Heart Disease Claims Lad Hollis on Bridge Committee.

It is with deep regret that we publish the news of the death from heart failure of Fletcher Reed Morrison, the 17-year old stepson of O. Colpitt, who was called by the grim reaper Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. The young man had just successfully passed the eighth grade examinations of the Forest Grove public schools, and was preparing to enter into the vast game of life in real earnest when the call to the great Beyond so unexpectedly came. Rev. Hiram Gould conducted the services at the residence on the Thatcher road, Tuesday, and interment followed in Forest View cemetery. A mother, four brothers and one sister, survive. Many friends and acquaintances also mourn for the departed.

SALEM, ORE.—Through the resignation of Senator Moser as a member of the special Senate committee to act in conjunction with the House committee to meet with a like committee from the Washington legislature to discuss the question of the proposed interstate bridge. President Malarkey has appointed Senator Hollis to take Senator Moser's place. Senator Hollis attended the session at Portland and Vancouver Tuesday.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. S. Allen, instead of Mrs. H. N. Robinson, who was too ill to act as hostess. Mrs. Allen entertained in her usual generous style.

The Ladies' Working Society of the Christian church will serve a Washington's birthday supper, February 21, commencing at 8 p. m. Adults 35 cents, children over 12 years 20 cents. 13-4t

EGGS OF GROVE SHIPPER BROKEN IN U. S. MAIL

Following some experiences of a more or less disastrous nature in the shipment of eggs through parcel post, George A. Rosenberg, of this city, a poultry dealer, was in Portland Saturday to take up with the postmaster the matter of more care in the method of handling parcels containing perishable goods.

"It is only 25 miles to Portland from Forest Grove," he said, speaking to a Journal reporter "and the eggs I sent were packed in cartons of double corrugated cardboard, each egg wrapped in cotton and placed in a separate compartment. In spite of these precautions, on several occasions, the eggs have arrived at their destination broken.

"This is, I think, due to carelessness in handling them. In Europe the parcels of perishable or fragile goods are not handled in mail sacks, but in big wicker baskets, and they encounter none of the troubles that I have just experienced. I believe that the postal authorities in the United States will have to adopt the same methods before shipment of such things as eggs through parcel post can be made entirely practicable. In a mail sack, thrown about carelessly as though they were made of scrap iron, no matter how well an egg may be packed, there is always danger of its being broken.

"Another change in the parcel post that I believe to be necessary before it reaches the highest usefulness as a means of bringing farm products direct from producer to consumer is a lower rate in the first zone. With the rates that obtain at the present time, the cost of packing and shipment is so great that the expense to the consumer is not materially reduced on shipments that come into Portland from outer districts. I believe that if the rate within the zone were lowered, we should see the volume of shipments of farm produce direct to the consumer more than doubled within a very short time."

Shriners Will Meet Saturday.

Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, Al Kader Temple, of the Portland oasis, who have their camps in this locality, are making arrangements to join the caravan which journeys to the Rose city Saturday for participation in a ceremonial session of the Temple that evening. At that time a large class of neophytes will be led bare-footed across the burning sands of the desert on a pilgrimage whose goal is Mecca where all the good Shriners worship in answer to the muezzin call.
