ABOUT PUBLICITY

Proclaimed good for all, but no good to a person,
When tried it will simply set people a cursin'.
Altho of the value of gold, pure and yellow,
Its worth remains naught until told to some fellow.
In telling the truth 'bout an article needed,
By all who are told sound advice will be heeded,—
JIST HUNT

WELL DONE
FAITHFUL SERVANTS

Washington County's first annual county fair has come and gone and in its three short days of existence was so successful that it earned a lease of life that will last for years. Success not only from the dollars and cents view point, but from a general satisfaction by all attending. Fully twelve thousand people witnessed the fast and well-conducted races, and all the exhibits including the excellent poultry, agriculture, live stock and household arts displays not only received their full share of attention but were worthy of it.

The part taken by the many school children on Friday was no little part and the cooperation of the school authorities was greatly appreciated by the directors.

Next year it will not be a question of whether the fair will be successful but only a question of how good the directors and the producers of Washington county can make it.

Now the fair is over and we have all had a few days breathing spell which is long enough for an energetic community like Forest Grove. The next move is that much mooted question of organizing a first class wide awake commercial club. It is our idea not to make the new organization a vender of hot air but an organization of citizens of Forest Grove who will not only endeavor to furnish accurate information to all seekers of same, to assist new enterprises, to encourage new comers but in the main to keep things alive within the city itself. To look after civic improvement and make Forest Grove the cream bucket in the great immigrant separator of northwest publicity during the next six or seven years. The die will be cast by that time.

FOUR GOOD LAWS

The people of Oregon will be called upon to decide by a referendum vote, on four measures of more or less importance to all. The appropriation for additional improvements at the state University in Eugene is a very worthy measure and undoubtedly will receive the sanction of the people. The measure providing a county attorney for each county is also a measure for more efficient administration. The other two questions are sterilization act and the workman's compensation act. It is hoped the friends of these measures will make the effort to register their opinions at the polls and by so doing raise Oregon one step higher on the progressive ladder.

The value of a scholastic education is not so much the learning of selected facts, nor the mastering of scientific principles so much as the developing of proper tendencies. Such tendencies should be comprehensive, thorough and progressive.

Let every patriotic citizen of Forest Grove attend the next meeting of the Commercial Club. There is no use talking to live outsiders until we prove ourselves to be without need of any embalming fluid.

Next Tuesday will be clean up day in Forest Grove. Let us sack all the rubbish obtainable and cart away to the city dump pile, not excluding any discovered moss backs or knockers.

"I have seen a dozen fairs in the west this year and not a single one of them excelled Washington county's," said a visitor in the city this week. Not so bad for the first time at bat.

The PRESS received many compliments on last week's paper. We will try to keep up the standard and request your co-operation.

There are a few days more to register. Do not put it off. It is your duty to vote, especially under the Oregon system.

Washington county is going to get that banner prize at the state fair next year also.

CIRCUIT COURT

Antonia LaFazio, complaint is filed October 9th 1931. Plaintiff is resident of Washington county, and alleges that they were married at Portland Oregon, on the 24th day of July or thereabouts in 1912. There being no children as result of said marriage, however the plaintiff, Antonia LaFazio asserts she has three children from a former marriage, as follows, Josephine a girl of 13 summers and Antonio a boy of 12 years, and Nick a boy of 5 years. On the 5th day of September he left her wholly deserted and remained away, and this and other reasons she asks to be freed from Frank LaFazio and that she be given privilege of using her maiden name of Antonia Perelle.

P. U. JUNIOR'S
LETTERS TO HIS GIRL

PACIFIC UNIVERSITY,
Wednesday evening;
DEAR MARGARET:—This is one of my few evenings "at home" and all I have to do is to study, write a few letters and dream of you. As I sit gazing into the fire, I live over our High School days and the memories were ever so pleasant as now. How well I remember our first days in school together. You were the only girl then as now.

I am sorry you have been disappointed in not being able to enter college this year but I have strong hopes that you will be here next year. Everything comes in its own time and we must be patient until that time comes.

We have had several informal socials in the last few weeks that I have failed to mention. I often like to stand back in some secluded spot during their gathering and mentally compare the girls here with you. You do not lose by the comparison but it only strengthens my opinion that you are the best little girl I know.

I find that some of the co-eds know how to use their charms to good advantage as is indicated by the little confession I am about to make. I don't know whether it was the spell of the moon, the call of the campus or the subtle charm of the girl, but before I knew what had happened or how it had come about we were on our way home together. As the little girl said "I never did nothing but I won't do it again."

One of the chief diversions of the upper classmen now is watching the Fresh-Soph mix. The fight is getting mighty warm now and will culminate in a class scrap on All College Day on Oct. 29th.

I am looking forward to Thanksgiving vacation and the short visit I will have with you again.

Lovingly yours,
TED.
