

All Around Town

A. Meresse Buys White Salmon Enterprise—With the last issue of the White Salmon Enterprise, George H. Baxter makes his exit and Abel Meresse his debut as its new editor and publisher. The Enterprise is a dainty six-column paper and carries an abundance of advertising in proof of the fact that White Salmon is a live wire town. They not only have a good country and merchants up there but want others to know about it and are using the columns of the Enterprise to tell the folks about it. In Editor Meresse the business men and citizens of White Salmon have a man that will deliver the goods. He is not only an expert printer, but a trained writer. He is a graduate of Pacific University and has done newspaper work here, Oregon City, Condon and Vale. While at the latter place he was secretary of the Commercial Club. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Meresse, of this city.

Alumnae Attend Inaugural—The Misses Jessie and Mabel Hoge and Mrs. Potts, formerly Miss Harriet Yoder, attended the inaugural exercises of President Bushnell last week. All are graduates of the local college. Miss Jessie Hoge has just returned from Berkeley, California, where she has been attending the State University. She will teach in one of the High Schools in Portland next semester. Miss Mabel Hoge, since graduation from Pacific has been doing work in the city library in Portland.

Rev. Clapp Visits City—Rev. C. Clapp, of Washougal, Wash., was in this city last week for the exercises at the college. The Clapp family lived here for years while the reverend was superintendent of home missions for the state of Oregon. His little journeys for many years took him to all parts of the state and his name is almost a household word in Oregon. When he gave up the work he said that he had chosen a place to live in Washington so he could look across the river and see his dear Oregon. Dwinell Clapp is working in a bank in Washougal. Gordon is attending school at Oberlin college, Ohio, and Miss Frances is dean of the piano department at Pomona college, California.

Has Beat Drum for 60 Years—John Baldwin, the G. A. R. man, will be 75 years old February 19, and he has been beating the drum for over 60 years. Before he went into the war Uncle John was a drummer boy in his home town and his ability along that line served him in good hand when he went on the historic march with Sherman to the sea.

Actors Could Not Show in the Dark—Mrs. W. F. Schultz and Mrs. Will Schultz were in Hillsboro Saturday evening to see "Alias Jimmy Valentine," by the thespians from McMinnville, but as the county seat town was in inky darkness because of a demoralized lighting system, which had been put out of commission by the terrific wind, the actors could not appear, but will come on a later date.

Sends 50 Pounds of Wheat by Post—Messrs Kinton & Schulmerich were the first merchants in this section, probably the first in the county, to take advantage of the new parcels post schedule, which allows a 50-pound package to be sent through the mails. Last week they sent from the local postoffice a 50-pound sack of wheat, consigned to L. P. McCrosky, on Route 2. The postage was only 30 cents.—Banks Herald. Mr. Kinton before going to Banks was in the employ of Bailey's store in this city. He married Miss Edna Billinger, a daughter of Mr and Mrs. John Billinger.

Visits Town He Has Not Seen in 20 Years—George Hancock, cashier of the First National Bank, was in Willamina Friday last on business and reports the little city at the end of the Southern Pacific in a thriving condition. He had not been there in twenty years. They boast of paved streets, a large brick and tile factory, and it is understood another company will soon put in a second pottery and brick plant of massive proportions. Ross, Thad, Stott and Herb Parker, brothers of J. A. Parker, the harness man of this city, are residents of Willamina.

Breezy Westerner Makes Hit in New York—Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Fletcher received a letter from their son, Frank, at Buffalo, New York last week. He is attending a meeting of the Beaver Board salesmen, and is a guest of the company. The Western representatives have made a decided hit by their breezy and aggressive ways. Frank will go with the boys up into Canada and on his return home will stop for a visit in Indiana. Charles Bradley, formerly head of the chemistry department at Pacific University and later of the Oregon Experiment station, but who is now chief chemist for a large rubber concern. Prof. Bradley's mother lives at Banks.

Went Through the Car Window—Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Bates, of near Gaston, were in this city the first of the week. Mrs. Bates was formerly Miss Grace Harding, and while attending Pacific University she was on the ill-fated Southern Pacific that was derailed in 1908 between this city and Dilley, killing three people and injuring 27. When the wreck came she was swung from her chair in the car and hurled out of the window into the water below, unhurt. She was given a handsome gold watch by the railroad people as a souvenir.

