EXCELLENT ADDRESSES UPON SOCIAL HYGIENE

Prof. H. E. Inlow and Dr. J. S. Bishop Give Advice At Parent's Meeting

A large number of the parents living North of Pacific Avenue assembled at Marsh Hall Wednesday evening for the purpose of discussing social hygiene. The meeting was called by the local organization of the Oregon Social Hygiene Society and was addressed by Supt. H. E. Inlow and Dr. J. S. Bishop.

In the course of his remarks Supt. Inlow said that among thinking men and women there is a growing conviction that parents owe it to themselves and to their children to provide for the children proper instruction along lines of social hygiene and that the Oregon Social Hygiene society was organized to offer fathers and mothers helpful suggestions as to the manner of giving this instruction.

He emphasized the fact that such instruction alone would not insure the child's safety but it must be coupled with general correct training. That the boy or girl must be taught to keep their bodies healthy and vigorous; to be self reliant and to have self control; to have proper interests and motives; and lastly that the home life must be such that the child's interests will be anchored there.

Dr. Bishop spoke from the Physician's standpoint and indicated the dangers arising from ignorance and lack of instruction, showing from statistics the enormous amount of suffering and injury arising from social evil.

He gave the parents suggestions as to time and manner of giving instruction and answered questions submitted by the audience pertaining to the subject.

He said statistics showed that sex disease caused 25 per cent of all blindness; 1/100 minor surgical operations in Portland, Oregon every year, and that the disease was to be feared as much as tuberculosis or typhoid.

Similar meetings to the one held last night will be held in other parts of the city during the next month and a second meeting will be held in each district at which time information will be given concerning particular phases of the question.

DISCOVER REASON WHY RESERVOIR IS EMPTY

Noticing a shortage of water in the city reservoir Water Superintendent Watkins and Mayor Sanford traced the cause to the connection of the city mains to those of the Washington-Oregon Corporation, which had been opened by the company without notifying the city of their so doing.

Mayor Sanford reports that arrangements will be made to furnish the corporation water until they can repair their system, which has been disabled by the recent high water.

The city has a claim against the company for water used under the contract that expired January 1st. These matters will probably be adjusted this evening.
