Unless a man lives to learn, he will never learn to live.

It is easier to accept a position than it to hold a job.

Soaking the brain in alcohol does not preserve the mind.

It isn't what you have been but what you are that counts.

A kind word to the cook helps some.

Learn to know others by studying yourself.

As a matter of fact few people reside on Easy Street.

Fools oft rush in where wise men would expect the police.

Things we want seldom please us after we get them.

Figures do not lie but estimates are often misleading.

A woman's tears are the water route to a man's heart.

A man may be on the square and still move in the best circles.

It is easier to look thoughtful than it is to deliver the thoughts.

Free advice is the kind people give away because they have no use for it.

Few men cut their wisdom teeth until after they are married.

Cranky people and busy bees frequently administer stinging reproofs.

And some people gets lots of enjoyment out of the troubles they are to bestow on others.

Don't make the mistake of trying to correct the mistakes of a friend.

How it must jolt a man when he is polite to his wife in public to have her look as if she was not used to it.

Even the homely girl realizes how easy it would be for her to become a duchess if she only had the price.

Washington State has just had its first experience with a jury of six men and six women.

Write this down where you can see it every day. The time to draw business is when you want business and not when you have more business than you can tend to already.

Let us cultivate a public spirit and talk less and do more. Encourage the local authorities to make improvements. Speak up speak well, talk encouragingly of your town and its prospects.
It is these many small considerations that make a town grow right along. Nature has showered upon the Grove some of her choicest blessings, and with unity for the good of our common cause, great will be the result.

A kite will not rise in the world unless it has a heavy tail to hold it steady. Some men need something similar, such as four or five blooming responsibilities and their mother to make them get in and dig and make a showing.

A San Francisco woman identified a body found in the bay as that of her husband and gave it a handsome funeral, some weeks later the husband returned, which shows its a wise woman who knows her own husband.

When you pull down the town that is your home you are pulling down yourself, and when you build up you are building up yourself and neighbor. Try to banish from your mind the vain delusion that all good things are afar off in some other community.
Give your home town all the praise that it can legitimately bear. It will do you no harm and not cost you a cent; and above all patronize home industry as largely as possible.

When you ask a man to subscribe for your paper and he says "I never read much, and besides times are too plagued hard," for God's sake apologize and leave him. Life is too short to teach a jackass how to sing soprano, all gentlemen nowadays read newspapers and lots of them. Show us a man who lives for years in a town or community and never subscribes for the papers published there and we will show you a man whose head is shaped like a piece of pie with the point up and whose ignorance is exceeded only by his gigantic gall.—Ex.
