DEVOTED TO THE W. C. T. U.

Edited by Mrs. Katherine R. Kerr

Mrs. Reynolds, County President of the W. C. T. U. of Washington County is planning active work in Cornelius Hillsboro, Gaston and other places. See to it, White Ribbon Sisters that we respond to the call if she asks for our help—"Lend a Hand" is one of our mottoes of the W. C. T. U.

We urge all to come and hear Mrs. Barber's talk on Girl's work and her methods on Friday at the Methodist church. All mothers have a special invitation to be present and enjoy the talk at 3 p. m. Friday.

We are planning for a very pleasant time at our New Year's reception January 3.

Sisters—If there are any among us who feel that their talent is not needed, or that they have little available talent, it is to such that I appeal, listen. There is no un-needed talent, and none without talent. The problem is to fit our talent, such as it is into the places of need, this is the secret to success, this means good, happy and successful work. Shall we as White Ribbon workers enjoy it all together in the year 1913? We surely have ground for greater courage at this time than ever before.

Many Fathers who discuss political issues at home speak very harshly of the rulers of our Nation, and it is very intemperate language in the presence of growing boys and girls.

And if the boy does not learn the lessons of national pride and patriotism in his home he is learning lessons of an opposite character. I do not say public men and measures should not be criticised. But why not be fair and truthful. A great many American boys have little respect for parents, teachers or public authority. And as a consequence our penal institutions are filled by criminals varying from 17 to 30 years of age.
