"Prettiest town in Oregon."

Hundreds of persons have died this week in the middle western states from heat prostrations. Man dies from heat and cold, by fire and flood, and with all of his genius has but little control over the elements of nature.

It is hoped that Mr. Albers, owner of the clay beds near this city, will find the right grade of sand to mix with the clay, which will give a product for the manufacture of porcelain. There is no reason why a pottery factory should not be established in Forest Grove. Should this come to pass, work could be given to hundreds of persons and this city would gain greater fame than has ever yet come to the "prettiest town in Oregon."

Tomorrow will be observed once more the anniversary of the Nation's birthday, and thousands of orators throughout the land will retell in thunderous tones of the heroic deeds of our fore fathers, who shed their blood to found a free nation. The small boy will imbibe the spirit of patriotism the while he burns his hands with toy cannon and fire cracker, and the youth and maiden fair will munch together from the same sack of popcorn and stroll through the crowd arm in arm oblivious to other mortals. Swings, games, dances and side shows will add their part to the general sum of enjoyment. Thus do we celebrate the "Fourth" the greatest day of the year.

After two years of preparation the Second World's Christian Citizenship Conference was opened Sunday in Portland. Representatives from all parts of the earth are in attendance, and speakers of worldwide repute are making daily addresses to large audiences. The purpose of the conference is to seek solutions of the problems which beset the nations in building to a better and greater citizenship. Many are the evils which beset human society, and these earnest, thoughtful men and women, gather from all parts of the world that they may exchange ideas and suggestions for the forward progress of humanity.

Forty thousand strong, the soldiers of the blue and gray, who 50 years ago met in mortal combat in the bloodiest and most momentous battles of the civil war, are met once more on the fields of Gettysburg, in a reunion which is without parallel in the world's history. On the field where half a century ago the earth ran red with the blood of the flower of American manhood; where in the nightmare of the thunder and smoke and flame of battle brother met brother in a deadly hate that left its thousands of slain on the field of carnage, all is now serene onetime foes mingle together in perfect amity, and over these old veterans of a long gone day broods the spirit of peace and brotherly love.

The Trustees of Pacific University have made a wise choice in the selection of Dr. Bushnell to head the local educational institution. Dr. Bushnell is a man of deep learning, is young, progressive, and ever alert to take advantage of the changing conditions. He writings along educational lines prove the breadth of his mind, and his work in other institutions of higher learning will be of great value to him in his work at Pacific University. The Progress of the college has been hampered of late years by a lack of harmony. This should be a thing of the past, and it is hoped that the instructors, students and townspeople will work with Pres. Bushnell to give this institution that standing abroad that will induce more students to come here to school. In point of equipment and location Pacific University is the peer of any educational institution on the coast, and there is no good reason why the attendance should not be increased to three times the number that have attended in the past few years.

20th ANNUAL ASSEMBLY

Willamette Valley Chautauqua Replete With New Features

Many Forest Grove people are planning to attend the coming session of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua to be held at Gladstone Park July 8-20, inclusive. The program has just been published and includes many widely known Chautauqua speakers Prof. B. R. Baumgardt Colonel George W. Bain, Walter Holcomb, Frederick Vining Fisher, Ng., Poon Chew, (the Chinese Statesman); the Sierra Mixed Quartette, the Tyrolean-Alpine Singers, Frances Carter, Maude Willis, Matt Hughes, E. G. Lewis and Grace Lakin are among the big features of the coming assembly, for the afternoon and evening programs.

The morning classes include talks by Dr. W. Hinson of the Portland White Temple, elocution talks by Mrs. Francis Carter; "supervised play" by Miss Grace Lamkin; school of music, lectures on "Modern Economic Problems" by Dr. Gilbert of the State University; lectures on practical agriculture and stock and poultry by experts from O. A. C.; and other talks by leading scholars along various lines of thought in Oregon.

Daily band and orchestra preludes to the programs, with solos by Portland's leading vocalists. Chautauqua base ball league plays daily games and consists of five of Clackamas County's fastest amateur teams. Tents and platforms may be reserved for patrons. Plenty of camp fire wood, and lots of pure mountain water. Camp conveniences most ideal. Provisions may be purchased from stores on the grounds or patrons may eat at Chautauqua Cafeteria.

A Little Mixed.

A Hindu barrister thus excused an absent client whom sickness had prevented from coming to court: "The man has fallen unwell, your honor, and he has sent a man here to say that he is lying and cannot come."

Too True.

After our landlord had pocketed the $30 which we pay monthly for our little apartment he blushed painfully. "Why do you color so?" I asked. "Because I have a rent in my trousers," he murmured.—Exchange.

The Money Tennyson Made.

Lord Tennyson made a great income from his poems. When Strahan & Co. took over the publication of the poems in the sixties they agreed to pay Tennyson $25,000 a year in respect to the books already issued and pay the poet all profits on new work, less a modest 10 per cent commission. This second item generally meant $30,000 for each new volume. For many years before his death Tennyson drew a steady $50,000 per annum from his publishers.

Just Like His Tooth.

Small Freddie had the toothache one day, and his mother told him the tooth was hollow and needed to be pulled. A few days later the mother complained of a severe headache. "Mamma," said Freddie wisely, "I'll bet your head is hollow. You ought to go and get it pulled."—Chicago News.

Social News of Town and Country

Wedding bells still continue to ring for Forest Grove young people, and Cupid, the little love god, has the past week occupied the center of the stage in social affairs.

Miss Nellie Hermans and Mr. Anthony Evers, both well known and popular young people of the Verboort section, were united in marriage last week. They will make their home at Verboort.

