WHERE LOVE IS SENT

Dexter Chose a Girl Who Didn't Know Beans.

By SUSANNE GLENN.

"It beats me," Grandmother Grey invariably remarked, whenever wedding bells disturbed the quiet atmosphere of Chasefield, "why Dexter Han- eat! son doesn't marry. Half the young folks that get married round here ed at the kettle in distress. Where haven't a cent to their names, but they seem as happy and cheerful as kings and queens. And Dexter has a fine farm all stocked ready for him, and his Pa and Ma just aching to move to the village.

"He's good looking enough, the girls seem to like him, and he's been pestering after them ever since the first day he went to school. It beats me!

It "beat" many a pretty young country girl who secretly thought of Dexter's handsome face and easy manners, too, as well as many a designing mother who thought more about the farm that was his for the taking.

When some of the most daring asked him, straight out, why he did not marry, he always laughed pleasantly: "When I find a girl as smart as my mother I'll think about it!"

"But you know," Mrs. Hanson said mildly, "I was not always as capable as I am now, Dexter. I had to learn by experience just like everyone

"You're the best girl I know of, at any rate," her handsome son always replied, and with that she was forced to be satisfied.

Mrs. Hanson returned from the misslonary meeting one early summer afternoon very much excited. "Father," she said, "I've taken a boarder for the mind about it. I declare I spoke right out before I thought, and then I hated to go back on my word. The minister had a letter from a minister friend from the city saying that some nice girls from his church wished to come out here for the summer; working girls, you know, who haven't much money to spend, and who want to stay with a private family.

"I picked out a teacher. Her name s Moily Prescott. I've always wanted a girl round the place you know, father," she added hesitatingly.

"Of course you can do as you like, but it don't seem necessary for you to take in boarders, mother," answered Mr. Hanson, heartfly.

Dexter smiled over his mother'

He smiled again when he was com missioned to meet the young teacher at the station. "Mother thinks she will try city girls on me for a change," he said with a laugh as he drove away.

The girl on the platform looked white and timid. Her lovely dark eyes seemed to question him anxiously. "Would you like to drive?" he asked, as he helped her into the carriage. I am not accustomed to horses," she see anyone at all!" added apologetically, "and this one seems so large and strong."

Dexter gathered up the reins almost Impatiently. "Mother will have a nice time of it looking after her all summer," he thought. And he said very little on the homeward drive.

"Dexter," said his mother several weeks later, "I can't see what you dislike about Molly. She's the dearest girl I ever knew!" "I never cared over much for vines mother. I've always preferred something that could stand up by its own strength." "Whatever do you mean, Dexter Hanson? Molly was left alone when she was a little girl, and she educated herself and fought her own way in that dreadful, unfeeling city, until I wonder where her courage came from!"

"Yet she's afraid of cows and little reen snakes," observed Dexter, teasingly

"Just as I'd be afraid on the city streets at night, because I am not ac customed to them. And Dexter, I wish DONOR'S FEELINGS ARE HURT you would not say so much about girls who can cook and sew and drive Man Who Gave $1.000,000 to a New horses-she feels it, poor child. She has wanted to learn from me, but I stell her to keep out in the sunshine when she has a chance.'

"Of course I was only in fun, mother, but if she is too sensitive even to as it were, and without warning, a doke. I'll certainly desist," he and few months ago a bundle of securities swered with a provoking smile.

Still he was kinder to the girl in a she seemed to shrink to his mother's to the judgment of the trustees withprotection

"Do you suppose you could get supper for Dexter and Mr. Brady tonight?" show you where to find the things."

dear Mrs. Hanson," cried the girl, ber of the board. smiling in spite of the sinking of her

To stay alone without a person in man who thought a girl ought to know how to cook! Molly never heard a word of what son lifted the cover of the kettle at of them by the sleeve and drew him the back of the stove. "You can put on these beans, Molly, them boiled down like this." Left to herself, Molly carefully lock- get into the museum today." ed every door, and cowered in the darkened kitchen. An hour dragged by, and then a step on the flagged walk outside seemed to cause her cate to maintain a laboratory in which grafting wax, it is much cheaper and Peeping through the curtain she beheld the two ragged children who often came to see Mrs. Hanson.

"Oh, come in," she cried, dragging them in joyously. If only she could keep them with her! Conversation dragged, but the children looked pinched and hungry. "Do you like warm beans?" she asked suddenly as they became uneasy.

