

A BUSY WEEK FOR BOYS OF P. U.

found, a good many were heard to express their disappointment, for it placed Mr. Fleischman in fourth place. It is sufficient to say that many who heard Mr. Fleischman had picked him for second place at the lowest, and a number counted on him for first place. Mr. Fleischman displayed rare ability as a public speaker. The other places were awarded in the following order:

Fifth—Jaureguy of the U. of O.
Sixth—Jones of Pacific College.

Smithson and Jones of P. U. tied for first place in rank and very nearly tied in the percent rating. The grades are: Smithson—total average, delivery and composition, 91.5 per cent. Jones—total average, delivery and composition, 90.2 per cent.

The first speaker of the evening was Mr. Jaureguy, of U. of O. His oration was entitled, "The Weapon." Mr. Jaureguy is a typical college man, neat in appearance, with clear-cut features and a good, firm jaw. He spoke in a strong, clear voice that could be distinctly heard by all. His argument on behalf of prohibition was that of the practical man of today, neither visionary nor difficult to comprehend, yet logical and convincing.

The second speaker was Mr. Jones of Newberg, the Quaker college representative. The title of his oration was, "A House Divided." While his oration was not marked by any dramatic talent, he spoke in a clear voice. He gave a good outline of the growth of political parties and their influence in American politics from the time of the founding of the republic to the present time. His argument was logical and practical.

The next speaker was Mr. Smithson of McMinnville. He spoke on "National Efficiency." Mr. Smithson is a fluent speaker, and is apparently right at home before an audience and speaks with ease and grace. He became very earnest and spoke with much enthusiasm. His oration was both pleasing and interesting and his argument sound. He said in part "The present war is a graphic illustration of how the law of the survival of the fittest has been working throughout the ages. This contest is a gigantic struggle of efficiency. The state whose life is freest from decay, whose life has reached the highest degree of internal efficiency, must be the victor. Europe's roaring canons have reverberated around the world and awakened statesmen of all nations to the fact that whatever hinders a state from reaching the highest degree of efficiency must be eradicated."

Mr. Jones of P. U. spoke next. The title of his oration was "Drink and the World Crisis." He spoke with a calm deliberation that showed he was sure of himself. Added to his confident poise before an audience he displayed a voice full of talent for public speaking. His tones were mellow and clear. Mr. Jones makes a good appearance on the platform and shows that he possesses a reserve of intellectual and oratorical powers that will stand him well in hand in the future. His oration was a strong argument in favor of the annihilation of the saloon; clear, logical and practical from the standpoint of the reformer. He presented the view of the man of clean habits and high ideals. In part he said:

"The ruinous effect of drink is felt by every fundamental unit of our national life. It metes out to the individual a weakened will, a defiled body and a deadened conscience. To the home it gives a corrupt father, a wretched mother and children handicapped by a heritage of poverty and disease. While in the school we are endeavoring to fill the minds of youth with noble conceptions of citizenship, the saloon is teaching crime and lawlessness. While the church is striving for the uplift of humanity, the saloon drags men to destruction. But the cause of the greatest alarm is in its civic attack. Trace its course through state records and you will find it insidiously at work, stuffing the ballot box, evading the law, forcing our officials to betray their trust and defeating the will of the honest citizens. Its record of debauchery is a scar across the face of the republic."

Mr. Fleischman of the Eugene Bible University was the next speaker. His oration was entitled, "Unlawful License for Unlawful Business." Mr. Fleischman is an easy, pleasing speaker and possesses dramatic talent. He is taking part in a play in one of the leading Portland theaters this week. He spoke in a clear, pleasing voice and his oration was delivered with a sincere earnestness and power. His was more of an appeal to the emotions than any of the other orations. He told of the alliance the government formed with the saloon at the time of the civil war and how it has gradually gained more and more power in American politics since. He held his audience interested from first to last and closed with a climax in which he displayed his power to sway an audience. His climax was a dramatic appeal to the best in American citizenship.

The last speaker of the evening was Mr. Blatchford of Willamette. His oration was entitled, "Prohibition and National Efficiency." He spoke with much earnestness, giving a recital of the influences at work against the saloon and reasons for the growing opposition to the American saloon. "Preparedness by Prohibition" was a new slogan introduced in his oration.

While the judges were deliberating, the P. U. male quartet rendered a number of pleasing selections. An informal reception at Herrick Hall in honor of the speakers and delegates followed the decision of the judges. A delightful hour was spent, in which refreshments were served and musical numbers rendered by the girls of the dormitory in the spacious parlors of the Hall.

Inter-Class Field Day

The annual Inter-Class Field Meet was held Monday afternoon, April 17th. The weather was very unfavorable for making any high records yet in some events last year's records were surpassed. The Sophomores were easily the winners of the day, having won a total of 77 points out of the 129 points made by all classes. The Freshmen came next with a total of 21 points; the Juniors were next with 19 points and the Seniors last with 12 points. Lucas was the high-point man with 29 points and Wilcox was second with 16 points to his credit. The sensation of the day was the thrills featured in the "dark horses" entering in a number of the events. Webb featured as the first "dark horse" when he tied with Goodman for second place in the pole vault. However, Jones won first place easily by going 9 feet 6 inches and all but cleared the bamboo at 10 feet.

