John Heisler and family are in from Gales City today.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ortman and son, Clarence, were in town yesterday.

Felix Verhoven, a former Forest Groveite, now of Portland, was in the city on business yesterday.

Mrs. A. J. Langley, who has been ill for several weeks, is able to be up and about again, to the relief of her many friends.

The somewhat sensational Lyda case is drawing big crowds to the district court room at Hillsboro daily, with a prospect of lasting the week out.

L. L. Langley, the Portland attorney, visited his mother and sister over Sunday and took a try at trout fishing Monday before returning home.

Bud White, one of the big landowners of Gales City, has purchased, through Walter Roswurm, the U. M. Fair property, on Second avenue north, and will spend his winters in Forest Grove.

Mrs. Dr. P. A. Charlton, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. S. Buxton, for several days, departed yesterday for her home at LaGrand, Mrs. Buxton accompanying her as far as Portland.

Chas. B. Noble of Los Angeles, California, who is the eldest son of M. L. Noble, deceased, and who is executor of his father's estate in California and Oregon, visited at the home of Attorney M. B. Bump Sunday.

A practice game was played on P. U.'s field last Friday afternoon between the baseball teams of the high school and the college. Much interest is being developed in athletics in general and regular practice is now a daily feature.

SOCIAL NOTES

The Passover, Oratorio Cantata, that will be sung Wednesday evening, April 19, at the Congregational church, under the direction of Mrs. E. E. Williams, is one of the most dramatic of the Oratorios, expressing as it does, the pride, the despair, the doubts, the fears and finally the triumphal delivery of this captive people. Costumes and orchestration will transport all back to Pharaoh's time.

Mrs. John Templeton's squad of entertainers put on a program for the Rebekah lodge at the close of the meeting a week ago last night, when a good program of music, recitations and other features was put on. Mrs. Templeton's division will also have charge of next Wednesday night's program.

In connection with the regular picture show, the ladies of the library committee of the Woman's club put on an excellent program of songs, tableaux, etc., at the Star Theatre Tuesday evening. The attendance was good and the entertainment meritorious.

Mrs. H. R. Kauffmann and Miss Beach attended a whist party and luncheon at the home of Mrs. R. M. Erwin at Hillsboro yesterday afternoon.

A Mild Rebuke

Mrs. Roy Hesseltine of this city has been writing her old Kansas neighbors such glowing accounts of the beauties of the Oregon climate that at least one of her friends has evidently decided it was time to call a halt in the Oregon lady's boasting, for a few days since Mrs. Hesseltine received the following from her Kansas friend:

"The Neodesha Sun found this story in an Oregon paper: A man went into a business house and stated that his wife had made up her mind to go back to Western Kansas. 'Back there', he explained, 'she used to sit around and sigh for a tubful of good, soft rain water in which to wash her clothes and it became so tiresome I moved to Oregon. We have been here two months and now she wants to move back to Kansas to get the clothes dried.'"
