The club house and office building being constructed by Captain C. P. McCann on the old Washington County Fair association grounds is rapidly nearing completion and will soon be ready for occupancy, when the Captain will move his headquarters from the Abbott building to the track. The club house has two large rooms on the ground floor, one of which will be fitted up as an office and the other furnished as a lounging and reading room, with writing desks, easy chairs, and other comforts for the convenience of horsemen patronizing the park. A file of daily newspapers, turf and breeding publications, monthly magazines, etc., will be kept on file. Upstairs, extending across the entire front, a covered gallery has been provided, which will be used by the owners and their friends as a place from which to view the races, undisturbed by the crowds in the stands and field.

Graft in Burial Lots.

Hillsboro, Ore.—Recent investigations have disclosed that burials have been made in unsold lots in the local I. O. O. F. cemetery. Officers of the lodge having the cemetery in charge recently completed a checking-up of the lots and were amazed to discover that burials had been made in lots not yet sold and in at least one case that an interment had been made in a lot belonging to a family, which supposed that it was vacant except for one body buried years ago. No record of the burials can be found and they are supposed to have been made by non-residents. There is a possibility that the graves were sold by an unauthorized person, and while no charges are made suspicion is cast in the direction of a former employe, and it is known that in the case of at least one interment this man admitted responsibility and promised to have the body removed. An effort is being made to discover the identity of the bodies.

Identification was made by the number of the revolver, which was 27,170, a Colt's police special. Forest Grove Gets First Blood.

By a score of seven to two the Forest Grove High school nine was victorious Saturday over the McMinnville High school in the opening game of the Washington-Yamhill county league, played on the college diamond. Hamilton on the mound opened for the locals, but because of wild pitching, allowing five men to perambulate and giving the visitors an unearned run, he got the hook in the second. Ireland, who replaced him, held the McMinnville aggregation down to a few scattering hits and one run. Arthur Ireland was behind the sack for Forest Grove. Parker and White did the honors for the visitors. Wednesday, April 30, Newberg will try conclusions with Forest Grove on the local grounds.

Dubious as to Friedmann Cure.

Hillsboro, Ore.—Dr. J. P. Tamiesie, who has just returned from a four months' foreign tour, was welcomed home by a banquet at the Hotel Washington Friday night. Plates were laid for 60 and those present included close personal, business and professional friends. H. V. Gates, of Portland, formerly of Hillsboro, presided as toastmaster. During his absence, Dr. Tamiesie visited the leading hospitals of London and Paris and met many men prominent in the scientific world. He says these men do not take the Friedmann tuberculosis cure seriously and that previous to the announcement of his discovery the doctor was little known. Upon returning to New York Dr. Tamiesie visited the Mount Sinai hospital, where patients who have been given the serum are under observation, and after a personal examination and study of the history of the cases since receiving the treatment, he is skeptical as to its merit. He defends the attitude of the medical profession regarding Dr. Friedmann's claims by saying that if the bars were let down and indiscriminate treatment permitted without careful investigation being first made the medical profession would be held responsible in case of failure and the anti-vaccinationists and others given another argument.
