Word has been received from California to the effect that Mrs. John Williams, who left this city some two years ago, with her husband, had suffered a stroke of paralysis and that her physician had little hopes for her recovery. Mr. and Mrs. Williams at one time conducted the Moore store, on Pacific Avenue.

Charley Giguere was delighted Thursday to receive word that his brother, Joe, of Frisco would be in Portland that evening, so Charley hurried to Portland to meet his brother, who he had not seen for five years, but Joe failed to show up, having been called back to California before he reached Portland.

C. L. Crosley, a former resident of this city, now living at Albany, writes the editor of the Express that Mrs. Crosley was operated on at Albany Hospital on the morning of Dec. 3d and is recovering nicely. The operation was performed by Dr. B. R. Wallace, who, Mr. Crosley says, is a noted surgeon of Albany. Dr. Wallace was assisted by Dr. Davis of Bremerton, Wash., a naval surgeon of wide experience. Mr. Crosley expects his wife to be on her feet by Christmas.

Pioneer Citizen Called

Casper Jasper, aged 73, and one of the pioneer farmers of Washington county, passed to his reward at his home, one mile north of this city, Friday, Dec. 8.

Deceased was born in Holland in 1843 and came to America with his parents when ten years of age. Until he reached manhood's estate, he lived in Wisconsin, where he was united in marriage with Miss Petrona Bernards. The family came to Washington county forty-five years ago and located in the Greenville district, later moving to the farm where Mr. Jasper passed away. Mrs. Jasper died nine years ago. Six children survive, as follows: Walter, Theodore and Edward of Portland, John of Tillamook, Mrs. Martin Goenans of Lebanon and Mrs. Peter Vanaudenhagen, the last-named living on the home place with the father.

Casper Jasper enjoyed the good will and respect of all who knew him. He was honest in his dealings with his fellowman, kind to his family and a good citizen in all respects.

Funeral services were held at St. Anthony's church in this city.
