In 1905 traveling libraries had been authorized by law in twenty-five states. In sixteen of these, the libraries were in the direct charge of state libraries or library commissions. This wonderful record of growth from the idea promulgated by Mr. Melvil Dewey in 1892 is a most significant testimenial, not only that illiteracy is becoming unpopular, but that good taste in reading is to become an American habit. Time was when some of was better that none at all. In these days, when the farmer is just as close to the heart of the world and driving out the poison-producing as the rest of us, if he chocses to be, he is greeted by a bewildering opportunity for choice among mediocre and even more vicious publications than were common twenty years ago. There are capable men and women, highly cultivated and useful citizens, whose early reading was largely of the character then current in the cheap weeklies; but who shall dare to prophesy that the youth of today, whose literary excursions take him into the company of "Buster Brown" and "Happy Hoo ligaa" will have an even chance with the youth of a generation ago to develop into a useful and law abiding citi-The influences of the dukes, haughty countesses, swaggering pirates and common ruffians of those days was certainly not so quickly transmuted Tribune. into bad conduct as that of the current yellow favorite. Isolation had its advantages for the people on our farms. Today, the farmer's lad, only less than his city contemporary, has the worst that our times afford thrust upon him. In the cities, the public libraries are live to the necessity of getting people to read, and to read that which is, at least, not distinetly harmful, with strenuous efforts to promote the more vigorous and helpful sort of reading. That those in charge of traveling library systems are fully conscious that wise selection of San Diego is crowded with visitors the books means much to the common-and sightseers and never before in wealths whose interests they serve, may be seen from the character of the books they are sending to the villages, country school and farm houses. Wonderful Growth of Past Sixteen Years. By Cornelia Maryin, Secretary Oregon Library Cornelia Maryin, Secretary Oregon Library

No old sore exists merely because the flesh is diseased at that particular spot; if this were true simple cleanliness and local applications would heal them. Whenever a sore or ulcer refuses to heal readily, the blood is at fault; this vital fluid is filled with impurities and poisons which are being constantly discharged into the place, feeding it with noxious matter and irritating and inflaming the nerves and tissues so the sore cannot heal. These impurities in the blood may be the remains of some constitutional trouble, the effect of a debilitating spell of sickness, leaving disease germs in the system, or the absorption by the blood of the fermented refuse matter which the bodily channels of waste have failed to remove. Again the cause may be hereditary, the diseased blood of ancestry being handed down to posterity; but whatever the cause, the fact that the sore will not heal shows the necessity for the very best constitutional treatment. There is nothing our scholars thought that bad reading that causes more worry and anxiety than an old sore which resists treatment.

Every symptom suggests pollution angry looking flesh, the pain and inflammation, and the discoloration of surrounding parts, all show that deep lown in the blood there are morbid and dangerous forces at work, constantly creating poisons which may in the end lead to Cancer. Local applications are valuable only for ieir cleansing and antiseptic effects; they do not reach the blood, where the real cause is located, and can therefore have no real curative worth. S. S. S. heals old sores by going down to the fountain-head of the trouble germs and morbid matters which are

I want to recommend S. S. S. to any who are n need of a blood purifier, and especially as a emedy for sores and obstinate ulcers. In 1877 I had my leg badly cut on the sharp edge of a arrel, and having on a blue woolen stocking he place was badly poisoned from the dye. A reat sore formed and for years no one knows what I suffered with the place. I tried, it seemed to me, everything I had ever heard of, out I got no relief and I thought I would have o go through life with an angry, discharging ore on my leg. At last I began the use of . S. S., and it was but a short time until I saw that the place was improving. I continued it until it removed all the poison from my blood nd made a complete and permanent cure of the sore. JNO. keeping the ulcer open. It removes every particle of impurity from the circulation and makes this life-stream pure, fresh and health-sustaining. Then as new, rich blood is carried to the place the healing begins, all discharge eases, the inflammation leaves, new tissue and healthy flesh are formed, and soon the sore or ulcer is well. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers and finest of tonics, just what is needed in the treatment, and in addition to curing the sore will build up and strengthen every part of the system.
