Dr. Abraham, late of Hood River, writes his father-in-law, John Templeton, that he has been made an instructor in the medical reserve, at Fort Riley, Kas.

Misses June and Nellie Walker made a trip to Portland Saturday, Miss Elsie accompanying them, having completed her month's work as cashier at the Y. W. C. A. cafeteria.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Littler returned Saturday from a week's visit at Seattle, Tacoma and Chehalis, Wash. They attended the "Buyers' Convention" at Seattle and were treated royally.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Bernard Saturday received some nice trout, sent them from the Trask near Newport, by their son-in-law, Norris Rogers, who, with Mrs. Rogers, camped and fished on the Trask for two weeks.

The first deer to be brought into Forest Grove this season was brought in by Roy Watkins and Harry Giltner Friday evening. It was a three-prong buck and was killed on the divide between Scoggins Valley and Wilson river.

Hugh Watson visited with the Claude Smith family Saturday afternoon and Sunday, returning to Chehalis, Wash., Sunday evening. Mrs. Watson will continue her visit the rest of the week. The Smith's and their guests enjoyed a picnic dinner up Gales Creek Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton McGill and Howard McGill, all of Portland, visited at the J. F. McGill home in this city over Sunday. Both the McGill boys have good positions in Portland and Clinton was married last Thursday evening to Miss Adah Stanford, a most charming young woman, the marriage taking place at the home of the bride's parents.

Why Country Meat Is Often Rejected

Portland, Ore., Aug. 20, 1917.

To the Editor:

Would you kindly give me space in your valuable columns to sound a word of caution and advice to farmers who are preparing dressed meats to be sold in Portland and other cities within the state.

A great amount of this meat is condemned and ordered destroyed because of reaching the market in a condition unfit for food. This is not only a direct loss to the farmer who ships it, but in such times, when we are exercising every effort in the line of food conservation, it is a loss to the consuming public, and we feel a great deal of such loss could be avoided if farmers and butchers would properly prepare their meats, taking necessary precaution to see that it reaches the market in the best possible condition.

Dr. E. E. Chase, chief meat inspector of the City Health Department of Portland, informs me that during the last 16 months there has been condemned 18,426 pounds of meat that was killed and dressed by farmers, and this condemnation has not been on account of a diseased condition of meat, but simply on account of what is termed "spoiled meat."

We feel that if farmers and butchers will observe the following requirements, much of this loss can be eliminated:

First, the carcasses of veal and hogs must be entirely free from animal heat before being offered to the transportation company for shipment.

Second, all carcasses of veal should have two sticks, one in the thoracic cavity, the other in the abdominal cavity, so as to spread the carcass and hold it apart. In hogs weighing over 200 pounds it would be well to have them split through the hips and shoulders, as hogs sour very quickly during hot weather. Thoroughly wash the inside of the veal with hot water and wipe with a clean cloth until all slime and dampness is thoroughly removed; the sprinkling of cayenne pepper on the inside of the carcass tends to prevent the work of flies.

All carcasses, except veal, must be wrapped in a clean cloth before being offered for shipment.

Signed, J. D. MICKLE, Dairy and Food Commissioner.

cause she loved and the fidelity with which she kept in touch with us to the last, wish to extend our kindly thought and earnest sympathy to the dear ones whom she loved and has left for a little while. A strong link in the chain which binds us together has been severed and cannot be replaced, but we clasp hands still closer and pass on—strengthened by the memory of those who once walked and labored with us. And some time on the Eternal Hills we shall meet and with them sing glad songs of victory.

PEYTON GRAVELY DID A GREAT THING WHEN HE INVENTED PLUG TOBACCO.

YES, BUT IT WAS THE GRAVELY QUALITY THAT WAS THE GREATEST THING.

GRAVELY'S CELEBRATED Chewing Plug

BEFORE THE INVENTION OF OUR PATENT AIR-PROOF POUCH GRAVELY PLUG TOBACCO MADE STRICTLY FOR ITS CHEWING QUALITY WOULD NOT KEEP FRESH IN THIS SECTION. NOW THE PATENT POUCH KEEPS IT FRESH AND CLEAN AND GOOD. A LITTLE CHEW OF GRAVELY IS ENOUGH AND LASTS LONGER THAN A BIG CHEW OF ORDINARY PLUG.
