Eloquent Georgia Lecturer Scores Liquor Interests

Before an audience that filled the Congregational church to overflowing, Mrs. Mary Harris Armor, president of the Georgia W. C. T. U., Tuesday night spoke on prohibition and the evils of the liquor traffic.

Mrs. Armor is a speaker of much eloquence and power, and was cheered repeatedly at the telling points she made against the saloon. She gave it as her opinion that Oregon would go dry at the coming election, but that to attain that consummation there would be required the united and earnest effort of the church people and all those who had at heart the greater welfare of the state. She said that the speakers for the Greater Oregon Home Rule Association were very careful not to say anything about the saloon, but confined their remarks to trying to show the disadvantages of state-wide prohibition.

Mrs. Armor has spoken in a great many states in the cause of temperance, and stated that in her opinion Oregon is the greatest state she has yet been in; our soil and climate are better and our people more prosperous than in most states. She scored the liquor interests for trying to make capital out of the search clause of the prohibition law. The search law is for the purpose of reaching those who are notorious and willful breakers of the law, and there is no danger of innocent people being subjected to the mortification of having their residences searched at any and all times at the pleasure of the officers.

The speaker said that she had heard she was to debate Mayor Rose in Portland. She said she knew nothing about it, but that if she did she would like to have her Forest Grove audience go down and hear the debate. She had never debated a prominent man but once, and then she felt like she was spanking a sick baby. She said that St. Louis was the most beer-soaked city in the United States, and the beer manufacturers had a lease on the entire population of the Missouri town.

The audience that listened to Mrs. Armor was very enthusiastic and over one hundred and fifty dollars raised to help make "Oregon dry, 1910." Music was furnished by the choir, and Miss Goldie Peterson sang.

Fine Art Exhibit Nov. 2

Much enthusiasm is being aroused among both teachers and pupils in the schools over the coming exhibition of pictures to take place at the K. of P. Hall from Nov. 2 to Nov. 4, the proceeds from which will go toward purchasing pictures for the schools.

The two rooms selling the most tickets to Nov. 1 will be rewarded by a prize picture for each room. The fee is very small and the chance to study some of the old and new art is opportune.

Five exhibits will be given. Three in the afternoon and two in the evening. A program of local talent will also be provided. Teachers and children have taken hold in an encouraging manner. If the people of the city buy tickets freely sufficient funds ought to be raised to enable a number of good pictures to be bought for the school. This will be a move in the right direction as there is a dearth of good pictures in our schools at present.

This exhibit represents some of the best art and includes over 200 copies representing a value of about $2500.

These pictures are of interest to all, both old and young, and they are expected to attract and instruct large numbers of people.

Municipal "Dads" Approve Plan for City Beautiful

The movement started by the Woman's Club of this city for the beautifying of Forest Grove in general and its streets in particular, bore substantial fruit Thursday evening of last week when Councilman Abraham, at a special session of the municipal governing body, presented an ordinance providing for the parking of the city thoroughfares, which was passed by unanimous vote and immediately signed by the mayor.

The ordinance reserves to the city 40 feet in the center of each street for public travel, the balance of each street, except such portion as is used for sidewalks, to be parked if desired. There is nothing in the ordinance of a compelling nature, but property owners are granted the right, and the invitation is extended, to plant grass, flowers, shrubs or trees along the street front of their holdings. Each owner to keep their individual parking in good condition. The ordinance further provides that no trees are to be cut, defaced or removed without the consent of the city council.

P. U. Eleven Suffers Defeat

In a hotly contested match the boys of Pacific went down to defeat before the gladiators of the Hill Military Academy of Portland, Saturday. The score stood 11 to 12 at the end of the last half, and Hill worked hard thru-out to achieve the victory, as the P. U. lads played an aggressive game all the way. Ward, the captain of the University eleven, was taken out with a sprained ankle during the third quarter, which weakened the team somewhat. The most spectacular work of the game was the holding of Hill for yardage for three consecutive downs when the ball was within less than five yards of goal.
