FOREST GROVE, OREGON, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1911.

No. 48

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Chris Jensen called on the Press this week.

Brice Wilson, of Portland, was in the city Monday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith, of Roy, Sept. 28, a girl.

Born to Rev. and Mrs. John F. Leise, Oct. 1, a boy.

A. R. Lebo and wife made a trip to Portland this week.

F. A. Watrous was a business visitor in Portland this week.

F. J. Miller and daughter, Phyllis, were in Portland, Saturday.

Henry Sackrider of the Forest Grove Studio, was in Portland, Sunday.

Miss Vernal Tatchell, proprietress of the Paris Millinery, was a visitor in Portland, Sunday.

J. R. Callahan, of Patton Valley, was in town Saturday on his way to Portland.

Julius Wehrly moved from South Park to the northwest part of the Grove last week.

Feike Ackerman and Ella F. Allen were married at the M. E. parsonage last Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 27.

F. R. Colburn is building a business house in North Plains and will move there in the near future.

Mrs. J. D. Thomas and daughter, Estella, of near Spokane, Wash., are visiting with Mrs. S. N. Dixon, north of town.

Rev. J. T. Abbott, Supt. of the Eugene District, will fill the pulpit for Rev. Hiram Gould at the M. E. Church next Sunday morning.

Ed Dixon brought a box of nice ripe strawberries to the office this week. They were of the Siberian variety and the berries were of good flavor.

Have you heard about it? Heard about what? The revival at the Christian Church, beginning Sunday. Conducted by Hilton and Shaffer.

Dr. O. C. Hiatt, formerly a dentist here, but now of Raymond, Wash, is in the city shaking hands with old friends. The Dr. looks well and has a good word for the Grove.

At Bunkers: Best Eastern bacon, 20¢; 6 bars laundry soap, 25¢. Try a bucket of white Swan Shortning, and you will use no other. Get our prices on flour in 5 barrel lots.

Carl Clapshaw, Art Beyer and R. E. and Ben Bateman, with their dogs, treed and killed a large black bear just northwest of Gales City, Sunday. The boys had lots of fun and some fine meat.

The petition for the proposed drainage district near Thatcher, which is to be heard Friday of this week will meet with some opposition from parties interested. This is the locality in which some years ago a drainage system was established and defeated by S. T. Crow, who carried his suit to the Supreme Court, where the organization was declared illegal.

THE WEBB-HENDERSON WEDDING

One of the prettiest weddings ever solemnized in Cornelius occurred Wednesday evening, Oct. 4th, at the Methodist Church when Miss Rilla Henderson became the bride of Ernest G. Webb, both well-known residents of this place. The church was tastefully decorated with fir boughs and a large variety of flowers, making a beautiful garden scene.

With the bride leaning on the arm of her father, the bridal party advanced up the aisle to the strains of Lohengren's Wedding March played by Miss Esther Fitch and Miss Oneita Webb sang "O, Perfect Love!"

The bride was gowned in white batiste trimmed with Swiss embroidery and Valenciennes lace and carried bride's roses. She was attended by Miss Vena Webb, a sister of the groom, as maid of honor, and Miss Helen Hansen, as bridesmaid, who were gowned in light blue crepe de chine. The bridegroom was attended by Ed Henderson, brother of the bride.

The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Henry Blake, of Portland, the ring ceremony being used, after which the bridal party marched out to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March and proceeded to the home of the bride's parents, where refreshments were served to over 100 guests.

After the reception the happy couple left on an extended tour of the Puget Sound cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents. They will be at home to their friends after Nov. 1 at their residence on Third St., Forest Grove.—Cornelius Tribune

Married

Hyde-Witt—The wedding of Miss Anna F. Witt and Garnett B. Hyde, of Portland, was quietly solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Anna Witt, in Cornelius, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Justice of the Peace Virgil H. Massey officiated. Only the immediate families were present. The young people will live in Portland where the bridegroom is a mail carrier.

Mrs. R. Bartlett and E. Caustin, of Portland, visited over Sunday with their cousin, Mrs. F. J. Miller. Mr. Caustin is connected with the Portland Savings Trust & Loan Co.

Much stir was noticed in and about the Courthouse at Hillsboro this week on account of delinquent tax certificates issued. Our present Judge says that nothing but fair play will be permitted.

A pleasant surprise was given Mrs. Guy Stockman last evening by several of her girl friends. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable time had. Those present were Misses Jennie Jackson, Laura Davidson, Minnie Martin, Mary Woell, Hazel Stockman and Winona Ogden.

FIRST STEP TOWARD WATERWORKS SYSTEM

At a special session of the City Council, September 28, the first step toward the construction of the proposed water works system in this city was taken when the proposition of A. L. Richardson for engineering services in the preliminaries for and in laying out, designing and construction of the city's proposed waterworks system was accepted. Mr. Richardson comes well recommended. He has been employed by the City of Forest Grove and we are assured of getting a square deal.

At the same meeting an ordinance was ordered drafted, ordering a new sidewalk in front of the J. P. Peterson resident property on Oak Street, also on Main Street across the S. P. Co. depot grounds.

The regular meeting Monday night found but two councilman, J. A. Irmur and Geo. Holscher, the Mayor and recorder present. The following bills were allowed; V. H. Massey, $6.00; Prevost Livery Co., $7.50; Claud Noland, $1.50. Adjourned to meet at call of the Mayor.—Cornelius Tribune

Revival Meetings

The revival services begin at the Christian church next Sunday. The pastor of the church will do the preaching in the meeting, and the noted singing evangelist, A. W. Shaffer of Walla Walla, Wash, will conduct the song service. Mr. Shaffer has been engaged with some of the most noted evangelists of the church and is an adept in his line. He has always given satisfaction. He has assisted the present pastor of the church in other fields.

