C. E. CONVENTION AT ALBANY IS ATTENDED BY MANY FOLKS

Miss Anna Taylor of This City Elected Secretary

From the very first the sessions were splendidly attended at the twenty-fourth annual State C. E. Convention held at Albany on the 20-21-22d of February. By the afternoon of the first day there had been enrolled 175 visiting delegates and as many more came in on Friday night and Saturday, till we are not exaggerating when we say over 300 were enrolled from out of Albany.

At the business session when the Field Secretary Club and the State Work was presented over $500 in society and individual pledges was raised to support the work. It should have been $2,000, but was a very good showing any way.

Washington County was represented by thirteen delegates as follows: Claude M. Hutchins, president of the County Union; Anna F. Taylor, secretary of County Union; Kennard Dixon, county program committee chairman; Claude Bryant, of Gaston, county lookout committee chairman; Leta Newton, president of Christian Church C. E., Forest Grove; Margaret Lowell, president of Congregational Church C. E., Forest Grove; Elva Head, president of Presbyterian C. E. at Oreno; Miss Ruth Cady and Mr. Willis Cady, of Beaverton; Mr. Alva Patton, of Forest Grove; Miss Lucy Richardson (whom we claimed), and Miss Phillips and Mrs. Gregg, of Tualatin Plains.

Saturday afternoon the four great lines of committee work of the Endeavorers were discussed with much force and earnestness. The Quiet Hour work was so earnestly and well handled by Mr. Ed. C. Cofer, of Portland, that it was estimated nearly 150 young pledged themselves for the first time to take up the Quiet Hour Comradeship, and pledged themselves to give of the morning hour fifteen minutes of prayer and Bible study.

The Tenth Legion Committee work has about the same record of success presented and ably explained by Mr. Alva Patton, of Forest Grove. Many promised to set aside one-tenth of their income for the Lord's work.

The subject of Temperance and Good Citizenship was presented by Miss Anna F. Taylor, of Forest Grove, in which the letter from our National Superintendent of Temperance Work, Daniel V. Poling, was read and supplemented by a few pointed remarks regarding our position as American patriots, and based on this statement from a lecture given by Mr. A. J. Bolster, "No American patriot will protest or tolerate anything which will destroy that for which 'Old Glory' stands," proving that because the legalized liquor traffic did have just that destructive power, it was anti-American, and therefore must be abolished. By whom? By the Endeavorers who are wide awake to the condition of things and have energy enough to tackle a big thing.

The last but not least committee touched was the Missionary Committee Work, and a discussion of how to have interesting missionary meetings, opened and explained by Mr. Lister, president of the Portland City Union.

Though we cannot give all the convention we must speak of the 400 Field Secretary Club banquet held in the First Presbyterian Church, where a jolly good time was had and some splendid toasts were given regarding the work the Field Secretary had done and the work yet to do in our state.

Those of the officers for the new year who were present to take the oath of office at the installation service were: President, re-elected, Mr. G. Evert Baker, Portland, Oregon, Northwestern Bank Building; Field Secretary, re-elected, Mr. H. H. Rottman, whose address is Portland; Vice Presidents, Mr. Homer A. Dowd, Albany, and Mr. Sedgwick, of Creswell, and Secretary, Miss Anna Taylor, of Forest Grove.

Words are inadequate to describe the meeting for men addressed by Dr. Hinson, of the White Temple, Portland; the Junior meeting led by Ed. C. Cofer, a young consecrated evangelist of Portland, in which were conversions; or the great mass meeting for women conducted by Mr. H. H. Rottman, where he probed to the very bottom of the amusement problem, bringing out plainly the dangers and evils of the dance, the card party and the theater-going craze.

The last session Sunday was the crowning meeting of the whole convention, where 1,088 people were assembled to witness one of the most impressive services one can imagine. Just the kind Mr. Rottman always can give; that blessed, sweet decision service where several hundred young people repeated this verse, "Christ shall be magnified in my body whether it be by life or by death."

The writer could not close this account without speaking of the new state office created at this last meeting, that of Convention Evangelist, who will put in his time in the state in evangelistic work in localities where he is needed. We have the young man in mind now who will do this work and all he asks is his expenses and a free will offering. If any place in Washington County you feel the need of such a man and his work, will you not correspond with your county secretary, Miss Anna F. Taylor, about it.