Forest Grove Well Represented at McMinnville—Forest Grove is well represented at McMinnville. Linn Lancefield, a former resident of this place, and a graduate of Pacific University, is one of Mc's big banking men; Edgar Meresse is editor of the News-Reporter; George Newman, who used to peg tops and play shinney here in his younger days, is in the grocery business and two more former Forest Grove men have just gone into the partnership grocery business in the Yamhill Co. metropolis. They are William Cameron, a former clerk for N. B. LaCourse, and C. R. Calloway, who owned the grocery now owned by H. T. Giltner.

How He Has Made It—Dick Holsher was in from his David's Hill farm Saturday exchanging some of his grape money with the merchants. Only a few years ago Dick was working for $10 a month. He saved his earnings and bought some land on the hill and planted it to grapes. He made considerable money off the grapes and pocketed it—the money, not the vintage. Then he sold out and pocketed that. And then he got married. However, he is still working and still putting lucre into his bib and tucker. Dick is not only after the root of all evil, but he is after the ground roots, too.

He is not afraid of the grubbing hoe and he makes the prune tree and grape vine bloom where once hazel brush adorned the land. One of these days it would not be surprising if Dick should don a stand-up collar and buy a bank. He has made it by hard work, judgment and frugality.

The Woman's Missionary Society—will hold its first meeting for the year, Tuesday, January 27, instead of Wednesday, January 28. The change is made on account of the Red Letter Day of the Woman's Club.

The missionary meeting for the first six months will be informal. Ladies are invited to bring their sewing. The study book, "New America," will be read and discussed under the direction of competent committees. All ladies are invited to be present. Plan to be present at the first meeting, which will be held in the church parlors at 3 o'clock p. m.

Why Arthur Looks Indigo—Arthur Shearer has been looking extremely blue these last few days, despite his usual sunny disposition, and the cause of all of that indigo look, dear and gentle reader, if you would know, is the loss of his dawg, which just up and died, and as our friend from Arkansas puts it, it was, oh! such a good dawg—a bird dawg—and Arthur paid $25 for him last summer before he could speak—before the dawg could speak. It kept Arthur's blooded chickens on the qui vive to keep out of the way of the bird dawg for he was wise enough to know that the college biologists have catalogued chickens as birds. Arthur administered Chamberlains remedies all to no avail.

Visitor Tells How Billiard Got Name—A representative of the Imperial Hotel, of Portland, was in the Grove the first of the week distributing publicity matter for his hostelry. In speaking upon the origin of names he said that the way billiard received its name was as follows: Bill and Jack were talking together by the side of a table which had several marbles on it. Bill had a yard stick in his hand and while searching for a word that had interrupted the conversation, Bill grabbed the yard stick and with it drove a marble across the table, striking another marble. Jack was a punster and placing his hand on the table exclaimed, "Some Bill yard."

Leave for New York City—Mrs. W. N. Ferrin, son William and Wheelock Marsh, a nephew of Mrs. Ferrin, left Tuesday for New York City to join Prof. W. N. Ferrin, in New York City, who is secretary of the United States Rubber Company the largest similar concern in the world. Mr. Marsh is going to visit his sister, Mrs. Winifred Whittlesey. Mr. Whittlesey is chief chemist of the rubber company. Mrs. Ferrin will spend two weeks on the trip, visiting along the way. The Ferrin family has lived in this city for many years, and their many friends regret to see them go, but wish them well at their new home in the big metropolis.

Electric Light Poles 75 Feet Long—Dr. Charles Lester Large was in Portland to spend the week end with the folks. He was impressed with the work the Northwestern Electric Company is doing in their invasion of the electric field. Cedar poles are being established 75 feet long and sunk into the ground six and one-half feet. The little Doctor believes that the coming of the new company will mean cheaper light service in the Rose City.

Talk of Changing Their Name—In the near future the people of the community of Segers, between Dilley and Gaston on the Southern Pacific, will hold a public get-together meeting for the purpose of changing the name of their burg. We would suggest that Newell be made the official name. W. K. Newell, one of the best known and progressive farmers in the state of Oregon, has built up a strictly modern ranch there within the past year. He has a beautiful house, one of the biggest dairy barns in the county, which was built with sanitation in mind, an implement house so arranged that implements may be taken out without disturbing the other tools, and other houses for the farm help.

Play to Be Given
"Above the Clouds" will be presented by the Catholic Young People's Dramatic Society on next Tuesday evening, January 27th, in the Catholic Coterie Hall, which has recently been fitted up for plays and parties, just opposite the Forest Grove Hotel. The play is a stirring comedy-drama and will be exceptionally well presented. Curtain at 8 o'clock. General admission, 25 cts. Reserved seats, 35 cts. Children, 15 cts. Tickets at Littler's Pharmacy. Following is the cast of characters: Grace Ingalls, Lena Duyck; Hester Thorn, Irma Duyck; Susy Gaylord, Christiana Haek; Lucretia Gerrish, M. Krafsc; Phillip Ringold, Edward Jasper; Alfred Thorp, William Haek; Amos Gaylord, Roy Dennis; Howard Gaylord, Joseph McCoy; Titus Turtle, Fred Jones; Curtis Chipman, Allie Hollevolt; Nat Naylor, Joseph Morley.

