BACCALAUREATE SERVICE.

Ladies Chorus Assisted by Miss Spaulding Furnish Music.

The Baccalaureate service was held in the Congregational church last Sunday morning. The Ladies Chorus assisted by Miss Spaulding furnished the music. Rev. Boyd gave the invocation and Rev. Gould gave the Scripture reading. President Ferrin delivered the baccalaureate sermon. His theme was character building and his text was the tenth verse of the 3rd chapter of 1st Corinthians. He first gave a picture of Corinthian life in which he told of the beautiful temples of the Gods and the lowly wood houses of the greater part of the Corinthians. This great contrast suggested to the Apostle Paul the need of a firm foundation on which to build. The building of a house is symbolic of the building of character. Foundation and superstructure are necessary for both, but the foundation is of first importance. If we wish to build a noble character we can choose no better foundation for it than Christ. There are many reasons why we should choose Him first, because He was a historic personage of the same experience as other men, next because He had a spotless character, and then He fulfills our conception of a perfect man. From these reasons He is a safe foundation upon which to build character. Generosity, expediency and honesty have often been made character foundations. But they have failed, for the Apostle

The Farmer's Wife

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it? The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every taint or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood. If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements.

The best agents known to medical science for the cure of the above symptoms are Dr. E. V. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This is absolutely true and will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will but mail a postal card request to Dr. E. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his book, "The Weak and Sickly," which contains the standard medical authorities giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famous medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

Senior Class Day Exercises.

Monday afternoon at two o'clock, under the old bee tree on the campus, the Seniors held their class day exercises. The members of the class made their appearance marching in a line, carrying a garland of blue and yellow flowers, the class colors. After a short introductory speech by Robert A. Im-lay, president of the class, Gordon Clapp reviewed the class history. He pointed out the things the senior class had done from its first organization down to the present time. The presentation of the Bridge of the Gods last year they considered their greatest achievement. The class had always been noted for its independence of thought. This probably accounted for the fact that they had never been able to agree upon anything without much discussion.

The past having been thoroughly exposed to view, D. I. Aller went ahead some fifty years and gave a "Pipe Dream" of the future. He represented the last banquet of the class, at which he, then Dr. Aller, was the only one present. The others had met with various fates. Frances Clapp had furnished a square meal to the natives among whom she was a missionary; S. B. Lawrence had perished in an airship wreck; H. H. Arnston had met the sad fate of petrifying and after his death in this manner had been purchased and placed upon the campus here; Miss Heidel became a noted actress. All the members of the class had distinguished themselves in some manner.

Miss Frances Clapp read the class poem. She graphically told of the sorrows and joys of a college course and paid fitting tribute to her Alma Mater.

C. D. Mason followed with a tribute to the Juniors. He said that the seniors felt that they should leave some lasting tribute to them and accordingly wished to plant and dedicate a tree to their honor. A rather sickly looking willow slip was produced but when the ground was prepared for the tree, to the astonishment of all, the spade struck a box containing the treasures of the Junior class, which, it had before been announced, had been stolen from the Index room the previous night. The box contained a motley collection of valuables; the class flower, mistletoe, a rattle belonging to H. E. Witham; an Annual; and a number of Here's Forest Grove testimony.

J. S. Trumble, living in Forest Grove, Ore., says: "The same time I suffered from a dull ache across my back and hips accompanied by a dragging sensation in my kidneys. These organs were very irritable in a time and I was forced to strain in many cases during the night to pass the secretions that my life was a burden to me. The trouble grew worse and I gradually ran down in health. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills in a local advertisement and I decided to try them and purchased a box. I noticed a great change in my condition after a short time and after taking the contents of the first box, I felt decidedly well. Doan's Kidney Pills have, my friends, merited as a kidney remedy unexcelled."

papers. The papers proved of interest. On one were the subjects for these next year. A class history, telling of the illustrious past of the Junior class, was also found. The distances of the various members from the objects of their affections and the cost of transportation thereto were carefully figured up and those without distances were warned to get them at once.

Miss Esther Silverman then dedicated the substantial stone seat which the Seniors have presented to the college. She spoke of the desire of the class to leave some lasting mark of their love and appreciation and her hope that the seat would prove a useful and lasting token. President Ferrin responded, thanking the class for their gift and assuring the members of the appreciation of it by all.

Mr. S. B. Lawrence gave the closing address. Mr. Lawrence spoke with feeling of the benefit the members of the class felt that they had derived from their college course and their regret at leaving. He felt that all had a desire to prove by successful careers the advantages gained at college.

Presentation of Athletic "P."s

Last Thursday immediately after the chapel exercises occurred the presentation of the official "P."s. Before giving out the college letter to the athletic teams, Mr. Hahn made a brief speech, in which he presented to Mr. Lawrence the journalistic "P." for his work as editor-in-chief of the weekly Index. Next he made a speech on athletic work, after which those of the football team who had not yet been so honored received their football "P." nine members of the basketball team were called forward to take their turn.

The largest squad to receive their share of the praise was the Track Team.

Those who have won their college emblem and received it Thursday are: Football, Messrs Bryant, A. Robinson, McCoy, Mobley and Koch, R. Abraham; Basket Ball; Gwynn, Witham, C. Ward, Kirkwood, A. Robinson, Aller, H. E. Ferrin, Humphreys. Track: Mason, Lawrence, Waterman, Mayfield, A. Robinson, R. Robinson. Weathered, Aller, Holman Ferrin, Raul Abraham, Humphreys.

Address Before Christian Associations.

Sunday evening in the Congregational church the annual address before the college Christian Associations took place. The music of the evening consisted of a violin solo by Dwinell Clapp and a vocal solo by Miss Leah Slusser. Rev. Paul Rader was not able to be present so Rev. Clapp took his place and delivered the address. Rev. Clapp always wins his audience and his address was full of earnest enthusiasm for the work of the associations. He particularly impressed upon his hearers the responsibility of each member of the organization in making the work successful. The theme of his address was that we are to go on with the work that Christ left unfinished, and in doing it we are to acquit ourselves as worthy followers of so perfect a Master.

Professor Briedwell of Corvallis, visited the University Sunday.