Judge H. L. Benson

Judge H. L. Benson, of Klamath and Lake counties, who is a candidate for the Supreme Bench of Oregon, was a Forest Grove visitor this week and while here made the Press office a pleasant call. He is a brother of the late Frank Benson, former secretary of state.

WEST DAIRY FARMERS ARE DOING BIG THINGS

have a rousing meeting. We expect representatives from the Forest Grove and Banks commercial clubs to be present.

We are going to get out of the "rut" and not be satisfied until this district will be known as the most progressive, up-to-date district in Washington County. Another thing, and one of the most important items, was a movement started to get a County Farm Expert. We want our County Commissioners to provide for an appropriation of $1,000 for this expert next year. We want the county papers to agitate this matter, because we must have some one that can tell us what is the matter and the cure when our crops grow wrong. What to do for our animals, how to improve our stock, how to build and fill our silos, because the silo fever is spreading in this section, and it will not be long before you will not be able to get out of the sight of a silo in this section.

We did not see the editor of The Press last Saturday, and we not only expect but demand that he not only plans to be there, but is there on the second Saturday in March. We want to see what he looks like and become acquainted with him and him with us. We want him to get out among us and find out what we want and help us boost, and in this way we will both help each other.

Mr. Payne Female Impersonator

There are only four in the company but they come advertised as four soloists, three instrumentalists, two readers, one impersonator and 0 "drones." The program is a varied one, the music ranging from these plantation melodies to the more difficult classics. Dialect readings impersonations and piano solos by the "Black Patti" help to make the varied program.

PROGRAM GIVEN BY FRESHIES

Clever Entertainment at College Seen by Large, Appreciative Crowd

Marsh Hall of Pacific University was well filled with students and townspeople last Saturday evening to witness the Washington's Birthday program put on by the Freshman class. This day is always looked forward to, as he Freshies always put on a rattling program, in spite of the contrary belief of their rivals, the Sophs.

Glenn Morgan was stage manager, and every number went off with enthusiasm. Misses Littler and Loynes opened with a piano duet, which was greatly enjoyed. Joe McCoy pleased the audience so well with his bumie bee and Chinman reading that they tried to get him back—but he only smiled and bowed.

Miss Freda Acker sang, "Spring Has Come," and responded with an encore. Then came a class prophecy which had numerous hits on the Sophs., which greatly tickled the risibilities of the audience. A quartet, consisting of Webb, Livingston, McCoy and Rodgers, sang a medley of latest song hits, and were recalled several times. This constituted the first part of the program, and a farce entitled, "A Case of Suspension," the second part of the evening's entertainment.

The cast of characters was as follows: Mildred, Alice and Dorothy, young ladies in the seminary, acted by Edith Swanson, Elida Loynes and Alice Smith; Harold, Jack and Tom, undergraduates in a college near by, acted by Harold Rodgers, Vinton Robinson and Edw. Burns; Miss Opabella Judkins, by Faye Schroeder; Prof. Emilius Judkins, acted by Edward M. Livingston; Kathleen, a Celtic maiden, Edith Winchell, and Jonas, the Seminary man, by L. Webb.

Clever burlesque printed programs, gotten out by the Sophomores, were handed out by the members of that class to the show shoppers as they came in.

SELLS OLD RELIC

Web Hughes Sells Old Family Range After Long Service

This morning his Flap Jacks will have a different taste to J. W. Hughes than they ever have before. Last week he sold the old family range, the same old stove that his bride cooked their first breakfast on many years ago, and at that the stove was just as good as new, only a larger one was necessary and eat up too many dollars in fuel. He has replaced the old reliable with a more modern design, the Colonial, purchased from Goff Bros., of this city.

Blooms but to Die

The tallput palm (Corypha umbraculifera) of Ceylon, whose leaves are put to such numerous uses by the Cingalese, bears fruit but once during its life. This elegant tree measures about ten feet around the trunk and attains a height of about 180 feet. The flowers, the appearance of which presages death to the tree, are inclosed in a tall spathe, which bursts with a loud report, disclosing a huge plume of beautiful blossom. The inflorescence is succeeded by equally conspicuous bunches of fruit. When these have ripened the tree withers rapidly and in the course of a fortnight may be seen prostrate and decaying on the spot it adorned.
