1. Portraits, baby photos, wedding groups, interiors, exteriors, flash lights, lantern slides, group work, amateur finishing—in fact everything that can be done with a camera is a specialty with this studio. I have lenses suited to all kinds of work, under all conditions, and have a studio second to none in this part of the valley. My work will compare most favorably with the best done in the country. Come in and see samples of my work—no trouble at all to show you. My prices are very reasonable. You cannot afford to neglect having pictures taken of your loved ones. I am on Main Street, where I have on display the finest line of photomounts ever shown in Forest Grove.

Henry Sackrider

2. Our fall stock is up to date. Why? We purchased a large amount of fall and winter hats in the far east. We are still offering those lovely twenty-two inch willow plumes for $10 and the twenty-one inch heavy French plumes for $5. We wish to please you. We are on Main Street. What is the name of our millinery store?

The Paris Millinery

3. This grocery store is the exclusive agency for Carsten's White Swan shortening. It is fresh from the fields, and pure as can be made from cotton seed oil and oleo stearine. No hog fat. It's cheaper than lard or cottolene, selling at $1.10 a 10 lb. pail. I guarantee it, and the big Carsten Packing Co., also guarantees it. I have the Upper-crust and Marvel flours. There are none better. $1.40 a sack, and cheaper in quantity. Best Tillamook cheese, 18¢ a lb. I am selling 700 lbs. of ham a week—speaks for itself. Clossett & Devers have blended a coffee especially for me. It is unexcelled, and I am selling it at 25¢, because I bought it right. I am on Pacific Avenue. Who am I?

4. "Life without industry is guilt; industry without art is brutality" is the motto of this store. In books we make a specialty of children's GOOD READING. We have the latest fiction, the Everyman's Library, the standard authors, a splendid variety of gift books in leather and fancy covers, Nelson's American Standard Bibles, and college and academy book supplies. In fact we have an unexcelled selection of high quality books. Our pictures would be a credit to any home, and we make suitable framing a particular branch of our business. We have stationery from a 5¢ scratch pad to Hurd's and Crane's. Then you may find here college stationery, pennants, etc., kindergarten supplies, some choice bits of hand-painted china, the latest magazines, the finest variety of postal cards this side of Portland and the famous Waterman fountain pens. We hold to Portland prices so far as possible. What is the name of this quality store?

The Book Store

5. The proprietor of this millinery store has been in the millinery business in Forest Grove for the past twenty years. If her material and workmanship were not satisfactory, could she have continued this long? She guarantees all goods to be as represented and has her supply house back of her. Promptness and quick service are specialties here. Her goods, materials and styles come from Frisco and some from eastern states. Hats go from this shop all over the country. Styles here are up to the minute—no old stock is kept on hand. Remodeling done here at very reasonable prices. Located on Main Street.

Mrs. A. E. Dixon

6. From the falling of the giant fir in the mountains of Oregon, through its metamorphosis in the mills and under the skilled hands of the mechanic, till its finish in an American home, the story of the builders is one of inexhaustible interest. The making of a home is a fine art. Men who know what is best in construction and in selection of materials, as well as assisting others to plan for themselves—who can save the people money—are benefactors of the community. This firm is helping create, distribute and increase the wealth of all. The chief patriotism to day is the patronage of home industries, of which this company is a conspicuous example. It has one of the largest pay rolls in the county, and is the friend of the man with a small purse. Our well equipped sawmill is at Banks where we make our own lumber of all grades from the finest of timber.

7. Visitors are welcome here, always. Come in and look our stock over. This store is unusually well lighted and convenient. Our goods are attractively displayed and we invite your careful inspection. All work from this store receives the personal supervision of the proprietor, and everything is absolutely as advertised. Truthfulness is the motto here. The proprietor makes frequent trips to the metropolis to keep in touch with the latest styles. What is the line of business? Oh, of course! This is the high grade millinery store on First Avenue North. What is the name of the proprietor?

Mrs. Bertha Schaefer

8. This is the "quality store." We believe that a satisfied customer is our best advertisement, and make an especial effort to carry a stock of all goods in our lines that will please. We stand back of all articles purchased from us. We have a fine line of cutlery, the well known Canton plows, Blue Ribbon buggies, Old Hickory wagons, Round Oak stoves and ranges and the famous American Fence. We take advantage of all discounts and give our customers the benefits of our savings. We have the Bass Hueter paints, Waterloo Chief gasoline engines, a complete line of shelf hardware, and are headquarters for sporting goods, guns and ammunition, etc. Plumbing and plumbers supplies are a specialty with us. We have lime, cement, sand, windows doors and other builders supplies. Remember that this is the store that saves you money. We are on Main St. Who are we.

9. This up-to-date millinery store aims to give so much value to each customer that she appreciates it and will return bringing others with her. This policy has proven very successful and will be adhered to. The proprietor makes regular trips to Portland, where she remains sometime, copying the imported patterns that prove popular. In that way she is able to give her customers the latest styles from Frisco and the East at a great saving of money. Her customers can wear what they buy here in the East or elsewhere and know they are up to date. Portland people are buying here and saving money, even after paying the expenses of the trip here. Especial effort has been made by this popular millinery to put out an exceptional-value winter hat for $5, which is reflecting credit on the institution. A first class variety is here to select from and special attention is paid to children's hats. A good supply of hair goods, neckwear and novelty lines may be found here on Pacific Avenue.

10. This store lengthens the shopping purse, and gives exceptional qualities in groceries, dry goods, meats, notions—in fact in almost everything except heavy hardware, which is not handled. We have the famous Red Goose school shoes for children and a fine selection of shoes for men and women. We buy and sell produce and make every effort to please. The proprietor of this store has lived in Forest Grove for 20 years—hence he knows what people of this section desire. He has been in his present business 7 years and is making a record as the quality and quantity giver—the man of little prices and good goods. This store handles the Black Cat hosiery, Fitz Overalls, Cooper's men's underwear, Warner corsets and Reese Rubber Goods. Just look at these prices on ladies and misses coats: Those formerly $3.75 to $14.50 for only $1.48 to $6.98. This is the big department store on the corner. If you are not averse to saving money, trade here.
