Steamer Roanoke Lost

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Cal., May 10.—The steamer Roanoke, which left San Francisco at midnight, May 8, for Valpariso, foundered at sea about 100 miles south of San Francisco, according to the story told by three survivors, who, in a lifeboat with the dead bodies of five of their shipmates, drifted ashore here today.

The survivors, weak and partly delirious, were unable at first to give their names or any information of the rest of the crew beyond the fact that four other boats had been launched when the steamer sank.

The following of the Roanoke's officers are among the missing: Captain Richard Dickson and his wife; Charles J. Greene, first officer; John G. Dennis, second officer; Chas. Peterson, third officer; D. McInnes, first engineer; Thos. C. Salter, first assistant engineer.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The McMinnville High boys came to Forest Grove on Wednesday and played baseball with Forest Grove High. The score was 13 to 0 in favor of McMinnville.

Last Friday the High School baseball team went to Vancouver, but when they got there it began raining so hard the game had to be put off. This seems to be rather hard luck for our boys with Vancouver, for when they went there to play basketball there was a silver thaw and so the game had to be called off.

Miss Edna Iler has returned to school again, after several days' illness.

The Optimist will be on sale from May 9th. Everybody should buy one; you will get your money's worth.

Under the auspices of the Parent-

Teacher's association, Dr. Todd spoke at the High School Friday evening on the "Care of the Teeth." The meeting was well attended and appreciated as it was of much educational value to all.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN

Mrs. K. B. Penfield, Editor

It isn't the crank who is putting the saloon out of business. It's the business man, the railroad man, the banker, the lawyer, the merchant, the men who have to depend upon someone else for efficiency in the various departments of the important work and who have observed the killing effect of booze on the men who have to be responsible for important work.

The saloon is up against the modern business age. It is up against an enemy that it cannot throttle or buy or browbeat or bluff, and it might as well save what it can and go out of business.---Wichita Beacon.

At the present time it is not so much a question of what woman suffrage has done for California in the way of making and repealing laws as what woman suffrage has done for the women themselves, according to the testimony of a California woman. Mrs. Rose Berry, speaking before the Leisure Hour Club of Carson City, Nevada, said that the head of a fashionable Los Angeles manicure parlor was asked what she knew of the workings of woman suffrage in that city. She said that it used to be that after a visit from three or four of her patrons she knew all the gossip of their social set, of their neighborhoods and homes, the parties they had attended, what this one wore; what that one said, etc. Now, when these same women visit her parlors, they discuss civic and State affairs --- sanitary conditions, better streets and roads, pure food laws, or speculate as to how certain candidates for political office will stand on this or that reform measure.
