THE WHISPER.

Of all the various modes of speech Which polished art and nature teach The whisper plays its part the best With hints—when let you guess the rest. That (rather Irish) wary "Whist!" That (rather ancient) caution "Hut!" The modern "Hush!" all warn you best—Well, whisper—you can guess the rest. Folks say that it is very rude. It is when generally viewed. Still, when a man's a social peat Just whisper—he'll guess the rest. Boreas, tattlers, gossipers and such, Who know, or think they do, too much— If you would stop them I'd suggest A whispered hint—they'll guess the rest. —La Touche Hancock in New York Press.

"Do you know that your chickens come over into my garden?" "I thought they must be doing that." "Why did you think so?" "Because they never come back."—Cleveland Leader.
