office after an absence of three weeks during which he was confined to his room by boils which were very painful. Mr. Atwell is glad to be about again and his friends rejoice that he is convalescent.

The city is very much in need of a public dumping ground, and the mayor has requested The News to ask anyone who has a suitable place for sale or lease, to call on him and make the same known. The Council will likely take some action in the matter at its next meeting Tuesday.

Miss Alberta Barker, the young woman who committed suicide in Portland some time Saturday night because of being in a delicate state of health, at one time lived here. An inquest was held but the jury returned a finding that the girl died of phosphorus poisoning, administered with suicidal intent.

Several of the hopgrowers of this county will not cultivate their yards this year. Some have gone so far as to plow up their acreage. The Whitmore and White yards on Chehalem mountain near Gaston, consisting of about 60 acres has been plowed up. Lina Woods' yard near Hillsboro has also been visited by the plow.

The youthful base ball tossers of the Forest Grove public school won an easy and decisive victory from the Hillsboro school players here Saturday afternoon, the final score being 7 to 2. There was a good crowd present to cheer the players and good natured rivalry prevailed throughout the contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Linnegar, one mile south of town, gave a delightful party last Monday night to 40 guests. The evening was pleasantly passed with music and games and at half past ten o'clock supper was served. At a late hour the guests dispersed, voting Mr. and Mrs. Linnegar ideal entertainers.

George Davis of Stanley, Wisconsin, was here last week the guest of his brother, James H. Davis, local manager of the Pacific States Telephone Company. Mr. Davis has charge of lumbering interests in Wisconsin and is making a visit to the home folks at Beaverton, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Davis, who formerly lived near Thatcher.

William Stephens of Dilley, was here Saturday shaking hands with acquaintances and incidentally boosting for his home town. He spoke with pride of the recent land transfers made in that section of the county and of the new four-room school building which is to be erected at Dilley. The present school house has grown inadequate to meet the growing needs of the town.

Sam Moulton has sold a half-interest in his barber shop to L. Bogan and has retired from business for the summer months. His interests in the shop will be looked after by Will Boos who has been in the parlors for some time. Mr. Moulton expects to build soon and believes that outdoor life will be beneficial to him. Mr. Bogan has been engaged at his trade in Portland and Woodburn.

The Book Store has the most attractive window display in town this week. Beautiful in conception and pretty because of its simplicity the scheme of decoration suggestively carries out the Easter thought. In the foreground is a display of Bibles of various sizes, and Easter mottoes. The background is banked with lilies. The ensemble is striking and has called forth many favorable comments.

R. D. Holscher, who raises grapes on his place near town, received yesterday a consignment of fine plants from Fredonia, N. Y. They were Concord and early varieties. That section of New York state produces excellent grapes but when plants are transplanted here they thrive splendidly under local climatic and soil conditions and the Oregon product excels the Yankee in many particulars.

Grove and for months connected with the mechanical department of The News, is at Juneau, Alaska, where he has a position on the Daily Dispatch as ad and job man. He has been in the frozen north for about three months and gives expression to his appreciation of conditions there by saying "It's mighty good to be here." He sends his regards to all former Grove acquaintances.

State Game Warden Robert O. Stevenson is of the opinion that the commissioners' court should pay a bounty on cougars, wild cats and coyotes. He was in Hillsboro last week and presented the matter before the court stating that greater protection would thus be given to the antlered herds in Washington county. He stated that one of these depredatory animals will kill more deer than twenty illicit hunters. He suggested that a bounty of $5 be put on cougars and $15 on coyotes. Just what action the commissioners will take on this measure remains to be seen.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Philips have returned from a pleasant sojourn of five months in eastern Canada, in the province of Ottawa, where they went to visit relatives and friends. Mr. Philips visited with his aged mother who last Saturday reached her ninetieth birthday and who is still in possession of all her faculties. The reunion after many years of separation was a most pleasant one. Mr. Philips enjoyed his stay in Canada and stopped some time in Toronto and made the return trip through the United States. They were away from Forest Grove five months and eleven days.

An error, since corrected, was made in last Sunday's Oregonian when it stated that C. C. Hammerly, candidate for joint senator from this, the 24th district, composed of Washington, Lincoln, Tillamook and Yamhill counties, was unpledged. He is absolutely pledged to support the republican choice, the same as the Hillsboro candidate. He taught school a number of years in county, high school and academy, but for the past eight or ten years has been an editor and publisher. He was born and raised in Iowa but came here to the west twelve years ago. He will no doubt make an earnest effort to well represent every portion of the district.

An old-fashioned charivari with plenty of noise, go and ginger was given Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nicholson at their new home at Cedar Canyon last Friday evening by their neighbors and friends living in that community. It was a genuine surprise, the furniture of the newly married people was still in the wagons and the painters' brushes were still dripping with fresh paint when the merry-makers arrived to welcome the happy couple. Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson were equal to the occasion and informally entertained their guests in hospitable fashion. Everybody present appeared to enjoy the affair even the fellow that rang the big cow bell until his fingers were so sore that he couldn't hold a cigar. The honored hosts bade their friends to come again at a more opportune time.