Their expression was enough. Molly dished beans lavishly, and spread big slices of bread and butter. Never had she so much enjoyed seeing anyone

But when they departed, Molly lookwas the men's supper?

"I'll look in the pantry," she cried at last with a happy thought. "I must not let Dexter Hanson laugh at me!"

There was a big bowl of late roses in the center of the supper table, and Dexter had to own to himself that he liked the innovation.

He had to own too, that the girl in the white frock, with the rose-flush in her cheeks, make a fascinating picture as she poured the tea.

He noted the nervous flutter of her pretty fingers, and his heart smote "Mr. Brady was in a hurry to get home, so he did not stop for supper," he explained, helping himself generously to the tempting beans. Molly, glancing at him, noted the astonished look when he placed some of the beans in his mouth. She hastily tasted her own; in the tender lusclousness, her teeth encountered one -two-hard, unresisting objects.

The blood pulsed in her cheeks, and she pressed her hands over her eyes, breaking into nervous sobs.

Dexter rose quickly. It was very annoying to have a woman cry! Still he went hastily round the table and put his hand gently on her shoulder. "Don't feel so badly," he murmured awkwardly, looking down at her. The 2 by 4 inches. The cross arms are summer-I hope you are not going to takable charms seen so alluringly braced by wire running from the ends rose hurriedly.

to have attempted it-I ought to have the middle wire and tied to it. known I did not know how!" she cried. Her bitterness showed him how much he had hurt her.

it-dear!" To his joy, the unexpected tendersoft hair beneath his lips, her tender cheek pressed against his shoulder.

"Those poor Fraley children came," supper. Then I thought I would put in more beans-I did not know it took so long for beans to cook!"

"I did not know it myself, dear,"

he declared solemnly. "And I wanted to keep the chil- fancy table varieties. dren because-Dexter, I was afraid here, all alone! I know it seems silly to you, but I'm used to living where I can call the police at any moment, and | Common Error Is to Choose Soll That "Oh no!" She looked quite alarmed. It seems so dreadful not to be able to > course it does, Molly wonder you are afraid, but you'll get accustomed to it.

"Sweetheart, I can't let you go back to the city. Will you stay here-with Miss Prescott, meekly. "Mother will love to teach you." "And I am afraid of cows-and of those great, high-headed horses."

and you have no need to go near them | the goods. alone.

"But no sensible farmer man would want such a wife—I'm not nearly as is a block of winter Nellis pear trees brought him with you? smart as your mother."

"Don't tell her so, Molly. She thinks you are the bravest girl in the world." to a thousand dollars per acre, says know you have chosen a girl who more emphatically demonstrated the doesn't know-beans?"

"Molly," he cried, kissing her, 'they will never know it!" (Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press.)

York Museum Had to Pay to Enter the Building.

The Metropolitan museum of New York city received out of the blue sky, aggregating about a million dollars. the income of which was not to be used patronizing sort of way, from which the benefit of the museum according out a single condition. The donor was one of New York's quiet, little known Croesuses-or Croesi, if that sounds asked Mrs. Hanson one day after the any better. Upon recovering their early dinner. "Father and I have got breath the trustees conferred one with to go to town and can't possibly get another as to how they should show back. I'll leave everything ready, and their appreciation of this remarkable munificence. No better way occurring "Oh, I shall be glad to do it for you, to anybody, they elected him a mem-

He accepted and, arriving late at his first meeting, took a seat in a quiet corner and listened to proceedings with 216 inches apart and rivet spikes in sight-and to get supper for the young intelligent interest, but without com- them. A board with large nails, havment of his own. At the close of pro- ing a long handle attached will also ceedings, as the trustees were about to answer the purpose, but not so well separate and go their different ways, as the shovel. was being said to her until Mrs. Han- the donor of a million plucked one aside.

"Say," he said, glancing nervously They'll keep warm, and the men like around to make sure that he was not and is still in good condition. One aren't!-London Opinion. overheard, "I had to pay 25 cents to part of crude petroleum to three Move for Pure Flour. Paris bakers have formed a syndiheart to turn a complete somersault. all their flour is scientifically tested.

TRELLIS FOR HOME VINEYARD

of Cultivation and Permits One to Pass Between Rows.

A grapevine trellis described by the Iren that has just moved into the Rural New Yorker, from which this neighborhood. ut and description are reproduced, has a middle wire which goes through oles in the posts. The middle slot the two outside wires run through slots in the cross arm for two inches rom the ends.

