Whoever named it, named it well,
A bar to manliness and wealth,
A door to want and broken health,
A bar to honor, pride and fame,
A door to darkness and to shame A bar that shuts from useful life, A door to brawling, senseless strife,
A bar to all that's true and brave,
A door to every drunkard's grave,
A bar to joy that home imparts, A door to tears and broken hearts,
A bar to heaven and door to hell, Whoever named it, named it well.We'll bar this Bar from every State By 1920—mark the date.Listen to what John F. Cunneen says of our Nation's School of Vice, the saloon. It is a school wherein sons learn to dispise the quiet, pure joys of home; to become vile in word, in act, in aspiration, to fetter themselves body and soul with the drink demon's chain. To license then, this liquor traffic, means to surrender to an evil. No license means war against an evil. Surely good and true men will not surrender to an evil.It is certainly a grand tribute to a people to vote out the saloon, and the greater the majority against the saloon the greater the tribute to the people.NATION-WIDE PROHIBITION BY 1920.To America, the birthplace of the local, State, National and World's Woman Christian Temperance Union, we hereby proclaim that within a decade prohibition shall be placed in the Constitution of the United States; and to this end we call to active co-operation all temperance, prohibition, religious and philanthropic bodies; all patriotic, fraternal, civic associations and all Americans who love their country!—Lillian M. N. Stevens, President National W. C. T. U., Sept., 1912.I say that the saloon is the labor union's mortal enemy and that unionism will never rise to its proper place, and will never stand erect in pride and power if it allows the liquor traffic to hang around its neck and strap upon its back this cursed thing which men call the saloon.—Rev.
Father James E. Cassidy.I wish well to all trades but with a reserve. I hope the baker may bake and sell more bread.
I hope the clothier may sell more yards of cloth and make more coats. I hope every farmer may sell more wheat. But I cannot say in my heart and conscience that I hope the brewer may brew more beer, or the distiller distill more spirits, or the publi-cans sell more of both. The prosperity I wish to this one trade is that it should cease.— Cardinal Manning.SAVE THE BOY!Have you a boy to spare?
The saloon is a great factory and unless it can have 2,000,000 from each generation for raw material some of these factories must close. One family out of every five must contribute a boy in order to keep up the supply.
Are you voting to help the liquor traffic, or are you voting to save the boy?DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 5.—
"Father" John Russell, founder of the Prohibition party and the oldest Methodist preacher in the Detroit conference, is dead at the home of his daughter in this city. He was born in Livings-ton County, New York, in 1822.
"Father" John Russell was twice at the head of the Order of Good Templars of the World.
In 1872 he was the party's first candidate for Vice President.WE CAN STOP IT.The whiskey power in this country comes before the people and says, "Oh, but you cannot stop it; you cannot prohibit us from carrying on this business, we are too strong. Now regulate us; license us and regulate us." I want to know what that means. If I would come along your streets and hold you up and say, "I am too strong; you cannot prohibit me. Now license me to rob, to steal, to murder"— if I were to go to your county courts or anywhere else and make that demand it wouldn't take very long to dispose of my case. And yet these saloons are demanding, because they are so strong, that they shall send 152, 000 people to drunkard's graves every year in this country, and say, "You cannot prohibit us from doing this, but you can license us and regulate us."FOREST GROVE MASONS ENTERTAIN-ED ROYALLY BY PORTLAND LODGEThe members of Forest Grove Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, who attended the session of Washington Chapter, of Portland, Saturday evening last, as guests of that body, were entertained in a manner which will remain a pleasant memory for some time to come. E. W.
Haines and Judge W. H. Hollis, of the Forest Grove contingent, were called upon for remarks by the toastmaster at the banquet which followed the business of the evening, and replied in a happy and entertaining vein, which brought forth much applause from the assembled brothers.SOUTH PARK GROCERY
