GOOD ROADS CONFERENCE

Meeting to be Held at Eureka, California, Next
Month

Plans are now being perfected for a conference of unusual interest and character which will be held in Eureka, California, on August 20 and 21. The object of this conference will be the organization of a Pacific Coast Good Roads Association for the promotion and advancement of the cause of good roads in California, Oregon and Washington.
Governor Lister, of Washington, Governor West, of Oregon, and Governor Johnson, of California, will attend the conference, which will be presided over by the first named. Many other prominent good roads advocates from the three states will also be in attendance. Eureka, where it is to be held, is the largest town in the United States without a railroad.

The subjects to be discussed include every important phase of the good roads question. There follows a partial list: "The General Necessity of Good Roads;"
"The Commercial Value of Good Roads;" "Should a State Build and Maintain all Roads Within its Limits;" "County and Intercounty Roads;" "Raising Money for Road Building;" "The Automobilitist and Good Roads;" "Linking Up the Pacific Coast States;"
"Combined State and County Road Building;" "The Care and Upkeep of Roads."

"Some Punkins"

One of the curiosities of the season is a squash on exhibit at the Oregon Land Company's office. The squash was raised by Tom Ott who lives on the Base Line just east of town and was picked last fall, kept all winter and spring and is as sound as a new five dollar gold piece now, the last of July.

Keep the Calves "Coming."

The calves must be kept "coming," whether they suck the cows or are hand fed. Skim milk calves grow strong and thrifty if given a chance.
Their milk has to be clean and enough of it. With it they need something to take the place of the cream that is gone. Corn is a good substitute. Oats help also. Ground flaxseed in the milk is fine, but it costs too much these days. For cheapness and results corn and oats crushed together or just plain corn coarsely ground and fed dry are hard to beat.—Iowa Homestead.

Hand or Power Spraying?

Hand spraying is more expensive than power spraying. The cost varies much in different cases, depending on the efficiency of labor, convenience and other essentials, and much depends on the apparatus used. The pump should have capacity to maintain high pressure, and the nozzle must throw a fine spray. The requirements are the same for every kind of spraying.—Farm Progress.

Handy Trench Cleaner.

To a short piece of half round post securely tack on the curved side with shingle nails a sheet of heavy galvanized iron about fifteen inches long.
Bore a hole in the block at an angle of about forty-five degrees, deep enough to receive a long handle. This works very satisfactorily.—Farm and Fireplace.

"GOING TO LAW."

A conveyance of land described as running with the meanders of a non-navigable stream gives title to the thread of the stream in the absence of a contrary intention shown by the deed.—Robinson Versus Wells, Ky., 135 S. W. 317.

In selling personal property the general rule is that where no misrepresentations are made by the seller in respect to the quality or condition of the property the purchaser buys at his own risk and cannot recover damages on account of defects or unsoundness, but where animals or articles are sold for food the law implies a warranty on the part of the buyer that such provisions are wholesome and fit to eat, and the rule of buyers' risk does not apply.

A Damper.

Marion—I showed papa those verses you wrote me, and he seemed pleased.
Harry—He did? Marion—Yes. He said he was so glad to see you were not a poet.

TO PROBE PROFITS ON FARM PRODUCE

Experts Will Suggest Plans For Ideal Market Houses.

TO STUDY QUESTION IN FULL

Department of Agriculture Specialists In Direct and Co-operative Dealings, Transportation and Marketing of Perishable Produce.

It is announced that the department of agriculture through its office of markets will shortly begin a thorough study of what happens to produce from the time it leaves the producer to the time it reaches the consumer. A specialist on marketing perishable produce will investigate prices received by producers, cost of transportation and storage, change of ownership, accumulated charges, profits and other elements. This specialist will then study conditions in various sections to determine the feasibility of a market news service dealing with perishable products and also the best methods of making statistics of supply and demand useful to the farmer or truck gardener.

The question of market houses will be considered, and advice as to the best and most sanitary form of market will be made. Communities will be advised to adopt the co-operative idea in marketing. The little store on the street where all produce is exposed to the dust and germs is condemned.

The specialists will give attention to studying co-operative organizations of producers and consumers, including co-operative marketing associations of farmers and buyers, co-operative stores, etc. They will make intensive studies of typical communities dealing with special products and will assist in the formation of new co-operative enterprises. An expert in co-operative accounting will assist such organizations to keep their books and records effectively, establish cost systems and follow up methods of handling goods en route and on sale.

Co-operating with the other investigators will be specialists in transportation—men who have had as much rail road shipping experience as division freight agents—who will assist producers in securing proper freight rates and will discuss questions of extending facilities, determination of rates, routing and other matters concerned with the speedy and cheap moving of produce to centers.

Special attention is to be given to the milling, marketing and utilization of cotton seed. A specialist in this line will gather full information necessary for the successful organization and operation of oil mills by co-operating producers. He will also endeavor to find new uses and new applications for cotton seed and its manufactured products.

Other specialists thoroughly familiar with the marketing of cotton in Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma and other cotton states will devote their attention to improving trade in cotton and devising improved methods of handling and selling cotton and seed cotton.
