Simplifying the Drama.
"No one who has seen a play staged out of doors at night, where the darkness eliminates all need of wing pieces and proscenium, where the characters grow into the light or melt out of it, can fall to be impressed by the heightened, almost dreamlike, illusion," writes Walter Prichard Eaton in the American Magazine. "If, now, you hang in front of a suggestively painted backdrop—a real picture—some negative draperies on either side, eliminating formal wing pieces and sharp edges; if you light this picture from behind the draperies, so that to the audience they tell rather as folds of shadow, leaving between you actors and the audience a transparent region of darkness, as it were, an intangible glass of illusion, you have achieved an effect of possible beauty and increased suggestiveness by the simplest of means. Certainly, by some such method, the production of Shakespeare could be greatly simplified, many of the scenes now omitted restored to the acting text, the 'watts' cut down, narrative made more coherent and rapid."

On Sanity's Border Line.
Experts can hardly define the thin line that separates the insane from the sane. There is a twilight of the mind in which many people buy and sell, love and divorce, marry and give in marriage and live and die. ## YOUNG WIFE SAVED FROM HOSPITAL

Tells How Sick She Was And What Saved Her From An Operation.

Upper Sandusky, Ohio.—"Three years ago I was married and went to house-keeping. I was not feeling well and could hardly drag myself along. I had such tired feelings, my back ached, my sides ached, I had bladder trouble awfully bad, and I could not eat or sleep. I had headaches, too, and became almost a nervous wreck. My doctor told me to go to a hospital. I did not like that idea very well, so, when I saw your advertisement in a paper, I wrote to you for advice, and have done as you told me. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, and now I have my health.

"If sick and ailing women would only know enough to take your medicine, they would get relief."—Mrs. BENJ. H. STANSBERRY, Route 6, Box 18, Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

If you have mysterious pains, irregularity, backache, extreme nervousness, inflammation, ulceration or displacement, don't wait too long, but try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound now.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and such unquestionable testimony as the above proves the value of this famous remedy and should give every one confidence.

Weeds and Bad Roads.
Quite often the worst stretches of the country highway during the winter months are caused by the roadside weeds that were left standing and served to catch the drifting snow.

Encouraging Disease.
Old rotten apples, pears, grapes and prunings serve as excellent winter homes for many insects and bacterial diseases. These "mummies" and prunings should be gathered up and burned.

Right Mating.
The right mating now is like birds that gradually unfold in the spring time and ripen into richness of fruits the coming fall.

DIRTY EGGS CAUSE BIG LOSS

Condition Brought About by Allowing Broody Hen in Same Nest With the Layers.

While there are a few egg producers who take the best of care of their product, the average farmer considers the egg produced on the farm a by-product and makes very little provision for their care, aside from gathering them. A large loss is caused by dirty eggs, the number being enormous, and according to the estimate of Secretary Wilson of the department of Agriculture this money loss to the farmers in the United States amounting to about $5,000,000 annually.

This loss is very largely brought about by not gathering the eggs often enough. In wet weather more dirty eggs are found than at any other time. This is caused by the fact that the hen's feet are often covered with mud or other filth, and in going on the nest to lay she soils the eggs already in the nest.

An insufficient number of nests is often the cause of many of the dirty eggs found. Eggs are laid on the ground and around the hay and straw stacks, and becoming stained, are classed as "dirties." Again, when too many eggs are allowed to remain in a nest some are broken and many of the others become smeared with broken yolks. This condition is often brought about by allowing the broody hens to use the same nests with the layers. On a farm where one nest to every four hens is provided and the nests are kept clean and well bedded, it is found that very few dirty eggs are produced.

After gathering the eggs, care should be taken not to put them where they will become heated, or near oil, onions, or other vegetables, as they readily absorb odors.

Although dirty eggs may be perfectly fresh, they invariably sell as "seconds," and when but a few dirty eggs are mixed with an otherwise fresh, clean lot, they materially decrease the price of the clean eggs.

EASY TO GROW BUSH BEANS

One of Best and Most Popular of Garden Vegetables and Succession of Them Should Be Planted.

Bush or dwarf beans are easy to grow and are one of the best and most popular of garden vegetables. A succession of them should be planted and be coming on from the very earliest summer till after the first frosts of autumn. Beans of all kinds are somewhat tender and are easily killed by late spring frosts yet they are easily and cheaply planted and risk should be taken in planting extra early. If the first crop happens to be caught by frost, it is a very easy matter to plant the same space over again and little will be lost by the trial, as one preparation of the soil will serve for a succession of crops.

For bush beans prepare the ground early in a dry condition, working it down to a very fine and even seed bed. Make the surface soil especially fine and loose, since the bean sometimes has difficulty in coming up in three or four days. Give the young plants clean and light surface cultivation to conserve soil moisture. A three or four shovels horse cultivator may be used, but never in them while the vines are in the least wet or moist, as this will bring on disease. Plant a succession, about three weeks apart, up to the last of August in central latitudes. Pick the beans clean while they are green regularly and the vines will bear longer. If beans are allowed to ripen on the vines the vines will soon die.

Providing Dry Crops.
Set your brood coops a few inches above the surrounding ground to insure perfect dryness. A coop that is thus treated will always be dry if it is rain and water proof. Make all coops wind and water proof with tar paper. There is nothing so harmful to young chicks as dampness. Bank up the coops and dig trenches, so all water will run away from them. Many coops are set so that the water that falls on their roofs and the surrounding ground runs beneath them. No hen can keep a brood warm in such coops. Any coop will get wet in rainy weather if the floor is lower than the surrounding surface of the ground.

Cow to Feed to Advantage.
When feed is scarce or high in price do not stuff the old stripper to bring up her milk flow. A spring fresh cow can rarely be made to give a good flow of milk at this time of the year. Milk this cow if you want to, but it is not worth while to try to force her by feeding. The cow fresh this fall or the cow coming fresh now is the one worth feeding.

Turkeys in Hawaii.
In the mountainous districts of Hawaii wild turkeys are very numerous, and form an important resource for the wandering camper. They are, of course, imported American turkeys gone wild. Some of the stockmen liberated domestic turkeys, and they promptly took to a bold life and are thriving excellently, their only foe apparently being the mongoose, which ultimately will prove their undoing. This simply shows how readily domestic stock harks to wild life when given an opportunity.

The burning of tobacco was an expression of man's homage to him just as the burning of spices, such as frankincense and myrrh, has been in the Orient since time began. Among the Indians from Hudson's Bay to Cape Horn the plant was regarded as sacred, hence the present use, "divine" weed.
