Jersey Breeders

Had a Good Time

The quarterly meeting of the Washington County Jersey club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Buxton, a mile and a half northwest of this city, yesterday afternoon, with President Wm. Schulmerich presiding and Secretary Geo. Withwombe keeping the minutes. More than one hundred persons, about half of them from this city, attended the meeting and enjoyed the excellent cafeteria dinner served at noon. And it was some dinner, including fried spring chicken, several other kinds of meat, vegetables, salads, pies, cake, coffee and good Jersey cream.

After the secretary had read the minutes of the meeting held in Hillsboro in March, Dr. O. H. Holmes was requested to make a talk on "Organization," and he made it plain that the farmers and dairymen were producing enough to prosper, but he thought, as do many others, that they were not getting enough for their products—too much was lost between producer and consumer.

Ben Denny of Beaverton discussed the relation of the Agricultural College to the dairymen. He was of the opinion that too little attention was paid by farmers and dairymen to the advice given by college men.

Ed Cary of Lafayette gave an interesting talk on milk-testing and the importance of keeping only those cows which showed a profit.

Col. J. W. Hughes advised all dairymen to bring their best stock to the Washington county fair and show what they have. It is the cheapest and best advertising they can get, he said.

Dr. Brooke of Portland asked if anybody could tell him what to feed to increase the richness of milk and President Schulmerich replied that the only way to improve the quality was to breed for quality. C. A. Broderson suggested that feeding hops might improve the flavor of the milk.

A. T. Buxton was very glad so many had come to his place and invited them to come again; he hoped in a few years to have much better stock to show them. He believed that when more and better Jerseys were on the farms of Washington county the dairymen would be more prosperous. He doesn't believe there is such a thing as a dual purpose cow—if you want milk and cream at the minimum cost, you must have Jerseys, which do not make much beef.

Mrs. Buxton suggested to the dairymen's wives that they get together and organize an association and this matter will be taken up later.

President Hurley and Secretary Reder of the fair association asked the Jersey club members, as well as all other owners of cows, to bring them to the fair this fall and conduct a milk-testing contest. They promise to take good care of all exhibits and promised a good time to all who came. President Hurley stated that the Commercial club was planning a dinner soon and he would see that the Jersey club members were invited.

E. W. Haines told how dairying had improved the conditions of the farmers of Washington county and advocated co-operative marketing.

Dr. Holmes moved a vote of thanks to the ladies for the splendid dinner, the motion was carried, the audience sang "America" and the meeting was over.

Died in Montana

News came from Stevensville, Mont., this morning of the death at that place last night of James N. Enchede, a well-known resident of this city. Death was due to heart failure. Mr. Enchede, who is about 60 years of age, has been for the past five years chief orchardist for the Bitter Root Irrigation company at Stevensville, but, on account of the superior educational facilities this city offered his children, he left his family here, making occasional trips to visit them.

James N. Enchede and family came to Forest Grove about 10 years ago and deceased has, during that time, proven himself a kind husband, an indulgent parent and a good citizen. He is survived by a widow, four sons and three daughters, the youngest child being 8 years of age. All the children will be here to attend the funeral, which will probably be held Sunday, except Robert, who left Monday to seek employment in the canneries of Alaska.

Deceased was a member of Holbrook lodge No. 30, A. F. & A. M., and that organization will have charge of the funeral. The body is expected to arrive Saturday.

Aged Citizen Called

Dietrich Koeneman, aged 78, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Louisa Reinemer, in this city last Tuesday, general debility, due to age, being the cause of death.

Deceased was born in Germany in 1838 and came to America during the civil war. For y-seven years ago, at St. Louis, Mo., he was united in marriage with Louisa Beister, who preceded him to the beyond 22 years ago. Deceased came to Oregon in 1902, settling at Cornelius, and has lived in this city and Cornelius ever since that time. He was a member of the German Lutheran church and was counted a kind father and good neighbor.

Mr. Koeneman is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Reinemer of this city and Mrs. Etta Petersen of Portland.

Funeral services were held at the Buxton chapel at 10 o'clock this morning, Rev. Strube of Blooming officiating. The remains were interred at Cornelius.

LOCAL ROSE SHOW

A GREAT SUCCESS

Hundreds of country people came to town to enjoy the show and parades and a few came from surrounding towns, but the crowd was mostly from the farms.

Little Jeanette Straub, who paraded as a nurse, has a right to wear the uniform, for the Express is informed she took entire care of a baby sister three months this spring while her mother was ill.

Quite a number of the business houses had handsomely-decorated windows. Among those noticed by the writer were the Book Store, John Bailey, C. A. Littler, the 5 and 10c Store, Goff Bros., the Gordon Hardware company, Schultz Market, A. G. Hoffman, the Pacific Market, King & Co. and Caples.

George Hancock, W. H. French, William Schultz and John Menamer, as mounted officers, lent a martial air to the parade.

It is announced that J. E. Deeks and Mary Ellen Ralston, well known residents of this city, will be united in marriage this evening.
