A man never knows what he can't do until he tries.

A man never finds out how mean he is until he runs for office.

A human being is the only thing on earth that can smile. Use that God-given privilege whenever possible.

Do all traveling shows and entertainments come under the ordinance requiring the marshal to collect tax? If so, watch for results.

The best and bravest men in this world are those who are proud when doing an act of kindness for their old father or mother.

Give your child a good education; see to it that his morals are pure and his nature made submissive to the laws that govern man; having done this you have given him a start in life far in excess of all money value, and a start, of which he will not be deprived.

K. N. Staehr, proprietor of the Bazaar, was in Portland this week replenishing his holiday stock.

J. A. Elder had a pleasant visit with E. E. Lyon, of Portland, Sunday. They were school boys together.

Several weddings are scheduled for St. Anthony's Parish this month and it looks as though Cupid had turned over a successful summer's work into Father Buck's hands.

A series of sermons will be given in St. Anthony's Church commencing with next Sunday evening. They will be on the "Catholic Church and the Sacraments," and of especial interest to non-Catholics. Everyone is cordially invited.

The party given at St. Anthony's Rectory last Thursday evening was very pleasing there being nearly seventy present. Various games were played and after lunch was served by the ladies of the Altar Society several musical numbers were given, the one by Mrs. McEldowney being especially enjoyed. It is hoped that these parties will be given often during the winter.

Lum Sears, of Thatcher, is very sick.

Archdeacon Chambers of Portland will conduct services of the Episcopal Church in the Y.M.C.A. room at the college Sunday at 11 a.m.

State Mutual Insurance Companies met yesterday with the following represented: Oregon Fire Relief of McMinnville, Horticultural of Salem, Mutual Fire and Beaver State, of Portland, Hop Growers and Fire Relief of Butteville, Bankers and Merchants and Pacific Home of this city. Much interest was manifested in yesterday's meeting and the banquet served at the K. P. Hall was one of unquestionable success. About 70 guests were present. The meeting is still in session today.

The Bazaar people are busy getting ready for their holiday trade. The store is beautifully decorated and tables are placed in every available space and loaded down with toys and Xmas gifts for young and old. Large shipments of goods are arriving daily and it worries the old boss, Mr. K. N. Staehr, and his staff to find room for every thing. The building is now so crowded with goods that they are compelled to unpack the boxes outside the back door and carry the goods in one piece at a time, and still it keeps coming. The Bazaar carries by far the largest line of toys and Xmas goods in the county and on account of the fact that they buy direct from the German factories they are able to compete in price and quality even with the largest stores in Portland. A handsome doll worth $25 will be given away Xmas eve as usual.

Geo. M. Littlehales and Bertha E. Schaefer were married by Rev. Bates of Pacific University at the home of the bride in this city Tuesday evening. The bride has for several years successfully conducted a millinery store in this city and has a wide circle of friends. The groom is the son of T. S. Littlehales and has been engaged as clerk in the general merchandise establishment of Hoffman & Allen Co. for several years. He is also interested in fancy poultry, being secretary of the Washington County Poultry Association. The Press joins with the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Littlehales in wishing them many happy years of married life.—No cake.

Favors Local Primary.
Editor Forest Grove Press—
In your paper of October 19th, we noticed an item regarding the nomination of city ticket for Forest Grove by direct primary. I heartily approve the same. If it is good for a city of 2500 or over it is surely just as good for a city of our size. Why not let every voter have a say in nominating a city ticket?
E. W. Haines.

Cherry Grove Locals
(by C. E. Dixon)

Fire destroyed the dairy barn of C. D. Williams Sunday morning. It originated in the hay loft and was discovered by one of the hired hands when he mounted to the loft about 3:30 a. m. to get hay for the horses. The fire gained headway so fast that in less than twenty minutes the entire barn was ablaze. All stock was saved except two colts. A few chickens were destroyed. Neighbors were summoned by telephone and by a hard fight that lasted more than an hour the granary was saved with the loss of a few shingles. About sixty tons of hay, several tons of feed, oats and all the harness and tools stored in the barn, were a total loss.

The snow is gone again. It never was welcome.

Mrs. Harry Williams, of Vancouver, B. C., is visiting with H. R. Bemiss and family this week.

Some repairs were made on the Independent telephone line last week where it crosses the W. V. & Coast R. R. track.

If this paper should poke its nose into some public business that some folks would keep under their hats and ask all about it, don't take it that we are kickers just because of the size of our ears, this we can't help.

Geo. Shepherd, of North Plains, a son-in-law of Mr. Higby, was a visitor in the city this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hoffman and Aileen, were in Portland over Sunday to hear Gypsy Smith.