Firemen's Masquerade a Big Success—One of the big social events of the week was the Firemen's masquerade given in the Knights of Pythias hall Tuesday night. There was a large audience present and the character masqueraders were a delight as they tripped the light fantastic to the strains of Walker's orchestra. Those who won prizes were, Miss Beulah James, representing a Japanese maiden; W. H. Haek, newsboy; Joe Morley, old fashioned lady; Carl Stribich, brownie; Miss Grace Clyde and Reg Blair, best waltzers. The judges were Mrs. J. S. Buxton, John Wirtz and Charles Mertz.

Bad Fire Narrowly Averted
Fire originating from a defective chimney seriously threatened the George Paterson furniture store on South Main Street, Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The timely discovery of the blaze by Walter Burk and the hasty action of himself, Robert Loomis and Roy Watkins and the work of the fire boys are responsible for the small damage to the building of about $18.

N. F. Skartveit, physical culture and director of Athletics at Pacific University.

WIND BLOWS HURRICANE CLOSE ON HEELS OF FLOOD

Telephones Put Out of Service, Trees, Fences and Poles Go Down.

Following close on the heels of the record flood waters a few days ago came the wild wind last Saturday afternoon which reached its speediest velocity here between three and four o'clock. Its equal has not been witnessed in the state since the early nineties. Here in Forest Grove a great many phones were put out of service. The Beaverton, Banks, Gales Creek, and Gaston lines were demoralized for several hours. The Oregon and Washington company's electric system was put out of commission and Hillsboro was in darkness Saturday. The wind ripped up from the south poles were blown over and trees uprooted and limbs torn from the trees. In wild glee and boys of this city in considerable numbers rigged up sails out of burlap and skidded hither and yon up Main street on their roller skates and wagons, propelled by the wind. Men, women and children were ektp busy chasing their head gear most of the afternoon.

Annual Meeting of Fire Association—The annual meeting of the Bankers' and Merchants' Mutual Fire Association was held last evening for the purpose of electing directors and officers. There were four directors elected to serve for two years, E. W. Haines, George G. Paterson, C. W. Mertz and W. H. Hollis. Directors who were present from out of town were: L. J. Corl, of Corvallis; R. K. Ohling, of Albany; Lot L. Pearce, of Salem.

The report which was read by the secretary, showed the business of the association in a very satisfactory condition.

After the annual meeting the directors met and elected the following officers: E. W. Haines, president; Geo. G. Paterson, vice-president; W. H. Hollis, secretary; C. W. Mertz, treasurer.

Free Lecture—Albert J. Bolster, field superintendent for the Oregon "Out to Win Prohibition" campaign, will speak in the Congregational church, next Tuesday evening, Jan. 27 at 7:30. Everybody invited.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

BAKED FRUIT CHARLOTTE.
DINNER MENU.
Tomato Bisque.
Cold Veal Sliced.
Baked Macaroni and Cheese.
Green Peas.
Apple Charlotte.
Coffee.

THE report that a certain eminent gentleman who lives in the White House is particularly fond of charlotte russe or any form of charlotte has naturally popularized these desserts.

With fresh fruit available, the housewife has an opportunity to originate many new charlottes to tempt the palates of her household. The following suggestions for concocting standard ones may be useful.

Toothsome Apple Desserts.
Apple Charlotte With Raisins.—Take a pudding dish and put a tablespoonful of melted butter in the dish. Then put in a layer of buttered toast, a layer of sliced apples, sprinkled with sugar and nutmeg and then a layer of raisins. Repeat this until the dish is full. Place buttered toast on top. Beat one or two eggs, add two cupfuls of milk and pour over all. Bake until the apples are all cooked. Serve with cream and sugar.
Charlotte de Pomme.—Take eight tart apples, pare and quarter them. Then put into a kettle with a cupful of water and two cupfuls of sugar. Let them cook until they are clear. Line a buttered baking dish with halves of lady fingers or slices of sponge cake. Pour the apples in, cover with a layer of sponge cake and decorate with currant jelly. Set in a slow oven for an hour. This may be served with sugar and cream if desired.
