NOTES AND PERSONALS

Born—Tuesday morning to Mr. and Mrs. John Buchanan, a daughter.

Two residences were burned in Hillsboro during the high wind yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Harriet Chedle visited her sister, Mrs. Frank Taylor, in Portland last week.

For Sale—Three, coming two-year-old heifers. All bred. C. R. Fields, Banks, Ore., R. 1.

The newspaper boys of Washington county will hold a quarterly meeting at Cornelius next Saturday.

The Gaston Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will hold an anniversary celebration Saturday evening of this week.

Prof. Frank Taylor spent Sunday with his wife in Portland, who is recovering from an operation at the St. Vincent's hospital.

VanKoughnet & Reder have purchased the school books from K. N. Staehr and will now be headquarters for school books and supplies. 16-1t

Word from the Good Samaritan hospital, Portland, is to the effect that Mrs. Charles VanDoren is recovering nicely from her recent operation.

Sixty members of the Hillsboro Commercial Club were entertained by the Beaverton Chamber of Commerce at a smoker and program Tuesday evening.

A ladies' prayer meeting will be held at three o'clock Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. M. Taylor. Mrs. Taylor is an invalid and a good attendance is sired.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ortman, who have been visiting the former's parents, Bernard Ortman and wife, departed Friday for their home at Dallas, accompanied by Clarence, who goes for a visit with his brother and family.

Mrs. J. Francis Ashley received a telegram Wednesday morning that her mother is very ill. She and her three little boys left Wednesday afternoon for the home of her mother in Bi marck, Illinois.

Mrs. Walter Roswurm returned yesterday from Portland, where she represented the local lodge of Knights and Ladies of Security in the state convention.

John Wegner, one of Forest Grove's blacksmiths has purchased the house and property at the north end of College Way which was formerly called, The Traveler's Home. For the past year it has housed the Boys Club of the College.

On account of advanced age and failing eyesight, K. N. Staehr, the veteran stationer and music dealer, has decided to retire and he is disposing of his stock to local dealers. What cannot be sold at wholesale, will probably be sacrificed at retail.

Initiated Six

The officers and members of Washington Encampment No. 24, I. O. O. F., initiated six into the mysteries of their order last night, two from this city and four from Banks, the latter being Ed. Schneider, Floyd Dooley, William Davies and Carl Wilcox. The Banks candidates were accompanied by Fred and Dick Wilcox, R. M. Banks and A. W. Mills, who came to see that nothing was overlooked in the way of trimmings. The only thing lacking to make the thing a success was the presence of Bob Taylor, who is now in Washington.

A big feed was spread after the conferring of the first degree in order that the candidates might have strength to withstand the toilsome journey through the wilderness and desert of the second and third degrees.

Surprised Mr. Moore.

Having learned that their leader, Enoch Moore, was leaving Sunday to make his home in South Dakota, the members of the Forest Grove band last evening tendered that gentleman and his daughters a farewell reception at the C. R. Lasham home. The affair was a surprise to the guests of honor. The evening was spent at a musical program, consisting of orchestral numbers, solos and duets, followed by refreshments. Mr. Moore was presented with a clarinet and Miss Riene Moore with a bouquet of beautiful carnations. The Moores have been residents of Forest Grove for six years, during which time they have been very prominent in musical circles and it is with keen regret the members of the band see the family leaving.

DILLEY NEWS NOTES

Henry DeShazer and wife were shopping in the Grove on Thursday.

Mrs. Tom Hundley, who underwent an operation at the Good Samaritan hospital last week, is reported doing nicely.

Mrs. Frank McBride went to Portland last week for a short stay with friends.

John Ellis was attending to business in the Grove Thursday.

A school meeting of much importance was held at the school house on Saturday. The question was, "Do we need and can we maintain a high school?" After much controversy, a vote was taken, and the count stood 33 for the school and 49 against. Harold Hansen was elected director to fill the place left by the death of Frank Maury.

Gus Blythe of The Dalles ran down to visit over Sunday with home folks.

Miss Hazel Hundley went to Portland Saturday to visit with her mother, who is in the hospital.

Rudy, the youngest son of John Hardebeck, is very sick with pneumonia.

V. D. Jaques drove to Portland on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hughes and party of friends motored to Tigard Wednesday to attend Pomona Grange.

Mrs. Herman Saling was calling on Mrs. George Hoar Tuesday afternoon.

Alumni Meeting

The alumni association of Forest Grove High school will meet in the Y. M. C. A. room at Marsh Hall, 7:30 p. m. Friday, April 28, 1916.

All members are urgently requested to attend.

Josephine Ward, Sec.

The Hillsboro Independent states that preparations are complete for the fifth annual spelling contest and juvenile festival to be held in that city next Saturday. This is a county affair and last year more than 800 school children participated. The schools of Hillsboro, Orenco, Cornelius, North Plains and Gaston will be represented by pupils who have "spelled down" all competitors in their own schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Boos left Sunday for Clifton, Oregon, where they will spend the summer on the Columbia.

Hancock & Wiles carry Life, Accident & Fire Insurance. 1-tf
