Woman's Club.

At the Congregational church Monday evening, the members of the Woman's Club gave their guests a pleasant hour. It was a Peer Gynt in its dramatized form, was reviewed, and selections were read by Miss Farnham. The music which is by Grieg, was rendered by Mrs. E. E. Williams and Mrs. Wilbur McEldowney. The piano selections were "The Hall of the Mountain King," "Anitra's Dance," "Ase's Death," and "Morning" which Mrs. Williams played in her usual pleasing manner. The vocal numbers by Mrs. McEldowney were Solvig's Cradle Song and Solvig's Sunshine Song.

At the close of the program a dainty lunch was served by the social committee.

N., will look after the interests of the eating house, having had experience in that line in eastern cities. Mr. Vanderzanden has not definitely shaped his plans for the future. The Davis Bros. intend to make the restaurant first class in every respect.

Boy Meets With Accident.

According to the Oregonian, the 9-year-old son of Banker John W. Shute, of Hillsboro, was shot in some unaccountable manner while returning from school last Thursday afternoon.

Much mystery surrounds the accident. The lad maintains that he was shot, but others believe he was wounded by the discharge of a dynamite cap. Three finger-tips were torn off at the first joint and the hand badly lacerated. The boy's mother was walking several yards ahead of her son when the accident happened.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Porter were the guests of Ebert Groat, a well known resident of the Scholls neighborhood, the past week and enjoyed their visit very much. The Porters and Groats have visited back and forth for years and the annual gathering proves to be an occasion of much pleasure. The reunion is all the more enjoyable because Mr. Groat and Mr. Porter come from Apache county, in Wisconsin, and both responded to the call for soldiers during the war of the rebellion and did valiant service throughout the three years, as members of the First Wisconsin Infantry. Mr. Porter noticed many improvements since his last visit to that neighborhood and says that land which sold for $80 an acre a year ago has jumped as high as $150 and even $200 and the owners do not seem to care to sell. The big Ferd Groner ranch, says Mr. Porter, is one of the finest in that section. It is a combination farm having a tile factory, a walnut orchard and tracts given to crop raising.

The old cow to her young one said "It won't be long till you are dead, But cheer up, child, don't have the blues They need your hide for Star Brand Shoes." At Hoffman & Allen Cor's Store. See the calf's reply in another column. 20-tf

The Corvallis & Eastern railroad shows a corporate net loss of $1156 for the year of 1908. The majority of the stock is owned by E. H. Harriman and held in trust for the Southern Pacific Company.

Tracklaying has been resumed on the Corvallis & Alsea railroad, and is expected to be completed in about a mile remains to be laid, when the town of Monroe will be connected with Corvallis by rail.

The complete stock of the Merlin Supply Company was burned last week, with no insurance. Mr. and Mrs. William Richards, of Merlin, and G. B. McEwen, of Astoria, were badly burned, the latter two with but slight chances for recovery.

R. D. Hume, the millionaire salmon-packer of Curry county and known throughout the state as the king of Rogue river, is reported to be dying at his home at Wedderburn.

He is suffering from a severe attack of kidney trouble.

The Secretary of the Interior has withdrawn from entry two small tracts in Clatsop county, with a view to creating National parks. The withdrawn areas embrace Saddle Mountain and Humburg Mountain. The creation of parks can only be by congressional action.

Seven hundred head of ownerless sheep, valued approximately at $2000, have been found by C. E. Carlile, of Unity, Baker county, and are being held for the owner. So far no woolgrower in that vicinity can be found who has missed that many animals.

While in a temporary fit of insanity, Mrs. Emma Slaughter, of Pendleton, made an unsuccessful attempt Sunday at self-destruction. She shot herself with a double-barrel derringer, but the wound will not prove fatal.

Sales of farm and orchard lands within a radius of 12 miles of Medford, made through the agency of real estate men, are $1,000,000 greater for 1908 than for the year 1907, reaching a grand total of $1,500,000.

A verdict of acquittal was returned last week by the jury in the case of Joseph Shaughnessy, on trial for the killing of A. Wilcox in The Dalles on October 1. The verdict was a surprise, since it was proved that Wilcox died from three wounds inflicted by a knife in the hands of Shaughnessy during a quarrel over a dog.

While two boys, sons of E. Kaumlaus, were playing in their house at Hobsonville, near Tillamook Saturday, and while the older brother was standing with his hands at his back against a door, the younger lad picked up a shotgun and fired it at the door, the shot partly tearing his brother's hand to pieces and then entering his back, injuring him so severely that he cannot live. The boys are 7 and 10 years of age.

Robert McCulley, a prominent Lake county sheepman, shot and killed C. M. Fincone, another sheepman, last week. McCulley was driving his sheep to water at a point about 30 miles east of Lakeriew, when he encountered Fincone, who objected to McCulley crossing that particular point of the range. Fincone attacked McCulley, who drew a revolver and fired the fatal shot.

Mrs. Mary F. Ness, of Eugene, has requested the supreme court of the District of Columbia to issue a writ of mandamus against Secretary of Interior Garfield to compel him to recognize and follow the decision of the United States circuit court of appeals for the Seventh circuit, which held it unnecessary for her personally to inspect a tract of public land before making timber and stone entry thereon. She declares in her petition that Garfield declines to follow this ruling, claiming that he construes the law differently.

That the Pullman Company expects its porters and waiters to "work" the public for a large part of their compensation, and probably for more, is the opinion expressed by State Labor Commissioner O. P. Hoff in his biennial report to the Legislature. That the company receives a part of the "tips" is a deduction Mr. Hoff makes from the fact that the gross receipts of the company in Oregon, as reported to the State Treasurer, amounts to $61,095.16, while the amount paid out in wages alone, as shown by the report to the Labor Commission, almost equals that amount.

Frank E. Guild, a night guard at the Barnes Cash Store of Salem, was clouted over the head, gagged and bound by two burglars early Sunday morning and was left in that condition, while the robbers gathered up a quantity of clothing and made good their escape. Apparently the two robbers secreted themselves in the store before it closed the night before. At 2 o'clock in the morning when Guild awoke they were standing beside his bed. As soon as he opened his eyes they clubbed him and, after binding and gagging him, warned him not to try to make a disturbance. They took $10 from his pockets and what clothing and shoes they wanted and left. Though severely injured Guild will recover.