The cross arms are 1 by 4 inches for all but end cross arms, which are soft waves of her hair took on unmis- nailed to the posts, and should be of the cross arm, and then down to Choking back her sobs, the girl the post 18 or 20 inches below the arm. The stem of the vine is brought "I ought to have known better than to a height a little above the level of

Trellis for Grapevine.

Two canes that develop near this evel the present year are left next fall, and next spring are tied to the "Molly, Molly," he said, folding her right and left along this middle wire. suddenly in his arms. "Tell me about | Two short spurs are left near this location to furnish bearing wood for the year following, and all else removed. ness of his manner broke down her The shoots developing from these reserve and she sobbed softly-it grow out and over the outside wires, justified his comforting her. It was making a canopy, the fruit hanging in certainly very satisfying to feel her a natural position beneath, and protected from the sun.

This trellis simulates the position of the wild vine more nearly than any she whispered, "and they looked so other. The growth is out of the way hungry that I gave them most of our of cultivation, good drainage is insured, and one can pass readily from row to row. This trellis is recommended for the home vineyard. The expense of construction makes it prohibitive commercially except

SELECTION OF ORCHARD SITE

Is Too Rich for Apples-Wood Is Not Wanted.

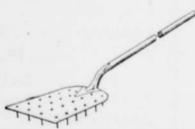

A common mistake in the selection of a site for the apple orchard tract, large or small, is that of choosing a soil that is too rich; that will cause abundant growth of wood, but mighty "But I cannot cook," murmured little fruit. In the valley in which the writer's ranch is located is an orchard of mature apple trees, as pretty a sight from a standpoint of foliage as one could ask to see, which has lately "You are not afraid with me dear, been felled because it did not deliver

The tract is fat, rich and well wa tered. Within a gunshot of this tract of the same age that for several years past have grossed their owners close make an enlargement from this .--"What will your friends think to a writer in an exchange. Never was fact that soil can be too rich for apples but not for pears. Within a mile of these unproductive apple trees. on thinner and lighter granitic soils, the apple trees bear prolifically to the should have seen how mortified she point of breaking down.

HANDY LITTLE GARDEN TOOL

Implement for Pulverizing Soll Can Be Made of an Old Long-Handled Shovel, as Shown.

A handy garden tool for pulverizing the soil can be made of an old longhandled shovel, as shown, says the Popular Mechanics. Heat the shovel

Earth Pulverizer for Gardeners

and flatten it out, drill holes about

For Tree Wounds.

In California the following mixture parts of resin; warm in separate dishes, mix and apply warm to cuts made by pruning or by vultivator injury. While this mixture is not better than day. is worthy of trial,

TOT'S IDEA OF REFINEMENT

Children of Parents Who Had Just Moved Into Neighborhood Were Owners of Automobiles,

Little Virginia, seven years old, recently started to private school and is hearing many things about culture and refinement. Her mother is very careful about the children with whom Virginia plays and wishes to know all about them before intimacy is permit-Contrivance Holds Vine Out of Way ted. The other day Virginia had been playing with some children. "What children?" asked mother She was told about some new chil-

"But," said mother, "you know have told you not to play with chil- ground, will produce a large onion. dren unless I know them and say it is This method of producing onions is these children." "But, mother, they are perfectly cultured and refined."

tured and refined?" asked the mother, amused. "Well, they have two automobiles in that family," replied the small one with decision.

The Remedy. Not long ago Lord Kinnaird, who is always actively interested in religious work, paid a surprise visit to a mission school in the east end of London and told a class of boys the story of Samson. In concluding his narrative his lordship added:

"He was strong, became weak and him to destroy his enemies. Now, boys, if I had an enemy what would you advise me to do?"

A little boy after meditating on the secret of that great glant's strength shot up his hand and exclaimed: "Get a bottle of 'air restorer."-The Tat-

WELL INFORMED.

De Quiz-Is the correspondent on that publication a well informed man? De Whiz-I should say so. Half the time he's the only person in the world who knows whether what he tells is true or not.

Appreciative Sol.

Solomon Pitman, a backwoodsman, had been caught on the jury in town and was boarding with a lady who was running a cheap boarding house. Sol was eating, she said: "Sol, that butter cost me 25 cents a pound." "Yes, ma'am," said he, taking another large slice, "and it's worth every cent of it."-National Monthly.

A Strain on Art.

