A Hillsboro sodawater works wagon has been making frequent trips to this city, the hot weather causing both young and aged to drink much of the sizzling liquid.

J. C. Giltner, living on Third street, who has been seriously ill for the past ten days with an attack of the "Grippe," is able to sit on the porch and enjoy the sunshine.

Amaran Porter, who recently underwent a surgical operation in Portland, is seriously ill at his home on Pacific Avenue, the result of the operation being not as favorable as was expected.

Father Buck and his four friends who accompanied him have returned from a two week's vacation spent on the coast at Netarts. While gone the party took several long walks up and down the beach, and had a very pleasant time.

James McHale, a young farmer living in the Watts section, threw a great scare into his friends Sunday. Jim went to Cornelius Saturday, and returning homeward late at night, he put up at the residence of a friend, letting his team wander to his farm alone. Jim got home all "right side up with care" Sunday evening.

George Kirkwood, who made this city his home for several years, but is now living with his daughter in Hillsboro, was in town Tuesday exchanging "hoot mons," with his many friends. Mr. Kirkwood has recently returned from a visit to the land of his nativity, and has much to tell of the "banks and braes o' bonnie doon," where Bobbie Burns sang his heart away; but he likes Oregon best.

The pipe men have been putting in several sections of six-inch water pipe on First street near the Oregon Electric depot this week.
