

"Variety," they say, "is the spice of life," so let us put in plenty of spice, Socials, surprise parties, and social affairs in general is what keeps the every-day life from being monotonous. Therefore, our city has kept the social circle surprising rather rapidly. Let us keep putting in the "spice."

Delightfully Entertains—Mrs. A. G. Hoffman is receiving and entertaining guests this afternoon in honor of Mrs. Nichols and her daughter, who are here from Victoria visiting at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Bean. Mrs. Nichols is a sister of the latter.

Birthday Party—Susan White celebrated her first birthday Monday by inviting a number of little folks in. There were about fourteen children who sat down at the table.

Bachelor Girls Entertained—The Bachelor Girls were delightfully entertained at the home of Miss Edith Shogren, who was assisted by Miss Ivy Smith. When the girls get together for an evening of social time, no efforts are spared to have a jolly time. A short business meeting was held, after which the girls proceeded to initiate four members in to the ways and means of the club. Dainty refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostesses. "Good-nights were said and all departed feeling the evening had been profitably spent.

Regular Meeting of Homesteaders—The regular meeting of the Homesteaders was held in the Odd Fellows Hall Tuesday evening. Twelve new members were initiated. State Deputy and Organizer, Mr. Tilsan and wife, of Portland, the former giving a short talk on the work of the lodge. A short program consisting of music and reading was given. Attorney Gano, of Homestead No. 31, was the speaker of the evening. The state organizer has made arrangements whereby he will organize a Homestead at Gales City in the near future. After the regular business and program a bountiful supply was served. The tables fairly groaned under the load which it held.

The Homesteaders were organized here only about a year ago and they are steadily growing until they have become one of the most popular organizations of the city.

Sophs Have Party—Saturday a number of the Sophomores of the High School sojourned to the High School building and spent a delightful two hours therein playing games after which they had a great deal to eat. One of the features of the menu was "cream cake," the Sophomore's delight.

Young People Enjoy Dancing Party—About forty of the young people of this city enjoyed tripping the light fantastic last Saturday night, given by the I. W. D. T. in the K. of P. hall.

All of those present enjoyed a most pleasant evening. Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. C. Richardson and Mrs. Thornburg.

Stag Party—Last Saturday evening Willis Goff entertained about twenty of his friends with a smoker at his home in South Park. The evening was spent in playing 500, after which refreshments were served.

Card Party—Dr. and Mrs. J. S. number of friends at a card party last Saturday night. During the evening oyster cocktail was served and those present report a most pleasant evening.

Homesteaders Surprise—On last Thursday week the Homesteaders gave a pleasant surprise on Mrs. W. W. Ryals. Each one came with well filled baskets and it is needless to say the evening was enjoyed by all those who were present. Games being the entertainment of the evening.

Entertain at Dinner—Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wagner entertained a few friends at dinner. It was very interesting to look over the pictures sent them by Fred Knight who is teaching in the Philippines. Fred is a brother to Mrs. Wagner.

Another P. U. Man Weds—The marriage of Miss Frances Brady and Arthur Maxwell Mears took place at the home of the bride in Irvington, Thursday, Rev. George Thompson officiating. The bride was attired in a handsome gown of ivory-toned satin, gracefully draped with overdress of princess lace trimmed with pearl.

Her only attendant wore a gown of pastel pink satin, embellished with lace overdrapery. Little Virginia Mears was flower girl and Maurice Dooley acted as best man.

After the ceremony a wedding buffet supper was served, after which the bridal couple left for a wedding trip.

Mr. Mears was a student in Pacific University several years ago.

Press Subscription Contest

The judges will be three prominent men of Forest Grove, who will be chosen later on. All the ballots that are issued on subscriptions will be placed in the ballot box during the last week of the contest and these will be canvassed by the judges. The vote coupons that appear in each issue of the paper will be counted weekly by the contest manager and the standing of each candidate published in the next issue of the paper.

If there is anything about the contest that is not clear to you, write, telephone, or call and see the contest manager; he will gladly explain to you.

Prizes for All

To all those not winning one of the regular prizes we will pay a cash commission of ten per cent on the total amount of money collected. This is a contest where you can't lose; all have an equal chance.

Enter Today

Any young lady who desires to enter this contest and win one of the valuable prizes offered should see that her name is sent to the contest department. All that is necessary to win a prize is to receive the largest number of votes, according to conditions mentioned elsewhere in this announcement.

