GALES CITY.

Mrs. Hoyt of Wilson river, is the daring bear hunter of the day. She went out one evening last week after her cows, and hearing a noise in the brush went to see what was there, and to her surprise it was a black bear. She had taken with her a 22 calibre rifle, but thinking it small for such game, hesitated to use it, but the bear seeing her ran up a tree. She could now stand the temptation no longer and raised the rifle and fired hitting him between the eyes, and he tumbled down quite dead, but thinking he might be possuming she gave him a few more shots, but no possum he was sure dead.

HOP QUOTATIONS

FIRM AT 25 CENTS

Prune Harvest Begins With Good Market Promise

Local hop owners are already ordering their 1914 automobiles and planning their winter tours. Contractors are closing at 25 and 26 cents but refuse to go higher. Predictions of 30 and 35 cents, however, have been made, but even at the present market quotations, a liberal profit will be realized. Mr. Crabtree has sold half his crop at 26 cents and is holding the remainder at 30. Felix Verhouvan has sold the remainder of his crop at 25 cents. The market seems to be stuck at that figure. The prune harvest is now on at full blast and many gatherers are busy in the orchards. The market has been steady at about $20 per ton. Local growers are already drying and shipping green.

Forest Grove Shoe Store

The Dr. A. Reed Cushion Shoe

Is not only the best cushion shoe on the market, but is also the most popular; its merits are so well known that it is superfluous to mention them in detail. There are many imitations of this shoe, but none can compare with it in efficiency, quality, fit, style or finish. For 10 years I have sold this shoe; while the price has been $5 (it is worth $6) but we have increased our trade to such an extent on the shoe that we are willing and ready to work cheaper in order to sell more of them.
