

FOREST GROVE PRESS
Published & Edited by
G. E. SECOUR
in the City of
FOREST GROVE, OREGON,
THURSDAY of EACH WEEK.

INDEPENDENT PHONES
OFFICE 505 RESIDENCE 231

Entered at the post office at Forest Grove, Ogn as mail matter of the second cla. s.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION
CASH IN ADVANCE
One Year $1.00 - Six Months .75

Display advertisements for publication in the PRESS must be in this office not later than Tuesday evening to insure appearance in current issue.

In Civic Duties
Follow the Golden Rule

One reason why the sidewalks of a town are allowed to remain in a state of disrepair is, that those who are responsible for keeping them in good condition are not willing to exercise the spirit of fair play, or in other words, follow the golden rule. If people would come to a realization of the fact that in order consistently to expect their fellow-citizens to perform their civic duties they should also keep up their end of the burden, the occasions when attention must be called to derelictions in such matters would be few and far between.

We mention the subject of sidewalks in this relation because the matter of better walks in this city at the present time is more pressing than other things, though of course the duty that those living in a municipality owe to their fellow-citizens embraces everything that is of a public nature. Where a number of people live closely together, as in a town or city, there are certain things which must be done for the comfort and well being of the people as a whole, and what each one must do will usually be in proportion to his worldly wealth. The cost is not as a general rule the thing that prevents the property owner from doing his share, but a spirit of carelessness for the rights of others is more often to blame.

More Scientific Knowledge of Road Building

There is doubtless no one other thing that is of more vital importance to the state of Oregon than the matter of good roads, and a general awakening to this fact in every section of the state is a matter of much gratification. The movement of eastern people westward which began to cause more than particular notice started at the time of the Lewis and Clark Fair, and each year since that time settlers have come in ever-increasing numbers. As the state becomes more thickly settled the need of better roads is more keenly felt.

Fortunately, as the need of better roads increases, the wherewithal to construct them increases in direct ratio, as the more thickly settled the state becomes the greater its wealth. What is more needed at the present time than any thing else, is more education in scientific road building. The time has passed when the dumping of a load of rock in a mud hole will pass for the making of a good road. In Washington county thousands of dollars have been wasted in road work through lack of knowledge on the part of those having the work in charge. It is only in the past few years that any particular effort has been made to break away from the old methods, and it has only been within that time that there have been any roads constructed that have given adequate returns for the money expended upon them.

The time will shortly come when the people of each county will insist that the road construction be in charge of some one who has gained a scientific knowledge of the business from the best sources obtainable, and then they will know that their money will be given a chance to make a fair showing for having been expended.

The Colorado deer season was ushered in with the killing of two men who were "mistaken for a deer". This is the history of every season in every state that has a deer season, and there are nearly as many men killed each year thru this cause as there are registered voters in Forest Grove. But the fact of the matter is that very few of those killed are really mistaken for animals. If the fool hunter who shoots his fellow man really saw his victim before he fired his rifle, there would not be one in twenty of the present fatalities recorded, but the usual account given is that "he saw the bushes move and thought it was a deer". If hunters would contain themselves, and not get a case of buck fever every time they go out with a gun, the occasions for grief and regrets would be much less frequent.

The man who at the close of life, when his day's work is finished and the chill and darkness of death close about him, has nothing but the record of having established a "Big Business" as an asset to take with him into the other world, has "Nothing but Leaves." Thru a long life of toil, and a disregard for all the qualities that makes life sweet and enjoyable, many a man has gathered together a huge fortune, but what does it profit him? A heap of brick and iron, as a monument to his greed and the silent curses of the poor, whose faces he has ground down, to follow him to the grave. About the only thing that can be said by those who would speak in eulogy of such as these, is, that they were "respectable".

Come to think of it, who can blame the Democrats for wearing a dazed and puzzled look at the way the Assembly and Insurgent Republicans are carrying on? Only a few weeks ago we had Judge Henry McGinn and other champions of the people flaying the "Big Business" nominees of the Assembly ticket, and now we see them locking arms with the enemies of the poor proletariat. It is enough to make the wooden indian in front of a democratic cigar store shed tears.