Fond Mamma-Here's a photo of my little boy when he was a baby, and I want you to make one of him as he is now

Photographer - But haven't you F. M .- No; I thought you would Disgraced. Mrs. Tinkle-They say that Mrs. Neaurich is becoming more proper every day. Mrs. Dimple-Yes, indeed; you was a while ago when she learned that her husband owned common stock a railroad .- Satire

The Wicked Motorman.

"A motorman played a mean trick on a woman yesterday."

"How was that?"

"Just as she was about to get off his car backward he suddenly reversed it, and before she realized what his fell design was, she got off the car in the proper manner."

Running Smoothly. "No," said Mr. Dustin Stax, "I never interfere in politics."

"Why not?" "Because I have the affairs of my particular community so competently supervised that I don't have to."

Uncertain. "Have you ever loaned Brown any maney?" "I don't know."

He Knew.

"I transferred some to him, but I'm not sure yet whether he considers it a loan or a present."

Young Bachelor-I often wonder if I'm making enough money to get married on. Old Benedick-Well, I don't know

Day and Night Boys.

the one of tonight. He's a peach,

PRODUCTION OF ONION SETS

Industry Is Now Receiving More Gen eral Attention Than Formerly -Market Is Wide.

(By W. R. BEATTIE.) The term "set," as applied to the onion, indicates a small, undersized tures are not suitable for hot weather. bulb which, when replanted in the and where an early crop is desired.

Onion Sets Drying on Trays Piled in a Field.

thus procure a great number of bulbs then regained his strength, enabling that are undersized, owing to crowding and lack of plant food. The greater number of these bulbs do not attain sufficient size or maturity to produce seed the following season and are really plants in which the process of growth has been arrested.

In the United States the onion set industry is largely confined to a few areas. The crop is extensively grown near Louisville, Ky., Chillicothe, O., and Chicago, Ill., in the Platte River valley of Nebraska, in southwestern New Jersey and in southern California. It. The entire area devoted to this enterprise in these localities is estimated at from 2,500 to 3,000 acres. The yield to the acre varies with the locality, but the average about 300 bushels. The market for onion sets is found throughout the entire country, the greater portion being disposed of in small quantities.

the production of onion sets are practically the same as those for standard onions, although it is not necessary to with French dressing seasoned with plant quite so early in the spring. Onion sets can undoubtedly be grown in any part of the northern states obtained. The soil adapted to onion should not be so rich.

SET ALFALFA BY MACHINERY

Experiments Made in Transplanting by Use of Machine Used for Tobacco and Tomatoes.

Prof. H. A. Hansen of North Dakots who has introduced many hardy Astonished at the amount of butter plants from Siberia for the department of agriculture, among them ter with a machine, using one emhe set them with a plow. He thinks in the center of the cheese. this will do away with dodder and injury from disking. Some of the Russian alfalfa plants when given room in the garden had 500 shoots from one crown. Over 1,200 farmers are cooperating with Professor Hansen and their remarkable resistance to the drought of last year.

LETTERS FOR MARKING BAGS

Initials Can Be Made of Beets or Potatoes-Ordinary Shoe Blacking Used as Ink.

An initial marker for bags can be made of a beet or potato. Cut off enough of the vegetable to provide a flat surface of sufficient size and then cut out the letter as shown in the sketch, from the Popular Mechanics. and use shoe blacking as ink. In cutting, remember that most of the letters must be made reversed in order to print right. For example, in making a B, draw it out on paper and cut it out, then lay the face of the pattern on the flat surface of the vegetable and cut around it.

Initial for Bags.

Average Fertilizer for Corn.

Use 800 to 1,000 pounds per acre was used on trees three years ago how much you're making, but you of a fertilizer containing, actual potash, 9 per cent.; available phosphoric acid, 7 per cent.; and nitrogen, 2 per cent. The plant food in a ton Grandma-Be careful, Clare! I don't of the above formula may be supplied think much of the young men of to by mixing 360 pounds of muriate of potash, 1,000 pounds of acid phos-Clare-Well, just wait until you see phate and 260 pounds of nitrate of before serving. roda

SALADS FOR HOT DAYS

CONCOCTIONS THAT WILL TEMPT POOR APPETITE.

