not later than Tuesday evening to insure appearance in current issue.

A copy of The Press will be mailed to all advertisers in which their ad appears.

Some people save time so they will have more to waste.

There are still a few people, it seems, who confuse the steam calliope with musical instruments.

About all that can be said in favor of motorcycle racing is that it is dangerous.

Neither does dignity depend on the Prince Albert coat as much as it used to.

Almost any sober man can whip a drunken man, and more of them should do it.

Even society girls sometimes imagine they are pretty busy.
And perhaps they are.

It is hoped the women in heaven won't wear their crowns as high as they do their hats in this world.

The governor of Connecticut rides a bicycle. Connecticut by the way is an old-fashioned state, where the citizens use snuff and wear square spectacles.

Of course we may be overly suspicious, but when a man offers to pay us 52 per cent dividends we should want to know why he doesn't invest his own money.

Bob Burman is advertised as the person who has traveled faster through space than any other human being and lived. Which leads us to ask how fast did Steve Brodie travel when he jumped from Brooklyn bridge?

When the officers of the shoe machinery trust answers the indictment returned against them they will doubtless set up the plea that it is a misfit and anyhow that they been perfectly reasonable in holding up the prices of their products.

It costs a person nothing to speak kindly of the town he lives in, and faith in the future comes absolutely free. That being the case it is strange that so many have only discouraging words for their home town and see nothing but disaster ahead. A man can easily believe that this is going to be one of the finest and most densely populated parts of the country, and is nearly sure to be fulfilled. Knocking and pessimism do not do any good [at all, and boosting and optimism are just as easy to cultivate. They are both habits, and good citizens always develop the boosting habit.

A lazy person is disagreeable enough, but the person who claims to do it all is worse.

Cheer up old man, its not so bad.
Just look the old world in the face, Just drop that look, forlorn and sad,

And grit your teeth and take a brace.

The world is full of faith and hope,

The man who works is bound to win.

Only forget your whine and mope
And rush right out into the din.

Don't be a weakling in the game,
Put on a front and see it thru,

You may not win wealth nor fame,

But you will get about your due.

And when at last your hour is run,

And 'fore you is the long dark night

You'll know your task was bravely done,

That you put up a blamed hard fight.

Veteran Association Meets

We wish to call the attention of those veterans who happened to be absent from the Semi-annual meeting of the Washington County Veteran Association held at Hillsboro on Oct. 5, that it was called to order by Pres. A. B.
Thomas. The meeting was opened by prayer by Comrade Haines.
A portion of the forenoon was devoted to chapel services in commemoration of the late deceased comrade W. M. Jackson, longtime treasurer of Washington County, Commander of Ransom Post No. 69 G. A. R. and Chaplain of this Association, in concluding these services the audience arose and bowed their heads in supplication for a brief time.
After a few brief talks they adjournd to the dining room where the tables were groaning under their load of good things that only the fertile brain of the auxilliary can give birth too.

The program for the afternoon consisted of songs in German of recent importation and English speeches and good stories.

The rendition of a solo entitled "Dropping Out One By One" by the Perine sisters with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Brown brought tears to the eyes of many and no sweeter strains of music have fallen upon the sons and daughters of men since the morning stars sang together than that rendered by those charming ladies of Hillsboro. The program for the afternoon cannot be duplicated. The veterans that attempt to cover in their absence by various excuses surely missed more than a good thing.

The Hall was crowded with a thoroughly appreciative audience and smiles, tears and extravagant encores were the seasoning to a good program. The President ordered the flag draped in mourning for the period of thirty days.
