Correspondence

Blooming

Alfred Reese was a Portland visitor Friday and Saturday.

Miss Katherine Scheuermann went to Portland to attend to some real estate affairs the last of the week.

Miss Hattie Behling, of Portland, spent Sunday with her parents.

Herman Kamna, of North Plains, was a visitor at Blooming, Sunday.

A number of our young folks attended the dance at Cornelius, Saturday.

P. Reucker, who has been visiting his sons, Henry and Gustave, for the last six weeks returned to his home at Imperial, Neb. Mr. R. may settle here before many years.

Henry Scheuermann is a Portland visitor since Sunday.

Otto Kraus who is attending the Monmouth Normal School, called on his mother and sister the last of the week.

Fred Krahrmer made his regular trip to Farmington, Saturday. We know why.

Edward Krahrmer was elected school director to fill the vacancy caused by the death of H. Huhman.

Ed Demmin and Herman Behrman were down to Portland, Sunday, to see the big ball game.

The Misses Alma and Mary Koch were among the Bloomingites who went to Portland, Saturday.

Wm. Haase is drying his fine crop of prunes.

Fred Haase and family were guests at the Kraus home Sunday.

Henry Behrman's new eight room cottage is under construction, Wm. Behrman and sons doing the carpenter work.

Mrs. H. Huhman and Esther visited relatives in Portland over Sunday.

Echoes from Verboort.

John Seifert, has sold his home place in Centerville, and expects to move temporarily to Cornelius. Mr. Seifert will be regretted in Verboort, where he has been for many years an active and respected member of the Parish.

John Zeis, a farmer from Kansas, is expected to take possession of the farm he purchased in the near future.

Our young graduate has not yet come forth with that promised article on the drinking cup, but noting the fact of his close stay to home in the last week, we are confident that he is at work, and when the matter does once emerge we may expect something amusing, instructive and edifying.

We are informed upon reliable authority that some of our young people are about to organize an old time Literary Society. Whether the assembly of enthusiasts who will convene at the schoolhouse intend giving it such a classic appellation, we are not informed; but that the society will be of a more intellectual turn than our former country gatherings is assured by the fact that those most eager for the work are numbered among our graduates from the ancient town of Centerville and the wide awake settlement of Verboort. We should all wish success to such an undertaking and the old people should not oppose the night gatherings in this case. If the young go out evenings, then let the parents go along.

Victor Legall has returned from Portland for a few days. He intends making headquarters at Cornelius, from which point he will visit Hillsboro and Forest Grove to do work in his line. He expects to spend some time in each week, giving instructions to pupils in art work and painting.

The heaters and ventilators have been installed in the church and school at Verboort by N. A. Frost of the Grove. The heaters in the church proved a decided success last Sunday, not only will the extra large furnaces for the church afford sufficient heat for the spacious building, but the ventilation will prove perfect. We believe that by another year these heaters will be used all over Oregon, especially in all public country buildings.

There was a dance in the Foresters Hall last Saturday afternoon. The commendable part of these days is that they are held in the daytime. When night approaches all are tired from the afternoon hop and return to their homes. Some of the youngsages do not particularly approve of daylight dancing, but in this community the young people have not got it quite all to say yet, and despite their complaints that they are too busy to find time for daylight amusement, there was in evidence a large number of the youths who delighted in the hop.