When Heavy Meat Dishes Are Out of Place These May Be Used to Advantage-Both Cooling and Nourishing. The appetite jaded by heat may be tempted by salads only when those salads are seasonable. Heavy meat concoctions and most of the fish mix-

The ideal summer salad has three requisites-it must be light, appetizing in appearance and icy cold. sets down over the middle wire, while all right. I don't know anything about perhaps the oldest and now the most dressing is more seasonable than mayuniversally employed for the growing onnaise, also more digestible, and of small areas of onions in the garden fruits and vegetables are preferable to nuts, fish or meats. It is hard to "How do you know they are cul- The common method of producing sets get headed lettuce in summer, but if is to plant a large quantity of seed on the young, tender leaves of the gara small area of rather rich land and den lettuce are crisped by being put in a cloth on the ice they are improved. Salad being both cooling and nourishing, may be eaten at both lunch and dinner. To prepare it easily have lettuce always crisping in the refrigerator and also have a pint bottle filled with a thick French dressing. This should be well shaken before using, and any left in the salad bowl may be strained and poured back,

It is economical to use left-over vegetables and fruit from dinner of the previous day. Particularly nice is one made of tomatoes cut in eighths, asparagus, shredded green peppers, thinly sliced cucumber, a cake of Neufchatel cheese and a liberal supply of Chili sauce. This is well marinated with French dressing flavored with onion, or chopped onion may be mixed through the salad. Serve on a bed of This salad my be mixed with string beans, peas or small lima beans. Cream cheese is good through the mixture, and if nothing else is convenient grate American cheese thickly over A rather heavier salad is made from hard-boiled eggs cut lengthwise. Remove yolks and rub to a paste with anchovies. Refill and put a slice of anchovy on each section. Serve on hearts of lettuce. Another nice mixture for a plain lettuce salad are squares of cream cheese sprinkled thickly with caviare. The climatic conditions governing Place these in the center of the lettuce and surround with a border of crisp bacon broken very fine. Cover chutney. Green peppers are invaluable for a summer salad. Served whole, they are where suitable soil conditions can be delicious when mixed with a highly seasoned mayonnaise. A spoonful of set culture is, as a rule, about the the dressing should be put on top of same as that required for the growing each cup. Another good filling is of large onions, except that the land cold slaw and shredded peppers well mingled. A pretty salad is made by arranging a bed of tender green lettuce leaves, or young nasturtium leaves, and on it putting a center of cream cheese balls, then a row of shredded green peppers, another row of cheese balls and an outer border of shredded pimentos. The canned ones may be used. Cover with a thick French dressing. If onlone are liked small pearl onions can be sprinkled over the cheese balls.

A delicious fruit salad is a round of hardy strains of alfalfa, has been ex- tender pineapple placed on a lettuce perimenting in transplanting the lat- leaf. On top of the pineapple dot berries in season, strawberries, raspberployed for tobacco, cabbage, cauli- ries, blackberries or currants, and in flower and tomatoes. At five points the center of the berries have a round in the state he set the plants at the of cream cheese. Border the fruit mixrate of 6,000 an hour. At other points ture with mayonnaise and put a little

Three cauliflowers, broken in small pieces: one quart small cucumbers. one quart small silver skin onions, four green peppers, cut fine. Make a many reports are coming in showing brine of four quarts of water and one pint of salt, soak all in this brine over night. In the morning beat through in this same brine just enough to scald and pour into a colander to drain.

Mix two-thirds of a cup of flour with six tablespoons of mustard, one cup brown sugar, one heaping teaspoon of turmeric powder, add enough cold vinegar to make two quarts in all. Boil until thick, stirring often to prevent scorching. Add the pickles and just heat through.

Burnt Sugar Cake.

Two and one-half cups flour, one cup of sugar, one cup of milk, two eggs, one-half cup butter, two teaspoonfuls baking powder, two teaspoonfuls flavoring. Take one cup sugar and burn in skillet, as soon as it is all melted pour in one-half cup of warm water; then stir until it looks like it was ready, and put in cake.

Filling-One and one-half cups of sugar, one cup of milk, a little butter; cook in skillet, where sugar was burned. Then bake.

Lemon Tarts,

Puff Paste. To one pint of flour add one teaspoonful of baking pow-'der; mix in one cupful of butter or lard; wet with cold water. Roll thin and line tart cups. Fill with filling. Filling .- One cupful of sugar, juice of one lemon, one egg, plece of butter size of walnut (melted). Beat together thoroughly. Use one table### spoonful for each tart. Tomato Salad With Cheese.

Pick and slice the tomatoes and arrange in a salad dish. Make a dressing of oil, white wine, pepper and salt and stir in some grated Parmesan. Pour this over the tomatoes, let stand on ice for 15 minutes or so