Candidates should at once interest their friends in the contest and by united and energetic action induce as many people as possible to vote for them. The nomination coupon cut from The Press will count 1,000 votes for a candidate.

A Tip How to Win

Naturally, after having read all about The Press Voting Contest, you desire to enter the contest and win. THE FIRST THING TO DO is to enter your name as a candidate, then either call or write the Contest Manager at the office of The Press for a receipt book, with which to secure subscriptions. NEXT, let all your friends know you are in the contest and request them to save their votes for you. All that is necessary to win a prize is to receive the largest number of votes.

Everything Fair and Square

The contest will be conducted in a strictly fair and impartial manner and the fullest investigation is courted at all times. The office records will be open to candidates or friends, assuring every one that everything is square and impartial. No employe of The Press or his family is eligible to compete for these prizes. No special favors will be shown and every one will be assisted alike by the management.

Instructions for Voting

Enter the name of the lady whom you wish to secure one of these valuable rewards in this contest at once. She may win the grand prize. Better still, get the lady to enter her name and then vote for her. Those who get in on the start have the best chance of winning so it is desirable that the name be entered at once in order to get a good start. Candidates who enter the contest do not necessarily have to be subscribers to The Press. Enter your name and your friends will do the rest. You will be surprised to see how rapidly the votes will come in and what little effort is necessary to win one of the awards offered. Get in on the start and encourage your friends to vote for you. The rest will be easy. You will never know how popular you are until you enter a contest of this kind.

After the first announcement of candidates the votes will be counted every Wednesday and the result printed in the next issue of the paper. There will be a short writeup in every issue of the paper from now on until the close of the contest, and those entered can keep in close touch with the contest and competing candidates. Certain it is that seven ladies are going to get these magnificent rewards and it is left to the leaders of The Press to decide.

How Votes Are Secured

In all cases where votes are issued subscriptions must be paid in advance. Votes will also be issued on back collections. The full amount of money must be sent or brought to the Contest Department of The Press.

Special Notice

The rules governing the contest and how prizes will be awarded may be found on Page 5 of this paper.

Any young lady residing in the territory mentioned is eligible to compete in this contest.

Any one who desires to vote on this contest may do so by coupons clipped from The Press and by special vote ballots obtained by subscribing to The Press. The ballots secured by subscribing to The Press may be held as long as desired and voted at any time up to the close of the contest, but coupons cut from The Press as good only for ten days from the publication and will not be counted if voted after the date printed on the ballot.

Persons living in one district are not confined to voting for ladies in their own particular districts, but may vote for any one in the race. The offer affords the young women of Forest Grove and vicinity an excellent opportunity to receive valuable presents at the expense of The Press.

Looking for Brother

The following communication has recently been received by Judge W. R. Stephens, of Dilley:

Any one having any information concerning said party report to this office or Judge Stephens.

Danbury, Conn., Jan. 6, 1914.

Dear Sir:—I am trying to find my brother and as your place is the last place he was in that I know of I think he must be dead. He left here about four years ago and he said he would write to me often and let me know where he was, and he did every month. I heard from him until two years ago. That is the last I have heard from him. I know he rides on freight trains. I thought he might have got killed some way. He never carries letters or cards so any one would not know who he was. His name is Frank Burns. He is 29 years of age and is about five feet, four inches tall, light brown hair, blue eyes, wears a size five shoe. He has a tattooed mark on one arm. I can't remember which one of two letters, F. or B.

Thanking you very kindly, I am very respectfully,
MRS. ANNA FRASER,
9, Beaver street, Danbury, Conn.

A Great Asset

The newspaper that fulfills its trust should prosper with the community whose interests it serves. The day of the poverty-stricken press, seeking pumpkins and wood, vegetables and stray sheep in exchange for its advertising space and subscriptions, has long ago been relegated to humorists of the Bill Nye type. Modern newspapers are business institutions that prosper or fall with the prosperity or failure of the place of publication. Furthermore, the faithful publisher represents the merchant, the farmer, the commercial, financial and social interests of his neighbors, including educational and religious interests. The paper that fails to do this is severely censured, and it finally pays the penalty of its transgressions. A dignified, independent, and prosperous press is therefore one of the greatest assets any town can possess.—Exchange.
