GROWING SWEET CORN

PLANT SOME VARIETY AT SHORT INTERVALS UP TO AUGUST.
 Loses Quality Very Rapidly After Being Picked—Does Best in Fertile Soil, But Adapts Itself to All Textures.

Sweet corn should always be found in the home garden when space allows, since it loses quality very rapidly after being picked. Its sugar changes into starch, so that to have it at its best it should be on the fire within 15 minutes after being pulled from the stalk.
 Corn does best in a fertile soil, but is able to adapt itself to all textures from sand to clay. To grow it in sufficient quantities for the average family requires more space, however, than for most garden vegetables. It should not be planted until after danger of frost is past.
 The rows should be spaced not closer than three feet apart, and for the larger growing late varieties the distance had best be three and one-half feet. Stalks should be thinned to stand from 15 to 18 inches in the row. In planting, the seed is covered with one or two inches of soil. Cultivation must be thorough, frequent and shallow.

It is possible to use the ground occupied by early corn for a fall planting of such crops as spinach, turnips and kale. Large, late varieties, however, will occupy the ground for practically the whole season.

For early use the yellow sweet corns have recently become quite popular. Of course the Golden Bantam is a well-known variety. Early Minnesota has long been a favorite. White Mexican is a valuable early corn. Early Malakof is a very early sort of excellent quality, which does better in the North than in the middle states, however. Early Adams is a variety frequently grown for market, and its virtues are rather those of the market than of the table. It is a flint corn, not a sweet corn, but if used during the very short period when its qualities are at their best, its flavor is good.

It is possible to have a fairly long season of usable corn if three varieties, such as Golden Bantam, Crosby and Country Gentleman are planted simultaneously in early spring. To make the season continuous until frost, however, it will be necessary to plant some variety at intervals of two or three weeks up to the last of July. Crosby is a very good variety for this purpose.

"VELVET" FROM SHEEP FLOCK
 Animals Will Mow Orchard and Keep Down Weeds About Windbreaks, Fences and Buildings.

A small flock will mow the orchard and keep down the weeds about windbreaks, fences and buildings. All of this is simply incidental "velvet" as the wool clip pays for the flock's keep. The mutton return is the main source of profit.

Good Ditching Machine.
 A good ditching machine will do all the ditching on your farm at an amazingly low cost. It will terrace the hillsides and clear out the old ditches.

Improving Dairy Herd.
 Improvement in the dairy herd lies in better breeding, in better housing and in better feed in greater quantities.

Avoid All Dead Ones.
 There can be no success from sick animals. Neither will sick or dead seed bring profitable returns.

Matter of Good Judgment.
 Successful farming is largely a matter of good judgment and of "taking time by the forelock."

BEEES INCREASE FRUIT CROP

Little Honey Gatherers Carry Pollen From One Blossom to Another—Weather Counts.

Bees will pay well for their keep in honey, but that is not all the good they do. They increase the fruit crop by fertilizing the blossoms. If there were no bees nor similar insects there would be little fruit. The wind cannot be depended on to do the necessary work of carrying the pollen (that yellow powder) from the male blossoms to the female blossoms. Most of this work is done by the bees in their trips from blossom to blossom.

Weather at the time the orchard blooms has much to do with the size of the crop. If it is wet, cloudy and cold, the bees cannot work as they will when it is clear and warm. Consequently fewer blossoms are fertilized and there is less fruit.

You may have noticed that some times one side of an apple tree will be set heavily with fruit, while there will be little or none on the other side. This is often caused by strong, cold winds that prevent the bees from working on the exposed side of the tree.

SAVE ALL BREEDING ANIMALS

Department of Agriculture Urges Farmers Not to Be Tempted With Present High Prices.

"Don't sell your breeding animals unless you can replace them immediately with better ones," is the message the United States department of agriculture is sending to farmers and stockmen everywhere. Don't let the temptation of high prices now being offered for live stock or undue fear of the prices asked for many popular feeds mislead you into selling a cow or sow that will drop the golden calf or litter. Such near-sighted profit-taking or lack of courage, if widespread, would strike at the foundation of the country's live stock industry and cripple it for years to come. As there is a shortage of meat animals throughout the world, we cannot hope to import new breeding stock to replace those we foolishly have killed off. Our own breeding animals, therefore, must be regarded as the seed essential to the domestic meat supply of the nation.

supported frame, a second frame movable with relation to the first and carrying teeth, means to adjust and maintain the teeth in spaced relation with the ground and means for elevating the second frame."

CARE OF HARNESS ESSENTIAL

Horses Never Look Their Full Value in Shabby, Patched-Up Affair—Prices Going Higher.

The harness has a lot to do with the appearance of a team. The animals never look their full value in a shabby, patched-up affair, while, on the other hand, the veriest plugs are vastly improved in appearance by a bright, well-kept harness.

But that isn't all. With the high and rising cost of leather care of the harness is wise economy. Harness that is never cleaned and oiled soon stiffens up and goes to pieces. The sewing breaks, the buckles rust and the leather loses its life.

An occasional cleaning and scrubbing with warm water and good soap, followed by a thorough oiling with neatfoot oil, when the leather has pretty well dried, will add years to the life of a harness.

In the Old Days.

It Works! Try It
 Tells how to loosen a sore, tender corn so it lifts out without pain.

No humbug! Any corn, whether hard, soft or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift out, without a particle of pain or soreness.

This drug is called freezone and is a compound of ether discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callous.

Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callous. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the corn or callous will loosen and can be lifted off with the fingers.

This drug freezone doesn't eat out the corns or callouses but shrivels them without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Just think! No pain at all; no soreness or smarting when applying it or afterwards. If your druggist don't have freezone have him order it for you.

CLIMBED STAIRS ON HER HANDS

Too Ill to Walk Upright. Operation Advised. Saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This woman now raises chickens and does manual labor. Read her story: Richmond, Ind.—"For two years I was so sick and weak with troubles from my age that when going up stairs I had to go very slowly with my hands on the steps, then sit down at the top to rest. The doctor said he thought I should have an operation, and my friends thought I would not live to move into our new house. My daughter asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had taken it with good results. I did so, my weakness disappeared, I gained in strength, moved into our new home, did all kinds of garden work, shoveled dirt, did building and cement work, and raised hundreds of chickens and ducks. I cannot say enough in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and if these facts are useful you may publish them for the benefit of other women."—Mrs. M. O.