The greatest thrill of the day was the mile race. Two "dark horses" entered this event who had not trained for it—Ireland and Webb, better known for their success with ball and mit. In the first lap Webb took an easy long-run gallop, but ran off from his competitors like they were mere Lilliputians. He maintained a big lead right up to the last half of the last lap. Here Ireland created a real thrill when he, charging like a cavalry horse going into battle, began to pass those ahead of him. He soon was up with Webb, but he was still charging like mad. Webb was for the first time following. Here the spectators went wild with enthusiasm and the finish was truly dramatic. "War-horse" Ireland crossed the finish line by a good lead over Webb, who was still able to hold his lead over the rest of the runners and won second honors. Logan, the Freshman who was expected to win at least second place, dropped out near the finish. Paul also was expected to finish well, but he, too, was more tired than the two "dark horses" appeared to be. War-horse Ireland was the best man of the bunch at the close of the sensational race.

In the javelin throw, Russel Morgan surprised everyone by winning first place with comparative ease. His throw was 129 feet, 7 inches. Morgan is a six footer and a member of the Freshman class.

In the 440-yard race "Hap" Morgan was the "dark horse" that tied with Turner for first place. The funny part of it was that no one was more surprised than "Hap" himself. The finish was both a great surprise and very exciting.

The winners of the different events are as follows:

Fifty-yard dash—Lucas (Soph.) first; time 6 1-10; Robinson (Fresh.) second; Wilcox (Soph.), third.

Shot put—Livesay (Soph.) 1st; 32 feet 7 inches; Lucas (Soph.) 2nd; 32 feet 4 inches; Wilcox (Soph.) 3rd.

Pole vault—Jones (Soph.) 1st, 9 feet 6 inches; Goodman (Soph.) 2nd, 9 feet; Webb (Jun.) 2nd, 9 feet. Goodman and Webb tied for second, with 9 feet.

100-yard dash—Lucas (Soph.) 1st, time 10 flat; Potts (Fresh.) 2nd; Robinson (Fresh.) 3rd.

120-yard hurdles—Wilcox (Soph.) 1st, time 17 2-5 sec.; Reeher (Jun.) 2nd.

Mile race—Ireland (Soph.) 1st, time 5 min. 17 sec.; Webb (Jun.) 2nd; Irle (Fresh.) 3rd.

440-yard race—Turner (Soph.) 1st, time 1 min. 3-5 sec.; Morgan (Jun.) 1st, time 1 min. 3-5 sec.; Barendrick (Fresh.) 3rd.

High jump—Dibble (Sen.) 1st; Wilcox (Soph.) 2nd; Lucas (Soph.) 3rd; Jones (Soph.) 3rd.

Discus throw—Lucas (Soph.) 1st, 104 ft., 2 in.; Fenenga (Fresh.) 2nd; Donaldson (Sen.) 3rd.

220-yard hurdles—Dibble (Sen.) 1st, time 30 2-5 sec.; Reeher (Jun.) 2nd; Morgan (Fresh.) 3rd. In this race Wilcox was about to pass Dibble, but, when he went over the last hurdle, he tripped and fell.

Javelin throw—Morgan (Fresh.) 1st, 129 feet, 7 inches; Wilcox (Soph.) 2nd; Livesay (Soph.) 3rd.

220-yard dash—Lucas (Soph.) 1st, time 19 3-5 sec.; Potts (Fresh.) 2nd; Robinson (Fresh.) 3rd.

Half-mile race—Ireland (Soph.) 1st, time 2 min. 23 sec.; Morgan (Jun.) 2nd; Morgan (Fresh.) 3rd.

Broad jump—Lucas (Soph.) 1st, 20 ft. 5 1-2 in., (Beating his record for last year about 8 inches); Wilcox (Soph.) 2nd; Reeher (Jun.) 3rd.

The half-mile relay race was won by Turner, Ireland, Wilcox and Lucas of the Sophs; Robinson, Swanson, Fowler and Potts, Freshmen, second; Dibble, Austin, Donaldson and Ricker, Seniors, third; Morgan, Paul, Webb and Reeher, Juniors, fourth.

Won First Ball Game

The first baseball game of the season was played on the local diamond Saturday when the team from Christian Brothers' Business college of Portland played the P. U. team. While the game was a practice game, it was both interesting and close. It was a pitchers' battle from start to finish.

The visiting team was greatly strengthened by the addition of a professional pitcher and shortstop, who were put in for the game. The result was that the final score stood 5 to 3 in P. U.'s favor, which is a much closer score than was expected.

Webb, P. U.'s pitcher, fanned out 11. Sullivan, C. B. B. C., fanned out 12. Webb allowed 3 hits.

Sullivan allowed 6 hits. Fowler of P. U. was the whirlwind batter of the game. He made three hits, two of which were three-baggers.

The next game will be with Pacific College at Newberg. This will be next Saturday and will be the first Non-Conference.