The Ladies Working Society of the Congregational church met at the church parlors yesterday afternoon. The session was one of business and pleasure, and a delicious lunch was enjoyed by those present.

The Workers Class of the Methodist church to the number of twenty went by auto to Fern Hill, last evening, where a "cherry social" at the home of Miss Pearl Cooke was enjoyed by the merry crowd.

Mrs. Winnifred Aldrich gave a birthday party at her home Saturday night in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Hazel Carmack. A number of the young friends of Mrs. Carmack were present to help her enjoy the evening, which was given over to games and music. Light refreshments were served by the hostess. All present report a very pleasant evening.

The Homesteaders gave a reception in their lodge rooms Saturday night that was most enjoyable. Two new members were initiated into the mysteries of the lodge, after which the time was given over to playing games and listening to musical selections. The occasion was also a farwell party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Erphan Miller, formerly employed at the laundry who have moved to Portland. Strawberries and cake were served to those present.

A wedding of interest to Forest Grove people occurred today at Centralia, Wash., when Miss Ruth Gaylord became the bride of Mr. Leslie Hope. The bride was attended by Miss Bessie Hope, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, and Mr. Haskell Ferrin was best man. Mrs. Hope graduated this year from Pacific University, and is a very charming and attractive girl and has many friends in this city. Mr. Hope graduated from Pacific University last year. While a student at P. U. he was editor of the Index, the college publication, was president of the student body and had represented his alma mater in debate a number of times. He has many friends among the people of this city. Mr. Hope is associated with his father in the banking business at Vale, Oregon, where he and his bride will make their home after a trip to Cannon beach.

A quiet but pretty home wedding united one of Forest Grove's best known and most popular young men to the lady of his choice, Tuesday, when Mr. Haskell Ferrin and Miss Esther Spillman were joined in holy bonds of matrimony at the home of the bride's cousin, W. E. Cappin, at Rose City Park, Portland. Only immediate friends and relatives were present. Miss Laura Weist was bridesmaid, and Mr. Leslie Hope attended the groom. Mrs. Ferrin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Spillman, of Portland. She is an attractive girl of the blond type, and was popular at Pacific University, where she was for several years a student in the Conservatory of Music. Mr. Ferrin is the son of Dr. and Mrs. W. N. Ferrin, of this city. He was born in Forest Grove, which has always been his home. After attending the public schools, he entered Pacific University, where he took high honors as a student and athlete. Graduating from Pacific University, he accepted a position with the Forest Grove National Bank, and is now assistant cashier of that financial institution. After a honeymoon trip to Cannon beach the happy couple will make their home in this city.

"There is one vital difference between ball players and politicians."
"Only one?"
"Well, one that is more noticeable than any of the others. You never hear of a political holdout."—Chicago Record Herald.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Treatment of Lockjaw.

If people only knew a little more about the tetanus bacillus, which causes lockjaw, says Dr. Charles O. Palst, coroner's physician in Brooklyn, N. Y., there would be fewer cases of it arriving at the hospitals too late for the antitoxin to do any good. They should remember first of all that the bacillus of this disease is one of the few that cannot flourish in the air, that can multiply only when shielded from the air. It can and does multiply within a healed wound, and that is why a surface recovery from a rusty nail thrust is so often deceptive. A boy runs a nail through his shoe and is less and less worried about his foot as the wound heals over. He ought to be more worried.

Now, the lesson is this: Go to a first rate doctor as soon as you can after a bad cut or wound. If you can't do that treat yourself. Open the wound with a silver probe and apply tincture of iodine. Keep it open for ten days and allow it to heal from the bottom instead of healing at the surface. It is the only safe thing to do.

The public ought to be educated in this. The trouble is that they rarely think of lockjaw in connection with a wound except in the accidents that surround the Fourth of July. They have been educated to greater care and first aid to the injured then, and it might as well be spread over the whole year.

SHUN FRAYED COLLARS.

They Are Apt to Irritate the Neck and Cause Carbuncles.

The back of the neck is the commonest place for a carbuncle to appear. It is a most sensitive spot, not so much on the surface of the skin as in the underlying tissues, wherein are great nerves that communicate very closely with the brain. And it is in these tissues that the carbuncle spreads its "roots."

A carbuncle is a breaking down of the tissue caused by the germs called streptococcus and staphylococcus. These are the principal but by no means the only pus producing germs. They eat and break down the tissues. The white corpuscles of the blood rush to the spot and try to devour the attacking bacteria. Millions of them perish in the attempt, and pus is really a mixture of dead white corpuscles and germs that are exuding virulent poisons.

Carbuncles select the back of the neck so often because of the irritation caused by the collar if this be slightly frayed or roughened by careless laundering. The back of the neck is almost as much exposed to dirt as are the backs of the hands and needs washing almost as often. The rubbing of the collar scrapes off the scaly surface of the skin, which is its protection against germs of disease. This being gone, the germs enter unopposed.

A collar button pressing constantly on the one spot may produce the same effect.

And in a few days you are going around with a bandage on your neck and suffering awful torture. Fortunately the doctors have discovered an antitoxin that quickly cures carbuncles. Yet even when this is administered the patient is doomed to much pain.

The moral of all this is: Don't wear a collar that is the least bit frayed.—New York World.

Gardening Tips.

"Astronomical gardening" comes in for strong censure from House and Garden. Floral suns and moons, it says, are out of place on lawns, and so is the outgrown rowboat doing service before the house as a container of scarlet geraniums. Shun the isolated bed as though it were plague infested, it urges, and use the opportunities offered by the graceful possibilities of borders and edgings.
