Christian Scientists

Erecting Church

The trustees of the Forest Grove Christian Science church last week closed a contract with J. S. Loynes for the erection of a handsome and commodious house of worship on the lot just west of the Forest Grove Hotel and yesterday afternoon Mrs. A. F. Rogers, a member of the congregation, lifted the first shovelful of dirt for the foundation. Men and teams are now engaged in excavating for the foundation walls.

The building is to be of red pressed brick, laid with white mortar, will be 40x65 feet and will cost in the neighborhood of $6,000. The contract calls for the completion of the edifice by Oct. 15th.

Southern Pacific Visitors

Two parties of Southern Pacific railroad officials have visited Forest Grove since last Friday, at which time John M. Scott, the genial general passenger agent, chaperoned around the loop, Traveling Passenger Agent N. M. Kean of Chicago; Joseph W. Crump, assistant ticket agent at Boston; W. C. Gilbert, purser of the S. S. Antilles, and Everett W. Williams, traveling freight and passenger agent at Kansas City, Mo.

On Tuesday A. D. Wick, city passenger agent at Portland; Albert H. Boyd, traveling freight and passenger agent at Boston; C. E. Shankling, general agent at Baltimore, Md., and S. C. Chiles, district agent at Buffalo, N. Y., made the trip. The eastern men highly complimented Forest Grove on the excellent water supplied the local depot, saying it was so far above the average as to be a treat.

Cherries and Berries

Hoffman and Nichols Monday started up the loganberry juice plant and are taking on quite a lot of the juicy logans, while the cannery is taking cherries and raspberries, with a few logans. The cherry crop is short, owing to the berries bursting from excessive moisture, but the logan crop is quite heavy, although they are ripening rather slowly.

War Talk Raises Prices on GUNS and AMMUNITION

During the past sixty days Gun and Ammunition prices have advanced from 10 to 20 per cent and the end of the rise is not yet. These advances have not bothered us so far, as we are fortunate in having purchased 300,000 rifle and 40,000 shot-gun shells (just received) before the prices began to climb.

Until July 22d

we will sell Rifles and Shot guns and shells for either at same prices as last year. After the supply now on hand is exhausted, we will be compelled to readjust our prices.

Right now we can save you $2.00 on a case of shot-gun shells.

SOCIAL NOTES

Miss Manche Langley entertained a number of friends at a Fourth of July feast Tuesday. Those present were Rev. and Mrs. Holmes, Lulu and Halbert Holmes, Dr. and Mrs. Walker, Dr. and Mrs. Brookbank and two children, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Williams, Mary Olmsted and Mrs. and Miss Manche Langley. After the dinner the party went by auto to Hillsboro, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Caples, Dr. and Mrs. Walker went on to Portland to the celebration, the rest of the company returning to Forest Grove. The Holmes and Williams families and Miss Olmsted were guests to supper at the Langley home, after which the party went to the movies. They reported a great day, every minute of which was filled with merriment.

The members of the M. E. Bible class and other members of the congregation enjoyed a picnic dinner on the H. N. Robinson lawn Tuesday, being inclined toward a sane and enjoyable observance of the nation's anniversary.

Last Sunday Mr. E. L. Cummins and wife of Thatcher and Mr. Ben Willard of Forest Grove, were the dinner guests of Mr. Herbert Deuell and his mother on their farm near Dilley. Herbert is the P. U. student who won recognition last year as a reader, accompanying the Glee Club last spring.

Mrs. C. L. VanKoughnet is entertaining a half hundred ladies at cards and lunch at Lakota farm this afternoon.

Last Monday's Portland Journal contained a report to the effect that Al Long, editor of the Hillsboro Argus, had plead guilty to having assaulted L. A. Fernsworth, editor of the Banks Herald, and having paid a fine of $5.00 for his breach of the peace. Editor Fernsworth has joined the National Guard and expects to go to Mexico.

W. L. Tobey, et al, vs. James Scanlan. Suit for the recovery of $550 due the plaintiff on a certain note.

Daisy Gonghlin vs. G. B. Gonghlin. Suit for divorce. The plaintiff alleges that she was grossly mistreated and that the defendant has disregarded his marriage vows. She asks $1800 alimony, to be paid in installments of $30.00 until the entire amount has been paid.

The Liekok Company, a Japanese corporation, is suing E. M. Chandler Lumber Company for money to the amount of $470, for wages alleged to be due Japanese laborers, with interest on the above sum and costs of the action.

Mary V. Cassidy vs. William D. Cassidy. Also a suit for divorce on the alleged grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment and non-support. The plaintiff alleges that on several occasions, before friends and relatives, the defendant has falsely accused her.

Alma Ingle is suing Earl W. Ingle

for divorce, alleging that he is a habitual drunkard and continually comes home in a state of gross intoxication. She asks her maiden name and the costs of the action.

Leola B. Oakes vs. Millage E. Oakes. Suit for divorce, the plaintiff alleging that the defendant is guilty of cruelty, desertion, and improper conduct. She asks alimony, amounting to $10 per month.

Philip C. Peik is suing Louis Neilson for damages, alleging that Neilson assaulted him with a club on the day of June 17, knocked him down and rendered him unconscious, greatly injuring him, which has resulted in ill health, verging on a nervous break down. As a balm to his injured dignity and for his humiliation, he asks $90 to pay his doctor bill, $22.50 for loss of time, $5000 for the humiliation and physical pain which he suffered, and $1000 for punitive damages. Peik is a resident of the Huber district, a mile west of Beaverton, and Neilson is a sawmill owner. The trouble is reported to have arisen over the treatment another man is alleged to have received at the hands of Neilson at the sawmill.
