Record-Breaking Lemon

The first of the week Roy Thomas brought us a record breaking lemon received from Harry Gordon Russell, of Santa Cruz, Cal. Mr. Russell was formerly a prominent farmer of this locality, but is now engaged in fruit growing in California. He has practically made himself independent, raising record-breaking lemons of the Panderosa variety. This lemon grows almost to the size of a grapefruit and is very juicy. We certainly have to hand it to Mr. Russell when it comes to raising lemons.

It is reported to the Express that one certain Dilleyite, name not learned, has come to the conclusion that the next time he carried bottled goods in one certain suit case he will see that the fastenings are secure. Last Saturday evening, on arriving at Dilley from the east, this certain party alighted rather abruptly and his suit case became unfastened, spilling out a quart bottle containing an amber-colored liquid. His enemies are sure he has been carrying whiskey and his friends are afraid he has.

The Woman's Club has secured Prof. A. L. Peck, head of the department of Horticultural, O. A. C., to give an illustrated lecture on "Landscape Gardening, as Applied to Local Conditions," at the Star theatre, March 27th, at 2:30 p. m. There will be no admission charged, and we urge every one to come to this most instructive lecture.

Jacob Huber, prominent farmer and old resident of Beaverton, was laid at rest Saturday in the Cedar Mills cemetery. Mr. Huber was 60 years old, having resided on a ranch west of Beaverton for almost 20 years. Having been ailing for some time, he went to St Vincent's hospital for relief, where he died following an operation. Beside a wife, he leaves three children, John, Louise and Emma.