The topics for the first week of the meetings are as follows: Sunday morning, "Ambassadors for Christ;" Evening, "Heaven, Where, What, Who?" Monday evening, "Satan's First Visit to the World;" Tuesday, "One of Christ's Saddest Utterances;" Wednesday, "The Destinies of Men," illustrated with chart; Thursday, "Devil Bitten;" Friday, "A False Claim;" Saturday, "Making Light." Services begin at 7:30. The song service will be a feature, with specialties each evening. Come and enjoy the services.

Notice

Stamps, coins or your personal check in the sum of $1.00 will pay for a renewal or a new subscription from this date to January 1st, 1913. The balance of this year and all of next for $1.00. Send at once for the Press. Now for another 1000.

This week a deal was made whereby Mr. Humphry, of Corvallis, purchased 70 acres of A. Mead, of Buxton, the land lying between Banks and Buxton. Mr. Mead was represented by Walter Roswurm and Mr. Humphrey by the Oregon Land Co.

Miss Freund who has been on a two weeks vacation went to work last Friday. She visited in Salem and also spent a week in Idaho.

TUNNEL UNDER COUNCIL CREST

Speaking of the proposed tunnel under Council Crest which has been contemplated for some time Marshall N. Dana had the following to say in a recent Sunday Journal, the article being published only in part:

"The Portland-Tualatin valley tunnel commission has been organized. Its members are property owners—Isador Lang, H. C. Campbell, Henry Hewitt, George Joseph, G. F. Johnson—interested for themselves as well as for the city in cutting a direct way to the biggest suburban home opportunity (the broad Tualatin valley) yet remaining in the Portland vicinity.

"The city will not be asked to bear the preliminary expense of the bore, although the commission was appointed by the mayor. By private subscription a sum that will progress between $2500 and $5000 is being obtained and this will meet the cost of expert survey of the tunnel site and the estimates of final appropriation.

"A bond issue by a popularly organized tunnel company will follow and bonded property will be owned by those on both sides who are sure of direct benefits. There are many of these and a 20 to 30 year bond issue of even $3,000,000 would not be a noticeable burden.

"The survey finished, the estimate of cost made, the bonds issued, then actual construction. It is now believed by the tunnel commission that the actual construction may be reached within a year. It is expected that the tunnel will be 6000 feet long.

"The boring of the Council Crest tunnel, entering through Marquam gulch, the mouth of which is in South Portland, about a mile from the business center of the west side, will compel some revolutionary changes.

"Marquam gulch will be nearly filled with the material taken out of the tunnel. The hillsides will be terraced and made into scenic home sites.

"The most important traffic arteries will be made to converge at the tunnel mouth. The Mount Hood and Oregon Electric lines will have common user privileges over Seventh Street. Fifth and Sixth Streets will be occupied by Portland Railway, Light & Power tracks at present, except that service will be made interurban to the homes and towns on the other side of the hills. The S. P. line on Fourth Street, now steam, will be electrified and service quickened.

"With such variety of transit facilities the suburban dweller in Tualatin valley will be able to come to business each morning in 15 to 30 minutes, dependent upon the distance of his place of residence from the south mouth of the tunnel.

"To realize why a tunnel has been dreamed of for so many years, and why popular sentiment and definite plan is making the dreams come true one needs only to follow the laborious present path to the top of the wall-like hills to the south and west of the city. The great valley with

JUBILEE SINGERS COMING SATURDAY

Do you remember those good old days when the colored people would hold a real old-fashioned camp meeting in the grove, and how all the white folks would "gather round" to hear the genuine plantation melodies sung only as the "darker" can sing them? The famous "Nashville Students" will bring back those days, and take you way down South. Their fantastic dances done as the negro alone can do them, their plantation acts and mimicry will be done exactly as the real negro does them and all that means two solid hours of wholesome and invigorating fun and amusement. The Nashville Students will positively be here next Saturday, Oct. 7, at the Tivoli Theater.

Old Union Soldier Is Gone

William Lucian Raymond, aged 76 years, died Friday afternoon at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Ida J. Raymond, at Gaston, after a short illness. He was born in New York, and came to Oregon in early pioneer days. He was a veteran of the Civil War, serving on the Union side. He was never married, and is survived by several brothers and sisters. Funeral services were held Sunday at the Forest Grove Undertaking Parlors, under the auspices of the Forest Grove Post of the G. A. R., with burial in Mountainview Cemetery.

County Treasurer Appointed

E. B. Sappington our city treasurer and townsman, was honored by the appointment yesterday of County Treasurer to fill the vacancy in that office made by the death, last week, of Wm Jackson. Mr. Sappington served as City Treasurer of Forest Grove for two terms and has shown ability in his efficient management of that office. He at once took the oath of office and entered upon his official duties.

E. E. Taylor, of Portland, will deliver an address at the Congregational Church, Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, on the subject of prohibition. Mr. Taylor is State Organizer and Field Secretary of Prohibition. Mr. Schaffner, who will lead the singing at the revival services which begin at the Christian Church Sunday, will be present and direct the singing. The public is invited to attend.

Edward Haek has on display in Bailey's store window a single bunch of tomatoes, consisting of 22 fine smooth specimens, weighing ten pounds.