With pork selling at fifteen cents a pound, and the smoked article at over twice that, the humble hog is gradually coming into his own, and Oregon farmers will probably show him proper respect hereafter by raising more of him.

As the twig is bent the tree is inclined, and the young boys who are now standing on the street corners smoking vile "coffin nails" will be the men twenty years hence for whose sake the eternal war for prohibition will be waged.

An Oregon woman who announces herself as being "A bright and nifty widow," advertises for a husband, who must be smooth shaven. And yet people wonder at the number of divorces applied for on trivial grounds.

And are scandal peddlers all that they should be?

Wind pudding and boiled knot holes make poor filling, even for those who live with love in a cottage.

The man who is willing to purchase his friends is also willing to sell them.

You can also judge a man by the company he would keep if he could.

Falling in love doesn't jar a fellow like fall ng out of it.

Doing other people's work is what makes one tired.

Gossip gets a lot of publicity without a press agent.

No trouble is as big as it looks at a distance.

AROUND THE TOWN

Rockers—all kinds at Roe and Co. tf

Mrs. Ezra Booth visited friends in Portland Monday.

Mrs. J. F. McGill was a Portland visitor Saturday.

Winnefred and Margaret Littlehales were in Portland Saturday.

Mr. Reuter, the David's Hill vinardist, was in town Saturday.

Lila McDonald is visiting relatives at Nehalem for a few days.

Miss Amy Thomas is teaching at Cook's Landing, Washington.

Ottice Shearer and wife were visitors to the Rose city Saturday.

Miss Grace Dickison spent Sunday at her home, Fern Crest Ranch, near Dilley.

Mrs. W. E. Prickett was an over Sunday visitor at Beaverton with her mother-in-law.

"Superior" stoves and ranges have no superior. Sold by Hinman, the Hardware man. tf

J. W. H. Adkins, a rancher of the Glenwood section was a visitor to the Grove Saturday.

Miss Helen Chalmers, who visited P.U. friends last week, is teaching school near Banks.

Ezra Kirts and wife of the Kansas City section were patrons of the Forest Grove stores Friday.

S. O. Sears, of the Kansas City district, was attending to business matters in the Grove Saturday.

C. V. B. Russell left Tuesday for Newport, where he will remain for the next ten days catching whales.

Miss Margaret Gesner, of Cornelius, has entered the Junior class of the University of California at Berkeley.

Attorney John H. Stevenson, of Portland, visited with his father, R. O. Stevenson, in this city the past week.

Mrs. H. H. Clark, who has made her home in Portland with her daughters since the death of her husband, has been visiting this week with friends in the Grove.

W. M. Thurston and wife, of Beaverton, who are travelling through the middle west, writes W. E. Prickett, Mrs. Thurston's brother, of this city, that Oregon is the only state, and they long for their return.

Miss Kirkwood has a nice lot of attractive hats and new ones are constantly being added to the stock. With a wide range of prices and a heavy stock of the latest materials you will have no trouble in selecting a fine hat.

John Cornelius, of Blooming, was a Grove visitor Saturday.

Professor Ben Kori and little daughter were in Portland Saturday.

Mrs. Fannie Parker of Oakhill was a business visitor in this city Thursday.

Mrs. Wilbur Hughes of near Dilley was shopping in the Grove Saturday.

Mrs. John Bellinger visited with friends and relatives in Portland Saturday.

S. Levi, the butcher of Portland, was a business visitor in the Grove Saturday.

A fine line of brass beds, plain and ornamental at the furniture house of Roe and Co. tf

Mrs. John Wirtz and daughter Miss Reba Macrum, were Portland visitors Saturday.

Stephen Blank, Forest Grove's longest continuous resident, spent the week end in the metropolis.

Austin Buxton of the Watt's district was attending to business matters in the Grove Friday.

Watches, clocks and jewelry repaired in the right way at right prices. Arthur Shearer, Main Street. tf

J. F. Fletcher was in Portland Saturday comparing the growth of the Rose city with that of his home town.

Hugh Walter Sparks, the cartoonist-entertainer, was in Portland Saturday attending to business matters.

