Catholic Harvest Fete Full of Interest

While the attendance at the Catholic Harvest Fete, being held in the Golden Rule store room, north of Tucker's garage, has been rather light, those who have attended have had a good time. Good meals are served from 5:30 to 7:00 every evening (25c) and a dinner ticket includes admission to either a play or vaudeville performance. Tuesday night the players put on "Aunty," last night it was "Aunt Susan," tonight the talent from Cornelius will put on a vaudeville performance, Friday night the play will be "Who's a Coward," and on Saturday night "The Country Relation" will be the attraction. During the days and evenings pretty and useful articles are for sale in the various booths at the fete. If you haven't been attending, you should do so. The entertainments are worth while.
