax Notice.

The taxpayers of Washington County, Oregon, are hereby notified that the first half of their taxes for the year 1907, and levied in January, 1908, are now payable and will become delinquent on the first Monday in April 1908, at which time interest at the rate of 12 per cent per annum will be charged, in addition to 10 per cent penalty, which said interest will be computed from the first Monday in April, 1907.

Dated at Hillsboro, Oregon; February 13, 1908.

J. W. CONNELL,
Sheriff of Washington County, Oregon.
32-Apr-1

COLLEGE LOCAL.

(From The Index.)

Mr. Hahn evidently has his directions confused, as he is frequently seen going North instead of South.

Mobley made himself very conspicuous Thursday without his shovel. He stood on the side and gossiped.

Pres. Ferrin to Arnston at the Social Union—"Want to be initiated Arnston?" Yes I'll consent for this is my last chance."

Last week Mr. Ward very unexpectedly introduced a new name in the play which the Advanced Vocal Class are working on. For particulars, ask Mr. Ward.

Miss Silverman, having declared her attentions, went to Hillsboro Saturday to take out the papers, while there she was the guest of Miss Heide.

Miss Grace Payne went to The Dalles Monday, where her sister Frankie was married to Mr. Robert N. Forbet, a postal clerk in the Albany postoffice.

After close observation and some personal experience, "Dick" Abraham has come to the conclusion that in college life, time is wasted by two's never singly.

SPECIAL MUSIC AT CHAPEL EXERCISES ON WEDNESDAY

Prof. Orr Gives Reading and Prof. Chapman Renders Two Pleasing Violin Solos.

The special chapel exercises Wednesday were somewhat shorter than usual but proved very interesting. Prof. Orr conducted chapel and after the regular program he gave a very impressive reading of Mrs. Alexander's well known poem "The Burial of Moses." This was followed by two violin numbers. It is seldom that the students have the opportunity to hear Prof. Chapman and the solos were received with great enthusiasm by the audience. He played the Handel "Largo" and the exquisite "Cavatina," by Raff. The popularity of these special Wednesday exercises is evidenced by the unusually large number of students attending. It is hoped that the faculty will continue them.

SPRAY YOUR TREES.

Board of Horticulture Is Sending out Formulas for Killing San Jose Scale.

"Spray 'em or cut 'em down," says Secretary Williamson, of the State Board of Horticulture, in discussing the care of fruit trees and vines. He is now engaged in sending out the formulas for spraying for San Jose scale, woolly aphis, codling moth and other things that prey on the fruit crop of Oregon.

"Now is the time for winter spraying, and it should be done right away," he said. "Where the trees are not worth spraying, they should be cut down and burned, so as not to remain breeding places for the various pests. Even rose bushes should be sprayed, in order that they may not harbor the San Jose scale."

His circular says, in regard to lime and sulphur spraying:

This is the spray to use in Winter for killing San Jose scale, and all other insects which are on fruit trees in Winter. It is also one of the best fungicides. For destroying San Jose scale on fruit and other trees and shrubbery, use at any time during the Winter at full strength of the formula given below. For preventing apple-tree anthracnose (dead spot or canker) spray with full strength of formula about the first of November. For preventing peach leaf-curl apply just before buds open in Spring.

Formula: 15 pounds of unslaked lime, 15 pounds of flowers of sulphur, 50 gallons of water.

Place part of the water in the vat or kettle and start the fire, and when the water comes to a boil add the lime and sulphur. Boiling should be continuous for at least an hour and until the sulphur has been dissolved. The liquid will then be red. It must be stirred while the boiling is going on.

DOING EUROPE.

This Tourist Seemed to Have a Mania For Souvenirs.

I had met Jones before. In fact, meeting him had become a sort of habit. The first time I saw him he was hanging by his feet, an apoplectic, squirming mass, on the facade of Blarney castle, kissing the stone of eloquence. My camera caught him in the act. "Gad," he sputtered when I told him that his feat was immortalized. "Is my face in it? Send me one, will you? That'll prove to the folks back in Zanesville that I did it."

I had run across him again in London, where all ways meet. I was sauntering around the Whitechapel ghetto, and through the window of an alley tavern I noticed two men drinking stout. One was a "bobby" in uniform. His eyes were bleared and his face purple. The profile of the other looked familiar. I walked in and beheld—Jones. The policeman, startled by my intrusion, brought himself together and wobbled out. Jones turned to me with a look of vast reproach.

"Glad to see you again, old man, but—why in the deuce couldn't you stay away a little longer? I'd have had it in half an hour more."

"Had what?"

"Why, his club. Lord, what a souvenir that would have made!"

Our ways parted again for awhile. I was riding a wheel over the crest of the Black forest near Titisee, pumping slowly to the top of the long, white road. A pine cone struck my handle bar, another knocked my hat off, and I looked up. An aerial voice emitted a Tyrolean halloo with much unction, and I saw a swaying speck silhouetted against a cloud. My instinct told me it was Jones.

"Hey, old man!" he yelled, trumpeting through his hand, "take my picture—quick. You're just in time. Can't hold on much longer. Camera's at foot of tree. Lost it halfway up."

His camera was smashed, so I used my own. "Were you expecting me?" I asked when he shinned down, with barked hands and frayed trousers. "No, not exactly. Look here—biggest pine cone in Germany, from the tallest tree on top of the highest hill in the Schwarzwald. There's something worth while!"

I admitted it, and we stood surveying the panorama of mounded hills and deep cut gorges full of the sound of falling water.

"Lovely!" I murmured.

"What? Oh, yes, I s'pose it is. But say—I wonder if I couldn't find a bigger cone somewhere in these parts. Let's move on."—Wilfred H. Alburn in Outing Magazine.

Proposals Wanted for Crushing and Hauling Rock.

Sealed bids will be received by the County Court of Washington County, Oregon, until 2 o'clock P. M. on the 14th day of March, 1908, and then opened, for the crushing of 5500 cubic yards of rock, 2000 yards at the Thatcher quarry four miles north of Forest Grove, 2000 yards at the Spring Hill quarry four miles south of Forest Grove and 1500 yards at the Cedar Mill quarry three miles north of Beaverton on the Cornell road.

The county will furnish the crusher now at the Thatcher quarry. The Contractor will be required to move and set up the machinery at the different quarries.

Bidders will be required to name a price per cubic yard delivered in the bins, the two finer grades to comprise at least 45 per cent of the product, also a price for the excess needed over the 45 percent of the two finer grades.

Bids will also be received at the same time for the hauling of said rock, bids to state the price per cubic yard, per mile.

Bids may be made on the crushing alone or on the crushing and hauling together or on any part of the hauling.

The court reserves the right to increase the above amounts of rock to be crushed 50 per cent at each of the quarries, also the right to reject any or all bids.

By order of the County Commissioners,

J. W. GOODIN,

County Judge.