Mrs. James Reeher, of Wilson, who has been visiting friends in Washington, returned to her home stopping in this city enroute.

Mrs. Mary Neil of this city will leave soon for Vernonia, thirty miles north, where she will spend the winter with her mother, Mrs. Brice Harker.

$50 cash buys a paid up certificate of scholarship in the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, Pa., good for any $75 course. Inquire PRESS office. tf

Miss Ethel Waters, P. U. '05, who has but recently returned from her work as Deaconess in Fall City, Mass., is visiting Miss Lund of Hillsboro, a former P. U. student.

Frank McKay and family, who formerly lived in this city, going from here to Tacoma, are now making their home in University Portland. Mr. McKay is a railroad man.

Will Bellinger brought into the PRESS office a twig less than a quarter of an inch in diameter, taken from an almond tree in his yard on Fourth street, that has twenty-one almonds on it. The tree will yield several bushels of nuts this year.

Robert Fordneo, a traveling man who makes his home in Portland, was in the Grove Friday. "Bob" lived in this city when a boy but has been away from "the prettiest town in Oregon" for more than a dozen years, and notes many changes.

"A Stitch in Time"—You Know the Rest

Cracked and chipped Varnish on a floor is like a leaky roof. Moisture gets through the break and does damage which it costs a lot of money to repair.

I could prevent such leaks for you and an ounce of prevention is cheaper than a pound of cure. Leave orders at Geo. E. Pater-son's.

CHI-NAMEL

PROFESSIONAL DIRECTORY

W. M. Langley & Son
Lawyers
Forest Grove, Ogn.

J. N. Hoffman
Attorney-at-Law
Collections and all business entrusted to m given prompt attention. Attorney for Forest Grove Collection Agency.
Office-Hoffman Bldg. Pacific Ave.
Ind. Phone 502 Forest Grove

H. W. Vollmer, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon
Office in Abbott Bldg.
Both Phones Forest Grove, Ogn.

O. W. Humphrey
Attorney-at-Law
Office-K. P. Bldg. Phone 644
Forest Grove, Oregon

Dr. O. H. Schaeetz
Chiropractic Spinologist
Specialist in nervous diseases, lung trouble, rheumatism, in fact all diseases.
Office next to LaCourse's store

W. H. Hollis
Attorney-at-Law
Forest Grove, Ogn.

W. Q. Tucker, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon
Diseases of Women A Specialty
Dr. Brown's Old Office
Main Street, Forest Grove, Ore.

Victor H. Limber
Funeral Director and Embalmer
Modern Equipments
Chapel, Forest Grove

Dr. C. E. Bockmann
Chiropractor
Consultation Free
Office next door to Forest Grove Press
Home office: 151 East 28 St., Portland

W. J. R. Beach
Fire and Life Insurance
Written
If you don't insure with me
WE BOTH LOSE
North First Street, near Main
Forest Grove, Ore.

Mrs. M. A. Thomas
Fashionable Dressmaker
Cor. 2nd. St. and 1st. Ave. South
Forest Grove, Oregon

Oregon Electric Time Card

LEAVES	ARRIVES
Forest Grove	at Portland
6:50 a m	8:30 a m
8:40 a m	9:50 a m
10:30 a m	11:40 a m
12:20 p m	1:30 p m
1:40 p m	2:50 p m
4:10 p m	5:20 p m
7:00 p m	8:10 p m
9:45 p m	10:50 p m
LEAVES	ARRIVES
Portland	Forest Grove
7:05 a m	8:15 a m
8:30 a m	9:40 a m
10:20 a m	11:30 a m
12:10 p m	1:20 p m
2:10 p m	3:20 p m
3:30 p m	4:40 p m
5:30 p m	6:40 p m
8:25 p m	9:35 p m

Saturday Only
Lvs Portland 11:30 p m --Ar. F.G. 12:35 a m
Sunday only
Lvs F.G. 3:30 p m --Ar. at Portland 6:00 p m

The "Press" is equipped to do the better kind of printing and we CAN DO IT