HILDA THE HELPER

II.—"There's No Place Like Home"

Hilda the Helper used to say, when she was rather younger, "I think I'll pack and go away; I've got the city hunger."

One day did Hilda up and pack, she hied her to the city. Three months from THEN SHE MOSIED BACK and sang another ditty:

"The city wasn't half so fine as I had judged from rumor, so it's THE OLD HOME TOWN FOR MINE, and I shall be its boomer."

Sundries and More Sundries in every department than we can enumerate if we were to occupy a whole page of the paper. Come in and let us "show you" whether you are from Missouri or not. Our service is right. Our goods are right. Our prices are right and you will find we are alright. Yours for pills
