Courage and Duty.
To be strong in dull and dreary duty is almost the hardest task a man can face. It is a noble thing to be brave in tragic moments, but perhaps there is something even nobler than that. It is to be brave and glad, and strong, and tender when the sky is gray and when the road is dreary.—George H. Morrison.

For Boarding School.
Napkin rings of hand beaten silver are designed especially for the use of boys and girls at boarding school. They are in an oval shape, about three and a half inches being the largest diameter, and the child's initials will be added for a consideration. The same rings are also sold for holding the baby's bib.

One Source Left.
The president of an eastern college is authority for the statement that the average salary of college professors throughout this country is less than the average wages of the drivers of ice wagons. It is to be hoped that the privilege of mentioning one's compensation as "salary" instead of "wages" is adequate solace to the pedagogic mind.

Origin of Common Names.
Kings in the earliest days were merely "fathers of families," and the word is derived from the same source as "kin." Queen at first meant "wife" or "mother." An earl was an "elder" in the primitive society, while "czar" and "kaiser" are both derived from "Caesar." A dandelion is or once was "dent de lion," meaning the lion's tooth, and vinegar was once "vin aigre," which means sour wine.

Coolness in Extremity.

His Manly Protest.
A tender-hearted youth was once present at an Oxford supper, where the fathers of those assembled were being roundly abused for their parsimony in supplying the demands of their sons. At last, after having long kept silence, he lifted up his voice in mild protest. "After all, gentlemen," he said, "let us remember that they are our fellow-creatures."

VEGETABLES IN A HOTHOUSE

Tomatoes and Lettuce in Greatest Demand and Return Good Profit During Extreme Cold Weather.

It is possible for those in fair financial circumstances to have a garden in the winter, although they may live in cold countries. An ordinary greenhouse and a little care can bring this about. It has been tried with good success. One woman, believing that garden truck could be grown in a greenhouse, undertook the task. Her greenhouse was built 12x18 feet, and was divided into two compartments by a glass partition to control the temperature. Her success is given in her own words:

"In one compartment of my greenhouse I raise tomatoes and string beans, along with a few roses and other flowers requiring a warm house. The second compartment is almost exclusively devoted to vegetables. Almost every variety of vegetable that grows in our gardens may be successfully raised in the hothouse, excepting green corn, peppers, eggplant and such sub-tropical plants. When it comes to money returns tomatoes and lettuce are in the greatest demand, and during cold weather bring splendid prices. Tomato plants can be depended upon to bear from November to June. The plants should be put on the benches in the greenhouse in August or the first of September in rather poor soil, as the blossoms will set sooner. When the first crop is well on, manure should be added, and the application continued all winter and spring to induce new growth, with fresh blossoms and fruit. During the first two months it is necessary to fertilize the blossoms by applying the pollen with a camel's hair brush. When the plants are older it is only necessary to jar the vines every day or so, and the pollen will spread sufficiently. I have found the Freedom, Sutton's Perfection and the Lorillard the best forcing varieties. When the vines grow too freely I prune them thoroughly. The temperature of my tomato house is kept between 60 and 70 degrees."

SHEEP RATION IS IMPORTANT
All of the Various Farm Grains Have Been Used With More or Less Success—Corn as Fattener.

The question for ration for sheep is an important one. All of the various farm grains have been used with more or less success. Corn easily heads the list as the best single grain for fattening lambs. It is especially desirable because it causes the lambs to put on fat rapidly and does not stimulate too much growth as in the case with many forms of concentrated feeds. Barley has also been used to very good advantage. It is about on a par with corn from the standpoint of rapidity and economy of gains, but lacks same in palatability. Wheat and wheat screenings have both been used to fatten lambs. This feed has too much tendency to cause the lambs to grow rather than fatten. When combined with an equal amount of corn the lambs put on fat much more rapidly. Oats is a useful feed, but like wheat is more liable to induce growth than fattening. It should be mixed with corn for best results. Oatmeal, cottonseed meal and gluten feed have all been used in conjunction with corn rations to good advantage. Not more than one-half pound of either oatmeal or cottonseed meal should be fed a lamb weighing from fifty to ninety pounds. While wheat bran in itself is not helpful in putting on fat, it is one of the best feeding stuffs available to use in conjunction with corn or other feeds in getting lambs on full feed. It furnishes bulk, thus prevents the greedy ones from getting too much concentrates and also acts as a regulator of the digestive system.

Bitter Churning.
I usually churn three times a week. Not long since the milk, after standing 24 hours, would become very bitter before souring. The butter was so bad that it could not be used. We commenced feeding the cow potatoes. The milk and butter are now free from the bitter taste, says a writer in an exchange. The utensils have always been kept clean. I now put in a tablespoonful of lime water in four or five quarts of cream. The cream ripens as it should and the butter is sweet. No milk is allowed to stand 24 hours before skimming.

Produce Most Eggs.
Hens that produce not only a goodly number of eggs, but eggs of moderately large size (weighing two ounces each on an average), Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes, Rhode Island Reds, Orpingtons, and Leghorns or Minorcas that are used on egg farms are varieties for the best eggs.

Shipping Fruit.
Do not place your fruit in competition with another by dividing shipments in any market.
Never ship fruit to a market that is overstocked and weak. Your commission merchant will send you daily quotations on a postal card.

When Beecher "Hollered."

Coming home from the morning service one Sunday Dr. Beecher threw himself on a lounge and said, in a tone of deep dejection: "I believe that was the worst sermon I ever preached." One of his daughters protested that she had seldom heard him when he was more energetic. "Oh, yes," was the impatient reply, "When I haven't anything to say I always holler."—The Outlook.

Life's Responsibilities.
The man called to a great work must not waste his life in trivial things. He must not act like the keeper of the lighthouse who gave to the people in the cabins about him the oil which was intended for the mighty lanterns of the sea.—Maeterlinck.

Truth in Old Saying.
There is an old as the hills saying that men who cannot manage their own finances are exactly the ones to look after those of a nation. And because it is too true is the reason why it is an old saying, irrespective as to what Dun or Bradstreet may say to the contrary.

Do You Feel This Way?

It is a remedy prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his wide experience and varied practice.
